Mrs. C. U. Vandervert desires us to thank the many friends and neighbors who so kindly tendered their services during her recent affliction and may they always have such friends in their hours of need.

These will be a big rabbit drive in Ryegrass country Saturday. It will be for the benefit of the river farms this time and the drivers will assemble at the school house in the morning as they did the first drive.

Walter Rubie was over from Culver last week looking after his manifold business interests. Walter is a pretty regular visitor in town of late and we shouldn't be surprised if there isn't an attraction somewhere.

Frank and Jake Johnson were down from their farms on Mill creek the latter part of last week and report plowing well under way up that way and seeding would have been commenced except for the last cold spell.

J. E. Cowan, late of Dixon Wyoming, paid this office a friendly call Sunday. Mr. Cowan is a son of the late Mike Cowan of Albany. He is temporarily residing at Hay creek and is thinking of locating permanently in this county.

Perry Read, general manager of Hotel Read of Culver, was a business visitor of the county seat last week and joined the army of Crook county stockmen that will help to look after Crook county's interests in that line this summer and for all time to come.

The republican primaries passed off very quietly and the delegates to the county convention were elected by acclamation. They were as follows: C. M. Elkins, C. A. Cline, Wm. Boegli, H. P. Belknap, W. T. Fogle, Fred Lehman, M. E. Briok and W. A. Bell.

J. P. Hasbark, the advance agent for 400 Bohemian families, passed through here Tuesday on his way out to the railroad. He had been to Pilot Butte and looked over the situation and reports that he is well pleased with the looks of the country, but thinks it is pretty cold here. In all probability he will visit this county during the summer in order to see how it looks when the crops are ready to harvest.

We are sorry to learn that Mark Powell has declined to allow his name to go before the republican convention for the nomination for sheriff. It would be a good time for ex-sheriff Gray to try again as he made an excellent record before and would do so again if he would allow himself to accept the nomination. Willis W. Brown, of Hay creek has been nominated for the place as also has Henry Window of Culver.

D. P. Adamson had a lot more drugs arrive last week from Shaniko.

J. H. Grant, of Culver, was a pleasant caller at our sanctum last week.

Several bands of sheep passed through town Tuesday going onto the lambing grounds.

H. P. Evans was down from his ranch on Mill creek Saturday and paid this office a pleasant call.

L. C. Whitted came in from Bend last week and filed on a quarter section of Crook county real estate.

Hose Company No. 2 was out for practice drill Monday morning and tried the hydrants in North Prineville.

E. H. Smith has added some fancy fixings around his premises and is going to plant a garden, on a small scale.

Among those mentioned on the republican side for the nomination for clerk are M. R. Elliott and J. S. McMean.

From latest reports it is evident that C. Sam Smith will receive the nomination for sheriff on the democratic ticket.

H. H. Emmons, a prominent attorney of Portland, was in the city the fore part of the week looking after business matters.

Willard Triplett and family arrived Saturday from Lenoir, N. C., and are domiciled in the J. J. Smith residence in North Prineville.

William and Walter Vandervert were down from Lava Sunday to attend the funeral of their brother Charles Vandervert.

The Union church is now supplied with a lot of new song books, the result of the sock social recently held there. They are nicely bound and are good books for the purpose.

The primaries in Portland resulted in a defeat for Simon. The opposition securing 95 delegates to his 67. This means the domination of Williamson without any question.

J. H. Templeton, the pioneer druggist of Prineville, is at the Perkins. Mr. Templeton says that Crook county sheepmen are busily engaged now, as the lambing season is well under way—Oregonian.

Wurzweiler & Thomson have purchased the livestock and real estate of Morris & Julian at Squaw Flat. It consists of about 8000 head of sheep and 1500 acres of land. This is one of the finest properties in the county.

On the tenth of this month the home of Otto Gray was made happy by the arrival of a ten pound son. Mother and child doing nicely and it is expected that Otto will be able to attend to spring plowing in a short time.

Among the democrats there is considerable stir in the scramble for office. C. Sam Smith and W. C. Congleton are open candidates for sheriff, and J. J. Smith for clerk, and J. N. Poindexter for treasurer, are both candidates for re-election, and Brother Liggett would accept the nomination for county judge.

Charles Vandervert, a highly respected citizen of this county was killed near John O'Kelly's place on Blizzard Ridge in the northern part of the county last Thursday afternoon, by being thrown from and run over by a wagon loaded with lumber which he was hauling onto the Agency plains for some homesteaders. The remains were brought here and interred in the Masonic cemetery Sunday. Charles U. Vandervert was born December 9 1863 at Cottage Grove, Lane county and came to this county with his parents in 1884. He was married to Miss Margaret Whipple June 24 1896. He leaves a wife, two children, father, three brothers and many friends to mourn his untimely end.
