A few weeks ago, Hon. J. N. Williamson visited Canyon City for the purpose of looking into the merits and demerits of the propos ed new forest reserve, a great deal of kicking having been done from that locality. It seems that during his brief stay, he called on the Eagle and omitted the same courtesy to The News, the latter being situated out of the business portion of town. As a result the News is printing scurrilous attacks upon Mr. Williamson, and playing the role of the dog in the manger to perfection. We thought better of the News' management than this, but since it has been their policy, we might add that paper should allow so small n in ordering. The Journal has been asked by a number of its subscribers, to de fine its position towards Congressman-elect J. N. Williamson. This is done by them with the knowledge in mind that heretofore it has been bitterly antagonistic, and we think, unreasonably so. In reply to this query, we can only say that our policy toward Mr. Williamson is of the friendliest nature possible to exist. We have been here but a short time but long enough to learn that J. N. Williamson and Crook county are one. Their weal or woe are mutual. Through Crooks loyalty it has been possible to raise Mr. Williamson to a position, which fits the man, and to which, no one doubts, GLAZE'S the man will do honor. As a representative Crook County man, it is the duty of every citizen of Crook to stand by Mr. Williamson loyally. His power for good To the dissenters who become such, through pecuniary motives, he is in a position to say, "Shoo fly, don't bother me."
