

Local Mention.

E. Dorgan and Tom Watson left for west of the mountains Tuesday.

Dick Koopman and wife were down from Post last week laying in supplies.

W. R. McFarland's new dwelling is nearing completion, and it is one of the nicest in the city.

Roscoe Knox, the Post sheep man, was a business visitor in the city one day last week.

A. W. Lee was up from Hay Creek last week looking after varied business matters.

County Commissioner H. J. Healy was up from his farm near Haystack last week attending to matters at the court house.

J. G. Edwards and J. P. Vanhouten, of the B. S. & L. Co., were in town last Friday attending to business affairs.

Percy Davis, the Sisters saw mill man, was a business visitor at the county seat one day last week.

L. D. Wiest and wife were down from Bend last week visiting with friends and transacting business.

John Winkley, of Albany, was a visitor in our city last week. He was looking over the timber land situation.

John Sumner returned Saturday from Corvallis, where he has been staying for several months.

W. J. Schmidt, the Summit prairie stockman, was a business visitor in the city the fore part of the week.

John Y. Todd, the Sisters farmer, was a business visitor in the city one day this week.

John Geiger is having a fine piece of hand-made furniture turned out and it will be on exhibition at the fair.

Billy Wilson, proprietor of the Sisters Hotel, came over last Friday to have a felon on his hand lanced. He returned the next day in better shape.

Charles Lewis came in from Sisters Saturday to attend the Teachers' Institute. Charley is one of Crook county's most successful teachers.

A. H. Lippman & Co. have rented a portion of the post office building and are storing a lot of their surplus furniture in it.

Miss Jessie Andrews came down from Summit prairie Monday, having just completed a very successful term of school in that district.

J. F. Spinning, recently with the Adamson & Winnek Co., has accepted a position with Templeton & Son as head druggist.

John Cyrus is stocking up with a lot of novels of the latest and most improved designs, and will be able to furnish reading matter for the million this winter.

Mrs. Susie Slayton is getting in a lot of new goods almost every day now and will soon have so much stock in hands that she will have no room for her many customers.

J. N. Quiberg, of Sisters, was in town last week attending to the readvertising of his timber land claim. Mr. Quiberg has a fine lot of timber on his claim.

J. C. Bilyeu, F. K. Doud and Wm. Evans returned Wednesday from a visit to Prineville, where they went to prove up on their timber claims.—Lebanon Express.

John Newsom has received one of the latest design solar compasses, and was on the street last week trying it in laying out some town lots. John does his work in a satisfactory manner.

Dave Adamson has his new drug store completed and the shelving is being placed in position this week. It will be ready for occupancy by fair week.

Wm. Pollard returned from the state fair with a bee or two in his bonnet, and is training a young record breaker for the coming races—if we may be allowed to judge from outside appearances.

Ed. Merrit was down from his ranch in Summit prairie Monday after a load of supplies, and made this office a pleasant talk. He reports stock looking well up in that section of the county.

Norris Morgan and wife were down from Crook the latter part of last week attending to business matters.

George Rodman, one of the extensive farmers of the Culver country, was a business visitor in the city the first of the week.

There are a number of places along our country roads that are becoming deeply worn and full of chuck holes. These might be remedied for the present by strapping them, as we have seen done in Sherman county.

Rev. G. M. Booth, Presiding Elder, will hold the First Quarterly Conference at the M. E. Church on Saturday, the 11th, at 2 p. m. He will preach Saturday evening; Sunday both morning and evening.

John W. Neff, of Minneapolis, is a late arrival in the city. Mr. Neff is an old time friend of Fred Higgins and will no doubt take an interest in our timber land before returning to his home.

Foster and Erickson have rented the west end of the post office building and are preparing to have one of the finest offices in the city. They are in the timber cruising business and have had a lot of experience in that line.

A. R. Greene, of Portland, has been in this section of the state for some time past looking after business matters connected with the postal department. This office acknowledges several pleasant calls.

Bob Smith is doing the inside of the JOURNAL press room, and will make it a comfortable and neat looking place to work. Bob does his work in good shape, and handles a paste brush as well as if he had been brought up in a print shop.

Jess Ferguson and wife arrived from Burns last week and will visit with relatives until after the fair. Jess now sports a "stove pipe hat," and has assumed other metropolitan manners since living in the hub of Hartley valley.

Many of those who filed on timber claims during the Summit are now making proof on their claims. It is said that eastern syndicates are ready to buy up the land as soon as title is conveyed from the government.—Dales Mountaineer.

H. J. Lister and wife, of Crook county visited with his brother-in-law, Henry Martin, and family a few days this week while on their way to Portland. Mr. Lister is one of the most prominent men of Crook county—Hood River Glacier.

A fire was noticed on McKay mountain Monday that bids fair to be a bad one if there is no rain fall inside of a few days. There has been considerable fire out on Grizzly and other of the mountains bordering on Crooked river valley during the past two weeks.

The Albany papers state that ex-county clerk Hammer, of that county, has taken up his residence on his homestead in the Haystack country. We are glad to welcome Mr. Hammer among us as he is a good citizen and will make a welcome addition to the social life of that section of the county.

Prof. J. M. Martindale, president of the Eastern Oregon Normal school arrived Wednesday morning to take part in the closing exercises of the teachers institute. The prof. is one of the leading educators of the state and reports his school flourishing.

The Southern Stock Company has been playing to good houses this week. It is the best company that has ever been in Prineville since the present management of the JOURNAL has had charge of the paper, and we heartily recommend this troupe to all.

Dick Breese was down from his home on Comb's flat the first of the week and informed the reporter that he would have some of his well known potatoes on exhibition at the fair, besides some fine livestock. Dick raises the best potatoes grown in the county outside of the Haystack country, and we doubt if that part of the county can produce anything as good. Anyway, everybody will have a chance to show what can be done in the way of large fruits and vegetables this fall.

Ralph Hutchison, resident dentist. Crown and Bridge work a specialty.

See those beautiful Carbon Finish photos at Kelley's studio, Prineville.

Portland Club Whiskey, a pure bourbon, well matured. Recommended by leading physicians. For sale everywhere.

A. W. Dickson, of San Francisco, has accepted a position on the JOURNAL, and will have charge of the job department. Mr. Dickson comes well recommended as a first class job printer, and the patrons of the JOURNAL will find his work up to the standard for neatness and attractiveness.

Mr. and Mrs. J. W. Boone left Sunday for the railroad. Mrs. Boone will visit relatives at Moro while Jake will go on to Portland to lay in his winter supply of harness and leather. He says that he was going to order the largest stock of harness ever brought to Prineville.

W. H. Parker has retired from the management of the JOURNAL mechanical department, and will leave in a few days for the Willamette valley, where he will visit a while before entering the state printer's office at Salem. Mrs. Parker is recovering from her recent illness and will accompany her husband to Albany.

Frank Ward came up from Corvallis Monday, and has accepted a position with the Adamson & Winnek Co. as druggist. He is a son of Scott Ward of Ward's Butte fame, and a native of Linn county. The editor of this religious weekly has hunted ducks on the farm where Mr. Ward was born—just hunted and nothing more.

Our new cylinder press was shipped from Shaniko Monday, and if everything goes all right this will be the last issue on the old hand press. The JOURNAL has about 1,3000 pounds of freight coming, and when it is placed in position we will have one of the best printing outfits in Eastern Oregon, and will be able to turn out anything from the smallest card to a barn door poster.

Card of Thanks.

We desire to thank our many friends and neighbors, who so kindly assisted us during the last illness of our husband and father. May they always find such friends in their time of need.

PRINEVILLE'S BUSY STORE.

Our 1902 stock of Oliver Gang, Sulky and Walking Plows is far the most complete we have ever carried. These plows have no equal as a breaking plow and will plow ordinary sage brush without grubbing.

The new Oliver Sulky's have a great improvement over last years in the shape of a hand lever giving the operator full control to regulate the width of cut on turns and curves. The Oliver is one made to do the work and will do the work they are made for. Call and inspect them.

Our stock of repairs is exceptionally complete, not only the iron posts but wood as well.

We can save you time and money and patience.
