

Local Mention.

Will Wurweiler has gone to Portland on a business trip.

A. W. White came over from our neighboring town of Ashwood last week.

C. A. Pedell and C. A. Jacobs were business visitors from Hardin precinct last week.

C. H. Foster was over from Sisters on a business trip the latter part of last week.

J. H. Helfrich, one of Lamonta's prosperous farmers, was a business visitor last week.

The Club is preparing to have a fine time at the masquerade on the 14th, tomorrow night.

J. B. Shipp is turning out some very fine shingles at his mill these days and there seems to be a good demand for them.

O. C. Moss, formerly a resident of the Sweet Home country, was a business visitor from Alkali Flat the first of the week.

Sam Lytle returned the latter part of last week from Canyon City where he had been on business connected with the stage line.

Ed Harbin has added a lot of new machinery to his planing plant in the south end and is getting a good sized plant in his building.

The family of the late H. W. Roberts desires us to thank the many kind friends who rendered aid and comfort to their father during his last illness.

Dr. Hyde was called to Paulina last Friday to attend the infant child of H. J. Lister which was found to be suffering from a severe attack of congestion of the lungs.

Morton Doty, O. W. Haas, John E. Allen, W. C. Winks and L. L. Osbourn, all Portland knights of the grip, were doing business with our merchants the first of the week.

Mrs. W. H. Parker and Mrs. John Edwards arrived from Albany Monday and to say that their husbands were pleased is putting it mildly. The ladies report a very pleasant trip.

Winter seems to have broken over into the lap of spring a little too soon for the general good of the community, but the old fellow may get back in good shape along some time next month.

Al E. Markham's New York theatre Co. are playing to good houses here this week. The performance Ole Oleson jr. was very good while the trick bicycle riding is worth more than the price of admission.

P. Chitwood was over from his ranch near Grizzly Monday and reports everything in a flourishing condition in that part of the county. In speaking of the county High school matter he said that he was heartily in favor of such a move.

Jos. T. Peters, of The Dalles, accompanied by J. M., A. L. and R. H. Leiter, of Bridal Veil are in this county on a timber inspecting tour. We hope they may be able to find something, but it seems doubtful since the woods have been full of eastern timber cruisers for the past year.

Superintendent Bogli has a pen of fine white Wyandotte's of which he is justly proud. The other morning he found a brown egg, they are said to lay brown eggs, and gladly announced the fact that one of his thoroughbreds had begun laying, but it has since transpired that it was only a common hen that did it.

All persons desirous of grazing stock on the forest reserve this summer should begin to make preparations therefor as it will be time to take stock in by the time the papers are made out and forwarded to Washington and returned. Under the new ruling of the department Crook county stockmen should have the prior right to these parts of the reserve in this county. Heretofore the superintendent of the reserve has shown a considerable amount of partiality to the residents of Wasco county in the matter of granting permits.

See the prize dishes given for cash trade at J. F. Morris'.

P. B. Davis, the Sisters sawmill man, was in the city on business Monday.

H. G. Kibbe was up from Hay creek Sunday on a visit to his wife and son.

J. D. Gleason and wife were in from Sisters Saturday on a brief business trip.

Don't forget the masquerade ball tomorrow night. Music by Darsey's orchestra.

O'Neil Brothers are reshingling their saloon building and are having a rather wet time of it.

D. Furr came down from Crook last week on a business trip. This office acknowledges a pleasant call.

R. E. Simpson has gone to Portland to lay in a supply of spring goods for the firm of Simpson, Wilson & Co.

Mrs. Jennie Claypool's little son is very sick at the home of W. F. Elliott with pneumonia, following whooping cough.

J. E. Roberts came down from his ranch at Alkali Flat Monday and is transacting business in the city and visiting relatives.

Rescue Hose Co. now has a new house and will move in shortly. It is situated on the banks of the Ochoco back of Dillon's feed yard.

J. G. Poindexter came up from Antelope Monday with his sister Mrs. W. H. Parker. He reports stock doing nicely in that section of the county.

Robert Odell was over from Vale last week and reports everything in a flourishing condition in that part of the state. He was formerly a resident of this county.

We have been reliably informed that the enterprising citizens of Sisters have an offer of ten acres of land for a site for the county High school should it become a certainty.

J. H. Gray was down from his ranch on Crooked river last week and reports his stock doing excellently this winter. Mr. Gray is a breeder of fine hogs and Hereford cattle.

The earth is full of water and the way the rain has been coming down for the past two or three days reminds one forcibly of the famed Oregon mist of the Webfoot side of the mountains.

Drs. Rosenberg and Beiknap performed an operation on Henry Gram last Friday for strangulated hernia, which was very satisfactory and he is now resting easy and every indication points to speedy recovery.

Ed Kutcher was up from his farm in Kutcher precinct last Friday and reports stock looking fine. He informs the JOURNAL that the Agency Plains have nearly all been located by homesteaders and that the soil is the finest in the county.

Jon. Mike Mulvahill has been sojourning in our city for several days. The Hon. gentleman has a legislative bee buzzing around his ears and may make a run for the nomination for that place on the democratic ticket in Wheeler county.

One can now cross the Ochoco without falling over the railing. The light in front of the JOURNAL office is a great help to pedestrians and we hope to soon have the privilege of making a proposition to the city council for the lighting of the town.

We invite all of our friends to come in and take a look at our new jobber. It is the finest of the kind and the best one ever brought to Crook county. We can now handle any kind of ordinary job work. It has all the latest improvements known to the printers trade.

It should be remembered by those who register that they will greatly facilitate matters and do away with a lot of needless waste of time if they will be able to give the section, township and range numbers, if they reside in the country, or the lot and block on which they reside, if in the city.

John Cyrus took his departure Friday for Tucson, Arizona, where he will prospect for awhile for a location, if not satisfactory he will investigate the openings for business in some of the mining towns of that territory. While we are sorry to lose him from our midst we hope he may be successful in finding a good location where he may be benefited in health as well as in financial matters.

Dissolution Notice.

Notice is hereby given that the partnership heretofore existing between Frank Elkins and J. H. Wigle, under the name of Frank Elkins & Co., is this day dissolved by mutual consent, J. H. Wigle retiring. All accounts owing said firm will be collected by Frank Elkins and all indebtedness of said firm will be settled by said Frank Elkins.

FRANK ELKINS & Co.
PRINEVILLE, Or., Feb. 8, 1902.

Notice.

A. H. Lippman has sold part of his extensive business to G. M. Meyer and will conduct business hereafter under the firm name of A. H. Lippman & Co. All bills dated up to and inclusive January 2, 1902, must be settled before March 1.

The new hook and ladder truck recently purchased arrived Friday and has been housed in the engine house by Lippman's furniture store for the present. The city needs an engine house of its own where more room can be had. The truck is a good one and is a credit to the city and we congratulate the council on their good sense in getting such a means for fighting fire.
