

Pay Your Taxes.

Under the new law for the collection of taxes, unpaid taxes become delinquent after the first Monday in October. The county courts have absolutely no jurisdiction in the premises, and do not have the right to extend for a day the time for the collection of unpaid taxes. Under the old law regulating the collection of taxes, the payment became delinquent after April 1st, but the court had the authority to make such extensions of time in which to make the collections as was deemed proper. But the county court has no power to act in this relation under the new law, and taxes will become delinquent after the first Monday in October.

Section 19 of the new law treats with the delinquent roll, and prescribes when and in what manner it shall be made as follows:

"If any of the taxes mentioned in the roll shall remain unpaid, and the sheriff shall be unable to collect the same, he shall immediately after the first Monday of October extend the amount of the tax on each several parcel of real property, and upon the personal property assessed to each individual, in a column provided for such purposes on the tax roll, headed delinquent, and shall return such roll, together with a statement compiled therefrom, and entered thereon showing the total amount of taxes collected, the total amount of double assessments and other errors," etc.

Subsequent sections of the act provide that after the examination by the county clerk of the roll, and when the proper credits have been made for errors, etc., then the roll shall be returned to the sheriff with a warrant commanding him to sell the property upon which the tax was levied. So it will be seen that the county court has no voice in the matter. The time when the unpaid taxes become delinquent on the roll now being collected is regulated entirely by the statute and there will be no extension of time this year.

A Communication.

Mrs. Entwistle—Allow me to speak a few words in favor of Chamberlain's Cough Remedy I suffered for three years with the bronchitis and could not sleep at nights. I tried several doctors and various patent medicines, but could get nothing to give me any relief until my wife got a bottle of this valuable medicine, which has completely relieved me.—W. S. BROCKMAN, Bagnell, Mo. This remedy is for sale by all druggists.

There Are Others.

Baker county has waked up to the folly of the scalp bounty. One of the main arguments for the bounty was that Eastern Oregon was not getting its share of state favors, and of this was made an argument of necessity. If the bounty was for a favor it has been an expensive one. That which was meant to exterminate coyotes has propagated jack rabbits.—Oregonian.

This is only the Oregonians' way of looking at matters and things. Down in Western Oregon there are many fond parents who thought to bring up a family of sturdy intellectual boys—men who would be an honor to themselves and their native state—but after a life of toil and hardships they have found that they had only succeeded in propagating a lot of jackasses.

A Shocking Calamity.

The Baldwin Sheep & Land Company, of Hay Creek, Crook County, will have on exhibit at The Dalles Fair a carload of their choicest sheep, some of which were imported from France and others from Germany, while in the herd will be sheep from the best stock in America, including the home farm of the company at Hay Creek. The Baldwin Sheep and Land Company are recognized throughout the United States as being among the most careful breeders of sheep, and today no one can doubt the value of their exhibits at the fair.

Josh Westhafer, of Longcreek, is a poor man, but he says he would not be without Chamberlain's Pain Balm if it cost five dollars a bottle, for it saved him from being a cripple.

No external application is equal to this liniment for stiff and swollen joints, contracted muscles, stiff neck, sprains and rheumatic and muscular pains. It has also cured numerous cases of practical paralysis. It is for sale by all druggists.

Henry L. Shattuck, of Shigleburg, Iowa, was cured of a stomach trouble with which he had been afflicted for years, by four boxes of Chamberlain's Stomach and Liver Tablets. He had previously tried many other remedies and a number of physicians without relief. For sale by all druggists.
