

Local Mention

Call and examine the Mayer place at S. J. & Co's.

About a dozen teams from the French settlement on Beaver creek were loading supplies at Wurzweller & Thompson's Monday.

Davin Brothers, the Paulina sheepmen, have sold out to Blanchard and Bourne and will remove to Connecticut in a short time.

All persons knowing themselves indebted to Smith & Cleek will please call and settle. This means you. Smith & Cleek.

Portland Club Whiskey, a pure bourbon, well matured. Recommended by leading physicians. For sale everywhere. Spring

Frank Jordan and wife, of Burns, passed through here last week on their return from a visit below with friends and relatives. Mr. Jordan is the surveyor for Harney county.

Blankets & Comforters; Trunks & Tricorner. S. J. & Co.

J. H. Kelly was in the city from Post the first of the week attending to business matters and reports the rain a good thing for that part of the country.

The JOURNAL has been requested to ask if there is not an ordinance against the piling of obstructions on the sidewalks of this town. Perhaps it would be well for the marshal to look into the matter.

Dick Breese was down from his ranch Saturday having his arm lanced. He has been suffering with an abscess for some time and it became so troublesome that he had to secure medical aid. He went home feeling much better.

Warren Brown was in from Culver on Saturday looking after some business matters. He is now principal of the Culver school and we suppose wields the birchen rod with impartiality as well as strength.

W. T. Casey was in from his ranch on Powell Butte Monday and reports the rain having been a blessing to that section and the ground is well soaked and will be ready for the seeder as soon as it is put to work.

Juniper Circle No. 37, W. O. W., will give a Thanksgiving ball at Glaze's hall, and, from past experience we feel safe in saying that it will be the event of the season. This will be the regular annual ball of the Circle, which they always give during the month of November.

W. A. Carson was down from his ranch near Maury the latter part of last week and reports everything moving along smoothly up there. Cows and calves are pretty thin this fall, but will no doubt winter all right, as there is an abundance of hay along the river.

Uncle Dick Carmichael was up from Lower Crooked river the fore part of the week and talked of making a trip over the mountains to Webfoot yet this fall. Uncle Dick is one of the pioneer settlers of this country, having come here when there was little else but Indians and mule deer.

Mrs. John Edwards and daughter Dell left last week for the Willamette valley where they will spend the winter with Mrs. N. H. Valentine a sister of Mrs. Edwards, near Brownsville. John looks disconsolate over the prospect of having to winter alone but perhaps will get along alright.

Vince Circle was up from his home in Wasco county, Saturday, and informed our reporter that he had very serious intentions of coming back to this county again. We would be glad to welcome himself and family among us once more, and it would not be surprising if he came back and bought property in growing Prineville.

F. W. Vaile, of the Government postal service in our city this week on business connected with his department. Mr. Vaile was the first U. S. Postmaster at Manila, having been appointed to that place only a few days after Dewey's victory, and the city's capitulation to the American forces.

Will Wurzweller bought a lot of fine bucks from Allen & Lafollett last week for the stock ranch of Wurzweller, Sparks & Co. on the Matoles. Mr. Wurzweller believes in patronizing home industry when as good stock can be had as imported. He also sold 1840 head of yearling wetbers to P. Mosier, of Paulina, and bought a lot of wether lambs for H. J. Lister of the latter place, from Davin Brothers.

The rain Sunday night was what was needed very badly, as it will start the grass, although it is now getting well along towards winter and the new grass will not attain much strength before freezing weather sets in, so will not be of much benefit to stock. Fears have been entertained that we are scheduled for a hard winter, but from present indications we believe that there will be no extra amount of snowfall.

J. B. Bennett was over from Lamonta Monday and informed our reporter that the rain had put the ground in fine shape for seeding. He also stated that there was now sown a larger area of grain than was sown altogether last season. This is encouraging and the fact speaks plainly that with good transportation facilities the west end of Crook county would become one of the grain producing sections of the state, and would stand well up along with the very best in eastern Oregon.

Mrs. C. B. Allen, of Lava, returned Friday from an extended trip through western Oregon, where she was visiting with relatives and old friends. She reports having had a splendid time during her stay west of the mountains. It may also be well to state that Mr. C. B. went down to Shaniko after her and that his face was wreathed in smiles such as one would naturally suppose would rest on the face of the happiest fellow on the Deschutes, for he had been hatching for some time and we will bet our old hat that he doesn't like to cook any better than our reporter.

J. W. Wimer was down from his ranch near Post the first of the week and informed our reporter that he had just finished digging his potato crop which yielded 600 bushels of first class tubers. Mr. Wimer is running a cheese factory and is turning out some of the finest cheese that ever was seen in this county. A few more enterprises of this sort would be of great benefit to our commercial interests, notably a creamery, for the product of which there is a steady demand and a very short supply. Another industry that is badly needed at the present time, is an egg factory, as the supply of that edible fruit is so limited that one hardly gets the sight of one these days in any of the eating houses of the city.

On Monday China Jim took the stage for the railroad, and will visit a short time in Astoria, and then take the steamer for his old home in China to pay a visit to his wife and relatives, whom he has not seen in years. Jim has been a very industrious fellow and has laid up a few dollars and, like all the human family, with the accumulation of a competence there has come a yearning in his heart for the wife of his boom and the dear old folks at home. While the average white man has no love for the Yellow Danger in its abstract form, yet who will begrudge to the individual Chinaman who has labored and saved for years to give to his wife and parents a home in the fatherland this pleasure after the long waiting.

Boston Dinner.

The Degree of Honor will give a genuine Old Fashioned New England Dinner at Belknap's Hall on the evening of Saturday November 8, beginning at 5:30 p. m. There will be Boston Baked Beans, Turkey, Pumpkin Pie, Ginger Bread and Numerous Things that are good and palatable and in plenty. Come and bring your family and be satisfied.

G. M. Paul was a visitor at this office Wednesday morning and informs us that he is doing considerable improvement work on his ranch on Crooked river.

William W. Brown, the horseman from Fife, who had an important case before a jury in the circuit court last week, left for his home Saturday.—Lakeview Examiner.

Mrs. S. A. Prose was a visitor at this office the first of the week. The family have lately returned from a trip to Western Oregon and have decided to return to this country and have located at Eagle rock.

The Christian church will now have a resident minister, having secured the services of the Rev. Childs, formerly of Michigan, but who has been stationed at Stillwater, Oregon, during the past year. He will occupy the pulpit of the Union church the first and third Sundays.

Judge W. L. Bradshaw and Court Stenographer Dufur returned yesterday from Prineville, where the judge has been holding court. They report a very disagreeable stage ride, interspersed with a walking match, which was not altogether enjoyable. Circumstances arose which shortened the session of court somewhat, as it was expected to last until Wednesday.—Dalles Chronicle.

Wolf Creek Whispers.

We have in this neighborhood a character known locally as Mark Hauna and who is very popular, to hear him tell it, with the ladies. He is also a very walking encyclopedia of information on all subjects from photography to abstruse theological problems. The gentleman in question is far superior to Joe Meek in the matter of piloting parties across the mountains. A few days ago J. P. Dickenson came through here with 167 head of beef cattle from Narrows, Harney county, and stopping over night with Foster's inquired if there was a good pilot around who could show the nearest way to Caleb. Of course this was Mark's opportunity and he availed himself of it by applying for the job. The next morning the party started under his guidance and arrived safely at Summit prairie and stopped for the night. The next morning they started out and Mark got tangled up in the roads and sold the cattle drivers to proceed on one of the two roads and that he would overtake them in a short time, but that he had a large band of sheep near there which he would have to look after for a short time and then he put for home. At night the cattle arrived at what the drovers thought to be Caleb, but were told that they were in the upper end of Paulina valley. The old gentleman's wrath was without bounds and it is said that he is looking for Mark with a big gun. This experience must have cost Mr. Dickenson fifty dollars at least. —

A Pleasant Gathering.

Last Thursday evening a host of young people gathered at the primary room in the Odd Fellows building and passed the time away in merry converse and games until a late hour when refreshments were served. The gathering was in the nature of a surprise party given Mrs. Grace Estenup on the eve of her departure for California. The majority of those present were from the public school, of which institution Mrs. Estenup has long been a popular teacher. The surprise was complete as the young lady was unaware that any thing of the kind had been prepared and was not expecting to be surprised until later in the week. The party was one of the most enjoyable affairs of the season.

Those present were as follows: Carey Foster, Judd Palmer, Leo Lafollett, W. T. Fogle, Guy Lafollett, John Luckey, Elmer Kayler, Mr. Taylor, Granville Clifton, Warren Crooks, A. O. Mosier, Prof. Orton, Orange Hodges, Herbert Rideout, Charles Christiani, Adrian Crooks, Charles King, Henry Smith; Misses Georgia Hodges, Hazel Howard, Estelle Simpson, Winnie Windom, Lizzie Ketchum, Iva Booth, Addie Vanderpool, Maude Dobbs, Effa Dobbs, Addie Foster, Ada Foeter, Minnie Crooks, Maude Vanderpool, Pearl Vanderpool, Grace Belknap, Fay Hodges, Mable Baldwin, Ada Taylor, Winnie Cline, Gertie Prine, and Gertie Sharp.

Prineville, - - Oregon.

Street Commissioner John Claypool is nursing a black eye. He says that a pail caused it.

Jas. S. Kelly, the photographer, is preparing to move into permanent quarters, having made arrangements to erect a building, and will become a fixture in the city.

L. C. Perry, Ralph Caldwell and J. S. Bogue were in the city from the Upper Deschutes country and report a little snowy weather up that way this week.

Uncle Bob Barnett was seen perambulating around on our streets Wednesday morning pretty early, and it is not unlikely that he was in a more or less degree responsible for some of the cold weather.

W. C. Black arrived last week from the John Day country and purchased an interest in the Journal. Mr. Black is a thorough printer and under his management the mechanical department of the Journal will be kept up to the highest standard.

Fleming Brothers gave one of their delightful entertainments last Wednesday evening to a good house. This is one of the best shows of its kind that visits this country. They will be here again next fall with a larger outfit.

The firm of White & Campbell, which has been running the Bowling Alley store, has been dissolved. Mr. White retiring. J. E. Campbell will conduct the business as formerly and will add a number of new features.

Dr. W. W. Taggart, the eye specialist, at the Poindexter Hotel, will attend to your eyes, fit spectacles, cure your headache and nervous troubles. Charges reasonable. One charge for one year. Care of children a specialty. Glasses ground in Portland.

At the recent term of court in Crook county, Judge Bradshaw tried four jury cases, three civil and one criminal. In the latter, in which C. J. Roberts was tried for the murder of Ed. Glenn, the grand jury found not a true bill, the defendant having acted in self defense.—Dalles Chronicle.

Word was received here Wednesday morning of the death of Ward Lamson, of Willamina, of typhoid fever. We have been unable to get any particulars of the matter. This is sad news to his relatives and friends. Ward was one of the most popular young men of this county and well known as a teacher of no mean ability.
