Billet Doux Saved Him.

At last a man has been found who appreciates the Congressional Directory for what it is worth. A promising newspaper man editor of North Wash., acknowledges the receipt of one of these valuable books, sent him by Representative Cushman, in the following language:

"I am in receipt of your billet doux about the special edition of the Congressional Directory, hand-tooled, bound in leather, illuminated initials, laminated sides and bottom, ivory handled, fitted with a corkscrew, geared to 86 revolutions a minute—and all mine because my name has been stamped on it in letters of enduring gilt at the expense of the government and at the request of my congressman. You have my thanks—my vote and my enthusiastic support were yours, anyway—forever. You touched me off with this directory, at the proper time. I am under everlasting obligations. I was downhearted, bilious, had lost all desire. My tongue was coated with yellow fir, and the world seemed slipping gently hence. Farewell my own sweet love, land of Pierpont Morgan and home of octopus! I thought I was a 'goner', soon to be like the fairest flower of the meadow tipped by an untimely frost. Then came your letter, and then later came the directory, and I took the same according to directions, and now I feel like a new man. That was all I needed, and when next you see me you will behold one who was given up for lost by all the local physicians and nearly all the crowned heads of Europe, and was saved by the Congressional Directory."

His Marriage Fee.

A poor couple living in the Emerald Isle went to the priest for marriage, and were met with a demand for the marriage fee, says Tit Bits. It was not forthcoming. Both the consenting parties were rich in love and in their prospects, but destitute of financial resources. The father was obdurate. "No money, no marriage."

"Give me love, your reverence," said the blushing bride, "to go and get the money."

It was given, and she sped forth on the delicate mission of raising a marriage fee out of pure nothing. After a short interval she returned with the sum of money, and the ceremony was completed to the satisfaction of all. When the parting was taking place the newly made wife seemed a little uneasy.

"Anything on your mind, Catherine?" said the father.

"Well, your reverence, I would like to know if this marriage could not be spoiled now?"

"Certainly not, Catherine. No man can put you asunder."

"Could you not do it yourself, father? Could you not spoil the marriage?"

"No, no, Catherine. You are past me now. I have nothing more to do with your marriage."

"That aizes me moind," said Catherine, "and God bless your reverence. There's the ticket for your hat. I picked it up in the lobby and pawned it."

He Kept His Leg.

Twelve years ago J. W. Sullivan, of Hartford, Conn., scratched his leg with a rusty wire. Inflammation and blood poisoning set in. For two years he suffered intensely. Then the best doctors urged amputation, "but," he writes, "I used one bottle of Electric Bitters and 11-2 boxes of Bucklen's Arnica Salve and my leg was sound and well as ever." For Eruptions, Eczema, Tetter, Salt Rheum, Sores and all blood disorders Electric Bitters has no rival on earth. Try them. Adamson & Winnek Co. will guarantee satisfaction or refund money. Only 50 cents.

Pullman Ordinary Sleepers.

The tourist travel between the east and the Pacific coast has reached enormous proportions in the last few years, and calls for a special class of equipment. To meet this demand the Pullman Co. has issued from its shops what it technically calls the "Pullman Ordinary Sleeper." These cars appear similar to the regular sleeper, being built on the same plan, but not furnished with the same elegance. They are equipped with mattresses, blankets, sheets, pillows, pillow-cases, towels, combs, brushes, etc., requiring nothing of the kind to be furnished by the passenger. Each car has a stove for making coffee and tea and doing "light housekeeping," and each section can be fitted with an adjustable table. A uniformed porter accompanies each car, his business being to make up berths, keep the car clean, and look after the comforts and wants of the passengers. In each of the trains which are dispatched daily from Portland by the O. R. & N. Co. is to be found one of these "Pullman Ordinary Sleepers." The car is attached to the "Chicago-Portland Special," which goes through to Chicago without change, and the one in the "Atlantic Express" runs to Kansas City without change. Passengers in this car for Chicago change to a similar car at Granger. Much of the first class travel is being carried in these cars, the rates being lower, and the service being nearly equal to that in the palace sleepers.
For rates and full information, including orders, write to A. L. Craig, G. P. A., O. R. & N. Co. Portland, Ore.
