

Wild Geese by Wagon Load.

A wagon load of wild geese on the streets early this morning was the novelty, says the Pendleton East Oregonian. They were dead, but they were freshly killed, and looked tempting enough to cause the citizens to rush after them and pay the sum of 50 cents apiece for them.

There was just exactly 242 of them and they were big, fat, juicy ones. They were the earliest birds and they were caught by Pendleton marksmen. It only required two days for the party of three to do the work.

Joe Nolf, Otto Turner and Will Lane started out Wednesday with their Winchester "pump guns" to the wheat fields near Arlington, and returned this morning with the results announced above.

The wild geese have just begun their southward trip in earnest, and the boys happened to get in the midst of the best of them. They are noted for their good marksmanship, and they did not lose their reputations in this instance. Flocks of nine and ten attempted to pass over them, but they claim that they did not permit one to escape. "It was just like finding them," said Joe Nolf. "We took them as they came, and we were strictly impartial. But as a remarkable coincidence, we did not kill a bad goose. They were all large and fat. You see that 242 fill this wagon to the gunwales. If there had been another we should have had to get another wagon."

That Throbbing Headache

Would quickly leave you if you used Dr. King's New Life Pills. Thousands of sufferers have proved their matchless merit for Sick and Nervous Headaches. They make pure blood and build up your health. Only 25 cents. Money back if not cured. Sold by all druggists.

The battleship Oregon left San Francisco Saturday for Honolulu. The big war vessel is on the way to Manila where she will join the American fleet in Asiatic waters, and become the flagship of Admiral Evans, who is in command of the squadron.

About 3,000,000 feet of lumber recently ordered by the War Department from the Pacific Export Lumber Company will be shipped from Portland on the steamer Quinto, under a contract with Laidlaw & Co. on November 25. The Government is to pay $11.50 per thousand feet for the transportation of this lumber.

Henry L. Shattuck, of Shellsburg Iowa, was cured of a stomach trouble with which he had been afflicted for years, by four boxes of Chamberlain's Stomach and Liver Tablets. He had previously tried many other remedies and a number of physicians without relief. For sale by all druggists.

Bert Heath arrived in town on Saturday's stage. He has been East with a train-load of sheep belonging to the B. S. & L. Company.

Mr. C. M. Cartwright, who spent several days looking after his mining interests here during the past week, returned to Hay Creek on Friday.

Thomas W. Eland and wife, of Hay Creek, were in town last Thursday, for the purpose of offering proof upon their timber claims.

Work will begin on the King Company's property within a few days, and the representation work for the entire group will be done. Mr. Thomas is expected daily from Kemmerer, and as soon as he reaches camp, the work will be started.

Sam Hamilton returned from Prineville Wednesday, after an absence of several weeks. He has secured the contract for building a house in Prineville, and will make his home at the county seat for the next few months.

Lyn Nichols, of Hay Creek, was a visitor in town last Thursday. Lyn is now ranching at his home place within a few miles of Hay Creek, and it is rumored that he will before many days have a charming help mate. We extend congratulations in advance.

The state printing office is now working on the last form of the new Oregon code and the two volumes will be sent to the bindery next week. It is expected that the new code will be ready for distribution about the middle of November. Under the act authorizing this code the publisher must furnish the state 1000 sets for $10,000 and must keep the code on sale for six years at not more than $12 per set. The volumes delivered to the state will be distributed among the members of the last Legislature, the state officers' Federal Judges, Circuit Judges, District Attorneys, County Treasurers, County Commissioners and Justices of the Peace. A set will be sent to each Governor and each state library in the United States.
