

A Great Railroad.

Hon. B. J. Pengra is in Eugene looking after military road matters. The Great Central Railroad Co., recently incorporated with a capital of $10,000,000 to build a road from Salt Lake to Coos bay, has been organized as a result of his efforts for forty years, and one of the great railroad systems of the United States is behind it and means business. The route selected is by way of Lake Odell and over a low pass north of Diamond Peak, striking the Willamette above Hydians, then down to Eugene, across the upper Siuslaw, across the Umpqua at Gardiner and then along the coast to Coos bay. We have received sufficient information to indicate that the road is not run with hot air, but is backed up with abundant means to carry it to success.—Oregon State Journal.

Bogus 50 cent pieces

Bogus half-dollars, dated 1891, have been passed on several street-car conductors within the past few days by "knives of the queer." The coins are good imitations and will pass readily in the evening, but in the daylight can be easily detected. Other people besides street-car conductors have probably been victimized, and it would be well for those handling silver to look out for these spurious coins.—Oregonian.

Equipment for Soldiers.

One hundred stands of arms have just been received at the college for the use of the cadet battalions, says the Corvallis Times. The shipment comprises 100 Springfield rifles from the Government Armory at Springfield Mass.; 100 swords from the navy yard at Benicia, California, and 100 waist belts and other accoutrements from the armory at Rock Island, Ill. The arms are supplied by the general government for the use of the cadets, but the college has to give bonds for their safe return. Their value is $2120.20. The new invoice increases the number of stands of arms to 300.

My little son had an attack of whooping cough and was threatened with pneumonia; but for Chamberlain's Cough Remedy we would have had a serious time of it. It also saved him from several severe attacks of croup.—H. J. STRICKADES, editor Wood Herald, Fair Haven, Wash. For sale by all druggists.

WOMAN'S RELIEF
A really healthy woman has little pain or discomfort at the menstrual period. No woman needs to have any. Wine of Cardui will quickly relieve those smarting menstrual pains and the dragging head, back and side aches caused by falling of the womb and irregular menses.

WINE OF CARDUI
has brought permanent relief to 1,000,000 women who suffered every month. It makes the menstrual organs strong and healthy. It is the provision made by Nature to give women relief from the terrible aches and pains which afflict so many homes.

Gardiner, Ia., Oct. 14, 1900.
I have been very sick for some time. I was taken with a severe pain in my abdomen could not get any relief until I took a bottle of Wine of Cardui. Doctor said taken all of it I was relieved. I feel it my duty to say that you have a wonderful medicine.

Mrs. M. A. Young.

For advice and literature, address, giving complete "The Ladies' Advisory Department," Chattanooga Medicine Co., Chattanooga, Tenn.

A Grand Celebration will be held at Hay Stack, Crook Co., Oregon, July 4th 1902. Under the auspices of the United Artisan and Degree of Honor Lodge. An excellent program is being prepared which will be announced later on. The afternoon exercises will consist of horse races, bicycle races, potato race and foot races for men, women and children, three legged race. Then comes the tug-of-war between Hay Stack and Willow Creek. An excellent platform will be built and covered, and a ball will be given in the evening and the best of music will be furnished. Oyster supper will be served all night. Plenty of hay, grain and fresh water can be had at the grounds. Come everybody and join the patriots of Hay Stack in this grand jubilee and you will never regret it.

Praise For Col. Dosch.

Among the representatives of great states at the exposition, none has been more honored and admired; none has won a warmer place in the hearts of Charleston people than Colonel Henry E. Dosch, says the Charleston News and Courier. Colonel Henry Ernest Dosch is an authority on all matters of horticulture in Oregon, and has been a voluminous writer upon all subjects connected with agricultural production. He has represented his great state at all the great expositions, and set the crowning work of his useful life in the exhibit at that of Charleston. The Oregon exhibit has been the center of attraction among those of other states, not only because of the surprising richness, but from the fact that all this wealth of production has been brought 4000 miles to Charleston. What the juries of experts have thought of the excellence of Oregon's exhibit is shown by the fact that it has received 62 gold medals and 261 awards in all, gold, silver, bronze or diplomas.

Colonel Dosch has been an enthusiastic admirer of the exposition, and has expressed in a number of eloquent speeches his surprise and pleasure at its unique beauty and completeness as compared with any or all others.

The News and Courier has before recorded the generosity of the Oregon Commission, of which Colonel Dosch is the head, in offering so large a portion of their exhibit as a contribution to a permanent exposition in this city, and has now the pleasure of saying that Colonel Dosch and his associates have distributed their entire exhibit of flour, 2000 pounds, among the charitable institutions of Charleston. The city will never forget this delegation from the far-off Pacific Coast, whose genial qualities have so endeared them to the people here, and they will bear home with them the grateful benedictions of the poor.

Read It in His Newspaper.

George Schatzl, a well-known German citizen of New Lebanon, Ohio, is a constant reader of the Dayton Volkszeitung. He knows that this paper aims to advertise only the best in its columns, and when he saw Chamberlain's Pain Balm advertised therein for home use, he did not hesitate in buying a bottle for his wife, who for eight weeks had suffered with the most terrible pain in her back and could not get no relief. He says: "After using the Pain Balm for a few days my wife said to me, 'I feel as though born anew,' and before using the entire contents of the bottle the unbearable pain had entirely vanished and she could again take up her household duties." He is very thankful and hopes that all suffering likewise will hear of her wonderful recovery. This valuable liniment is for sale by all druggists.

LONDON, June 2.—Peace has been declared after nearly two years and eight months of war which tried the British empire to its uttermost and wiped the Boers from the list of nations.

The war has come to an end with Lord Kitchener's announcement from Pretoria that he, Lord Milner and the Boer delegates had signed "terms of surrender." This announcement had been anticipated for several days, and it was definitely forecasted in these dispatches, but its receipt Sunday afternoon took the nation by surprise, as everybody had confidently believed that the House of Commons would hear the first news today. The edge of the anticipation with which Gen. British awaited the promised statement in the House of Commons from Mr. Baden-Powell, the government leader, was still further dulled by the following message from King Edward to his people, which was issued after midnight:

The King has received the welcome news of the cessation of hostilities in South Africa with infinite satisfaction, and His Majesty trusts that peace may speedily be followed by the restoration of prosperity in his new dominions, and that the feelings necessarily engendered by war will give place to earnest cooperation on the part of His Majesty's South African subjects in promoting the welfare of their common country.

How greatly King Edward's insistence that peace in South Africa be secured prior to his inauguration influenced the present agreement will probably not be known until the private memoirs of the present regime are given to the public.
