

Local Mention

C. W. Colby, was doing business in the city the fore part of the week.

Colonel F. Smith, of Lamonta, was transacting business matters in the county seat Monday.

A. G. Allingham was over from Sisters last Friday as a witness for D. T. Council on his homestead final proof.

J. H. Weider arrived from Eugene Friday to attend to a lot of business matters in this county.

J. L. Allen was up from Hay creek Friday, attending to various business matters.

Harry Hackleman was a business visitor from his ranch on Camp creek the fore part of the week.

D. T. Council was over from Sisters Friday making final proof on his homestead.

J. A. Gocogry and D. F. Murr were down from their ranches in the Crook neighborhood one day last week.

Roscoe Knox and Wallace Post were business visitors from up the Crooked river one day last week.

C. L. Knox and wife, of Bemidji, Minn., were in the city last week looking after timber land matters.

A. M. Logan was down from his ranch near Crook one day last week and paid this office a pleasant call.

W. W. Joslin, was a business visitor from Willow creek the first of the week.

All persons knowing themselves indebted to Smith & Cleek will please call and settle. This means you, Smith & Cleek.

Portland Club Whiskey, a pure bourbon, well matured. Recommended by leading physicians. For sale everywhere.

Rev. Childs, of the Christian church will preach at the Union church every first and third Sunday until further notice.

L. C. Perry was down from his ranch on Deschutes the latter part of last week, looking after his manifold business interests in the city.

Henry Odell was down from Paulina the latter part of last week and reports stock looking well in that section of the county.

The beaming countenance of Fred M. Smith, of Grindstone, was seen upon our streets the fore part of the week.

H. T. Bregman was in the city Saturday making final proof on his timber claim. Mr. Bregman's home is in St. Maries, Idaho.

J. A. Rayl and wife were in the city the first of the week, on their way to Portland for an outing. Mr. Rayl is one of the prominent stockmen of the Crooked river country.

J. R. and J. W. Menbenhall and G. Springer were visitors from the thriving little burg of Culver last week and report everything looking fine in that section of the county since the rain.

J. G. Stevenson and wife, of Eugene, were in the city the fore part of the week. Mr. Stevenson is interested in some mining property in this county and was attending to matters connected therewith.

Bob Smith has received his new saw and has been making it hum the fore part of the week. It was thought for some time that we would have to cut wood by the armstrong process, but we are thankful to state that all fears in that direction are now a thing of the past.

C. E. Wright informs us that he has just completed the Lamonta school house and that it was a very commodious and comfortable building and one which the good people of that district have long needed. The school is under the able management of Miss Ida Omeg.

Grant Mays passed through the city the fore part of the week on his way home to The Dalles from his ranch at Hampton buttes. He reports the stock in fine condition and will winter nicely. Mr. Mays will remain outside for the winter.

W. W. Joslin was in the city from his ranch on Hay creek the fore part of the week. He reports that he has a lot of trouble getting his paper regularly. There must be something wrong with the service in that part of the county as the paper is mailed regularly each week.

G. H. Russell, the Tacoma horse buyer, was here the first of the week looking after the horse market.

Frank Borney, who has been on the sick list for some time, is now able to be out.

M. F. Hawthorne and wife were in from their home near Lava the first of the week laying in their winter's supplies.

W. H. Staats, the Bend hotel man, was a business visitor in the county seat the fore part of the week.

Albert Canning was in from the Deschutes Tuesday and reports his sheep doing nicely and an abundance of good range where he has them at present.

John Geiger informs the Journal that he has just received a fine buff Plymouth Rock "gobbler" and the way John steps around we naturally suppose he is very proud of it.

The Prineville Social Club was organized last Friday evening and the following officers elected. W. T. Fogle, pres., A. O. Mosier, vice pres., Judd Palmer, secy., and Nellie Day, treas.

H. L. Parry has been sojourning in town for some time past nursing a sore foot. He has been troubled with erysipelas for some time, but is getting better at present.

Wells Bell is getting high minded, at any rate he is having a new top put on his dwelling house and there is no telling what he will do next—probably buy a trotting horse.

S. A. Hulm is here in the interest of the M. W. A. and is meeting with very good success in securing members for the organization. Mr. Hulm was formerly a partner of the irrefragable Fred Dawson of Albany.

About the first of the coming month Park Deak will open a butcher shop in the Harbin building between Bounney's restaurant and Dr. Rosenberg's office. Park is one of the boys and will no doubt do a good business.

This office was presented this week by Warren Glaze with his latest composition, the Marseilles march and two step which is just off the press. Prineville should feel proud of her talented young composer who has lived here all his life and is one of us.

Park Doak, Isom Cleek and Charley Graves left Tuesday for the Deschutes country, where they will be joined by John Sizemore and then proceed to view a road in the Caldwell and Vandervert section of the county. They went well equipped to have a good time with the feathered denizens of that region.

D. F. Adamson has his new drug store completed and is moving into it. This is one of the finest drug stores in the state. It has all the latest improvements in the way of shelving with glass doors and the latest style glass counters. A few more up to date buildings like this and Prineville will be classed among the most modern towns in the state.

Edward Everett Young, of Portland, was in the city the first of the week on his way to the Deschutes country to look over the situation as to the merits of the country in way of irrigation for the purpose of making a report on it for the Oregonian before the meeting of the irrigation congress. We acknowledge a pleasant fraternal call.

C. O. Bedell, one of the pioneers of Silver creek, was in the city the first of the week enroute to the Willamette valley to spend the winter with his family. Mr. Bedell was one of the earlier settlers on Silver creek and has witnessed a growth in that country from one or two houses to a large settlement and one of the most prosperous communities in Hainey county. This country is in part tributary to Prineville and every fall a lot of business is done by our merchants with the settlers there.

Church Social

Entertainment at the Union Church Nov. 15th at 8 p.m. Admittance 25cts. This will admit you also to a pie social at Belknap's Hall immediately after the program. You will find tables laden with chicken, mince pies etc., etc. means that the turkeys refuse a covering. That is left to you with the aid of hot coffee.

Lee Doak returned Tuesday from an extended visit in the Willamette valley in the vicinity of Eugene. He will spend the winter here.

Orlando Parrish was up from his ranch on Hay creek the fore part of the week and reports everything looking nice down there since the rain.

Joe Lister was down from his ranch on the north fork of Crooked river the first of the week and reports his crop nearly all sown and stock looking well up that way.

Com Carroll, of Mitchell, who has been spending some time in this county visiting relatives returned home Tuesday. He is thinking seriously of wintering in California in hopes of benefiting his health, which has been poor for several years.

J. R. Bennett was over from Lamonta Monday and informed our reporter that the rain had put the ground in fine shape for seeding. He also stated that there was now sown a larger area of grain than was sown altogether last season. This is encouraging and the fact speaks plainly that with good transportation facilities the west end of Crook county would become one of the grain producing sections of the state, and would stand well up along with the very best in eastern Oregon.

Lee Steers and wife were down from Suplee. Mr. Steers had the misfortune to get an arm broken in a run-away accident a few days ago and came in to have it attended to. It was a narrow escape for both himself and wife, as they were both in the rig when the horses started to run. After the horses had gotten under good headway the brake became unmanageable and threw Mr. Steers out, while his wife held onto one line and caused the team to run in a circle and finally the tongue came down and ran into the ground, causing the wagon to stop, while the team ran on. Mrs. Steers was not injured, which, under the circumstances is miraculous.

The Oregon Society of Sons of the American Revolution is an organization composed of descendants of ancestors who assisted in establishing American independence. Any male descendant of such ancestor is eligible to admission into the society. Its objects are purely patriotic and historical. One of them is to stimulate interest in the history of the American Revolution and loyalty to its principles. For this purpose the society offers three prizes of $25, $15 and $10 respectively, for the best essay written by any student in any public school in Oregon, on any one of the following four subjects:

1. The Battle of Bunker Hill.
2. The Burgoyne Campaign.
3. The Treason of Benedict Arnold.
4. The Partisan Warfare in the Carolinas; Marion, Sumpter and Pickens.

Essays are limited in length to twenty-five hundred words; must be written on legal cap on one side of the paper in the student's own handwriting and must be accompanied by the certificate of the principal of the school attended by the author, to the effect that the author is a bona fide student in the school and has been in attendance therein not less than six weeks during the school year of 1902-3. Essays must be forwarded to the chairman of the committee in charge, Wallace McCamant, 34 Concord Building, Portland, so as to reach him not later than January 15th, 1903. In awarding the prizes the committee will be governed by these three considerations:

1. Historical accuracy.
 2. Manner of treatment.
 3. Orthography, grammar, syntax and punctuation.
- Any additional information relative to the competition which may be desired will be cheerfully furnished by the chairman of the committee. The essay which is awarded the first prize will be published in full, with the name of the author, in the public press.

WALLACE MCCAMANT, Chairman,
WILLARD H. CHAPIN,
ROBERT TRENT PLATT,
Committee.

Elkins & King

PRINEVILLE'S BUSY STORE.

Our 1902 stock of Oliver Gang, Sulky and Walking Plows is far the most complete we have ever carried. These plows have no equal as a breaking plow and will plow ordinary sage brush without grubbing.

The new Oliver Sulky's have a great improvement over last years in the shape of a hand lever giving the operator full control to regulate the width of cut on turns and curves. The Oliver is one made to do the work and will do the work they are made for. Call and inspect them.

Our stock of repairs is exceptionally complete, not only the iron posts but wood as well.

We can save you time and money and patience.
