

Local Mention.

Rev. S. S. White, the Presbyterian minister, is stopping at the Redby for the present.

E. T. Abelt was a business visitor from the mining camp at Howard one day last week.

W. W. Brown, the Fife horse grower, was a business visitor in the city several days last week.

E. C. Faught and family were down from their ranch on Camp creek last week visiting relatives and laying in supplies.

T. H. Lafollette left for Pendleton Sunday to be in attendance on the meeting of the wool growers' association at that place this week.

W. G. Kosdy, the erstwhile attache of the printing department of the State Agricultural college, was smiling on some of his friends in the city the fore part of the week.

Thorne Dahl, I. J. Johnson, G. M. Gould, J. A. Oleson, B. M. Bramford, Ed Mergaard and Ole Wilson, of Spokane, were in this section looking up the timber land situation last week.

L. McCallister came down from the mines at Howard last week and spent several days in our midst. Lew's smiling countenance is somewhat obscured by a growth of dark roan whiskers.

Granville Poindexter was in from Ashwood last week and informs the JOURNAL that there has been a material raise in the price of stock of the White Butte mine during the past ten days.

Mr. and Mrs. Will Wurzweiler and family returned Monday from their visit in Portland and other outside points. They complain of the very smoky weather prevailing throughout western Oregon this season.

The remnants of the JOURNAL force that went to the mountains some time ago in high spirits, returned Tuesday night. From the appearance of the dog it is evident that they cannot be prosecuted for violation of the game laws.

J. W. Wimer, of Post sent in a nice lot of cheese to Elkins & King the first of the week. It appears to us to be as good as any imported article of the same kind. Mr. Wimer is manufacturing about 200 pounds daily. This is only one of the many of industries that could be successfully maintained in this county.

The editor received a fine box of fruit from Com Carroll which was raised on his fruit farm in the vicinity of Mitchell. Among other nice things was a selection of luscious pears and nectarines the latter being a rarity in this part of the world. There was also a lot of fine bellflower apples that will make pretty good eating along about the holidays. Com has a good orchard and plenty of fruit for all who wish to buy for winter.

Monday night the Artisans entertained the Supreme Medical Director of the order, J. B. Olmsted, who delivered a lecture at the Union church on the benefits to be derived from belonging to the order. Brother Olmsted was listened to with close attention and at the close of his talk there were a lot of applications taken and several more have been taken since. A goodly attendance from Culver Assembly was present. The Doctor is having good success where ever he goes and the order is making large gains from his efforts.

On the way in from Shaniko Dr. Olmsted had some exciting experiences. When a few miles out from the railroad he saw one of the old fashioned jack rabbits and as he had never seen anything like it he stopped the carriage and got out his shotgun and then walked heavily up to the rabbit and started him up and then took a shot at him and laid him in the dust. Fifteen jack rabbits, a number of sage hens, a badger, and some miscellaneous varmints fell to his carrying aim. The Dr. has simulated the example of our great and good president so far as his experience reached, but having met no bear or mountain lion was unable to claim any of them as his.

Mrs. Jennie King returned last week from an extended trip to Portland.

C. M. Dumbolton, of Benton, was a business visitor in our little burg last week.

H. Wagnon, of Burns, passed through here last week enroute to Portland.

F. T. Higgins returned last week from a business visit to his old home in Minnesota.

S. S. Stearns and family moved into town last week to take advantage of the city school.

R. Royal and J. Myrick, of Malheur, were here last week looking over the timber situation.

John B. and Warren Brown were in from Haystack Monday night to attend the Artisan entertainment.

T. J. Ferguson came down from his ranch at Price last week with his family and will remain during the school year.

Jess Windom and N. H. McCain were among the Artisans from Culver in attendance at the lecture Monday night.

A number of people made final proof on their timber claims last week and a large number are proving up this week.

A. R. Beaver, of Mitonell, Minn., was in the city a few days ago and filed on a piece of Crook county timber land.

The High school opened with ten in attendance and there will be more enter as soon as the rush of farm work is over so that they can come to town for the winter.

Frank Hill and H. M. Esping were over from Shaniko the latter part of last week looking after business affairs and went on up the Deschutes for their annual outing.

The success of our county fair depends altogether on the farmers and stock raisers of this county and they should put forth every effort to make it worth coming miles to see.

Fred W. Wilson, of The Dalles, who has been doing business on the Deschutes for several days past; left for home Tuesday morning in company with Grant Mays, of Crook.

Ex-Sheriff W. C. Congleton returned last week from an extended visit to his old home in Kentucky and reports having a pleasant visit, but some very hot weather was experienced.

Dr. Ralph Hutchinson received last week from Portland a Harvard dental chair of the latest pattern, with all the newest patent attachments. He has been busy using it since it came and is building up a good business.

Leo Cohen was among the Albany people who proved up on timber land last week. While here he paid this office several pleasant calls. Mr. Cohen is one of the leading merchants of the metropolis of our sister county.

Last week the most important event that ever happened Will Boegli took place. It was the advent of a son and heir. The mother is doing nicely and the nails in the sidewalks are in no danger of coming in contact with Will's toes, he steps too high.

The firm of Cornett & Cantrell was dissolved last week and now "Cap." has the stage line all to himself. He is all right and people who have occasion to travel over the Burns line will find him a genial traveling companion and ever alert as to the comfort of his passengers.

Dr. W. W. Taggart, late of River Falls, Wisconsin, has located in Prineville. Dr. Taggart is an eye specialist. For a time his headquarters will be at Poindexter Hotel. As he will be out of town much of the time, patients should make an appointment with him. Dr. Taggart fits glasses and spectacles accurately. All work will be guaranteed one year without additional expense to the patient. Take notice of the children now that the school year has begun. Headaches and kindred troubles are caused by the eyes. Proper care now will enable them to do their work better and easier later in life. The most serious and complicated cases of eye troubles are successfully treated by Dr. Taggart. Inquire at the Poindexter Hotel.

Elkins & King
PRINEVILLE'S BUSY STORE.

Our 1902 stock of Oliver Gang, Sulky and Walking Plows is far the most complete we have ever carried. These plows have no equal as a breaking plow and will plow ordinary sage brush without grubbing.

The new Oliver Sulky's have a great improvement over last years in the shape of a hand lever giving the operator full control to regulate the width of cut on turns and curve. The Oliver is one made to do the work and will do the work they are made for. Call and inspect them.

Our stock of repairs is exceptionally complete, not only the iron posts but wood as well.

We can save you time and money and patience.

Ralph Hutchison, resident dentist. Crown and Bridge work a specialty.

F. M. Smith, of Paulina, returned Sunday from his trip to Portland.

Rev. B. F. Harper and family left for their new home in Pendleton Monday.

O. L. Rabalt, of Duluth, Minn. was among the business visitors in this section of the state last week.

J. L. Scott, the irrepressible grocery drummer, was doing business in our town the fore part of the week.

Mr. and Mrs. Homer Davis were down from the Riverside farm the first of the week visiting relatives and laying in supplies for the stage station.

Salomon, Johnson & Co. have a new sign adorning the front of their store; the JOURNAL office also has a new sign and the front nicely painted.

Portland Club Whiskey, a pure bourbon, well matured. Recommended by leading physicians. For sale everywhere. sp4m6

Miss Effa Crooks will leave this week for The Dalles on a visit with relatives. Her place in the clerks office at the court house will be filled by Miss Minnie Crooks.

Strouds big threshing engine was in town for repairs Monday and attracted more attention than a circus would in some places. It is a monster, but none too big for this part of the country.

There will be a fatal accident on the Ochoco bridge some of these days if it is not repaired. If the notice that is posted on it was enforced there would soon be enough money on hands to build a steel bridge.

Mrs. Weigand left on the 12th inst. for Portland, where she goes to purchase a new and up-to-date photographers outfit, to place in her building next door to Cyrus' jewelry store. Mrs. Weigand is a photographer of first class attainments and will guarantee all her work. She expects to open her gallery about the 1st of October.

Notice.

All parties who are using water from Crooked river above the flouring mill are requested to turn it back into the river at once as we need it for grinding.
