

Local Mention.

J. P. Hahn, the Culver merchant, was in town on business Tuesday.

J. W. Shattuck and wife arrived from the Willamette valley last Saturday.

C. McPherson left yesterday for his farm in Crook county.—Dalles Chronicle.

George O'Neal, a Paulina stockman, was a business visitor in our city last week.

Pleas Millhorn, who has been quite sick with tonsillitis, is able to be out again.

A. C. Belieu was down from Upper Ochoco Saturday transacting business affairs.

Mrs. C. E. McDowell is confined to her room with a severe attack of tonsillitis.

W. H. Frazier came down from Suplee last Saturday to look after business affairs.

W. H. Mitchell, the paper drummer, was interviewing our business men the first of the week.

H. F. McCain came in from Culver last Friday to attend to business matters at the county seat.

Claude Harvey, the Powell Butte sheepman, was a business visitor in the city one day last week.

H. J. McDewitt and J. M. Budelman business men of Burns, were sojourners in the city Sunday night.

B. Stewart and G. W. McCallister were business visitors last week from the growing little burg of Sisters.

Charles Dealy was down from his ranch near Bear creek buttes last Saturday and paid this office a pleasant call.

J. B. McDowell came up from his farm near Haystack Saturday for a visit with his son C. E., of the Prineville.

Crook county has $1,790,388 of taxable property free from exemption, according to last year's report of the assessor.

Miss Belle Wilson arrived on Saturday's stage from Brownsville and went up to Alkali Flat to visit her uncle, J. E. Roberts.

Mart Kluni, who has been working at the brick layers trade in this section the past season, will leave in a short time for Menlo, Wash.

J. S. Spinning, late of Detroit, Michigan, has accepted a position with the Adamson & Winnek Co. Mr. Spinning is a skilled pharmacist.

Lew McCallister returned Friday from the desert where he had gone with a bunch of horses, and went up to the mines Monday to begin development work at once on some of his properties in the Howard district.

Hon. James Elkins, of Albany, spent the day in the city. Mr. Elkins is one of the pioneers of Oregon and has been closely allied with the history of the state. He leaves tomorrow to visit his son, Collins Elkins, of Lyle.—Dalles Chronicle.

Petitions have been sent out to the various precincts this week for signatures for the placing the matter of a county High school before the people at the next general election. Every one interested in education should sign the petitions.

Newell Hall is over from his Silver creek ranch for a few days. Mr. Hall informed the News reporter that he has recently closed a contract with C. T. Lillard whereby the latter is to take all the young mules raised in Mr. Hall's herd to be delivered each year for five years at weaning time.—Burns News.

Last Wednesday a shooting affray took place between W. P. Vandervert and Lee Caldwell, near Lava in which Mr. Vandervert was shot in the left leg near the groin, the ball ranging upward and back. The causes that led up to the shooting are not a matter of public record at this time. Caldwell came in and surrendered to the sheriff and is now under bonds to appear at court. Mr. Vandervert was brought to town and is now getting along nicely, and unless a change takes place for the worse will be out in a short time.

James Egan was in from Lamonta Tuesday looking after business matters.

Lee Moore, postmaster and farmer, was in from Lamonta Monday attending to business affairs.

J. C. Wilcox, a resident of the town of Culver, was doing business in the city the first of the week.

Rev. J. B. Lister, of Eugene, will commence a series of meetings in the Christian church on Feb. 2, 1902.

List your land with the JOURNAL Real Estate Agency if you want to sell it and they will find a buyer for you.

J. A. Brown, one of the lucky holders of real estate in the Haystack country, was a business visitor the first of the week.

There will be a meeting of those interested Saturday at 1 p. m. to perfect arrangements for a rabbit drive in the Rye Grass flat country.

The blanks for registering voters are in the clerks office ready for distribution and those who have been appointed registrars should get them as soon as possible and begin the work of registration.

G. Springer was in from Culver the first of the week. Mr. Springer is one of the leading breeders of fine stock in this county. He has disposed of a number of blooded horses already this year at remunerative figures.

Elsewhere mention is made of a meeting of interested parties who will try to organize a rabbit drive on Rye Grass flat. This should meet the approval of all those living in that section of the county and it will be of great benefit to them. The rabbits are getting entirely too thick to be healthy, especially to gardens and alfalfa stacks. After the drive is over there should be another one held in the Haystack country, and one near Lamonta, and the rabbits can be killed off until they will not be nearly so troublesome as at present.

From Lamonta.

J. C. Banks is visiting with Mr. and Mrs. James McMeen.

Mr. and Mrs. Clarence Ireland drove out in the country Sunday afternoon. They reside in the West addition to Lamonta.

Uncle Jimmie Egan's residence is undergoing considerable improvement in the interior. He has had some papering done in the living room which adds quite an imposing appearance to the room.

Rush Bennett, the Lamonta boy amateur photographer, has his dark house finished and is now ready to devote a part of his time to locating difficulties in cases of negatives which are out of focus, under-exposed, light-struck, fogged, stained by developer, and insufficiently washed.

The JOURNAL is a newspaper that may be read by those who are finely organized physically or by any family possessed of culture and refinement. Objectionable articles are never published for want of space. Editors, "whether they are men or women," may be compared to builders. They do more than any one else in the business and professional circles to build up a country and its people. Yet strange to say, that they like every one who attempts to do something that will be of value to society or to the world, must have trials and severe trials at that.

Farm work has begun around Lamonta and everything has the appearance of spring. For several days the sage rats have been out and shooting rats is the leading pastime of some of our bachelors. Yesterday plows were running in all parts of the country and farmers are hurrying their work. At this writing John Rush has 400 acres of grain sown. His landed possessions are now about 1200 acres. The writer was informed a few days ago that he contemplates building an attractive cottage residence in the spring. The plan or design will of course be selected from designs by an architect of some reputation. The plan will be in accordance with the best modern taste, and represent that union of comfort and artistic beauty which is now demanded in the better class of home architecture.

Order of Washington.

The Charter List of the new Union now being organized here by Deputies Leonard and Sly, is rapidly growing, and contains the names of many of the prominent professional and business men of the city, and bids fair to become a strong subordinate Union of this organization, as it will be composed of a good representative class of our citizens of both sexes. This order is increasing throughout this country with rapid strides, owing to the fact that the members receive the benefits during life. The sick and accident feature is a business proposition. A small monthly payment entitles the members to compensation in case of disability of any kind of from $5 to $10 per week, thus furnishing protection at a time when greatly needed. The order will be instituted some time next week. Due notice will be given of time and place through the columns in our next issue.

Address Changed.

To all those concerned: I have changed my postoffice address from Cross Keys to Hay Creek, Oregon.
