The meetings of the M. E. Church have been reinforced by the Presbyterians, and are enjoying good attendance and interest. Rev. J. E. Snyder, an able speaker from the Presbyterian rank has charge of the evening meetings, while Dr. Cawood, of the M. E. church has charge of the afternoon meetings.

Cap Cornett, of the Burns Prineville stage line, arrived in our city last Friday for a few day's stay. He reports business good on his line, and that his prospects of a material increase in passenger traffic are of the best. This line is among the best equipped and managed in the state.

The rush of people after timber claims does not appear to abate very much. The snow in the mountains does not stop them. They all have an abiding faith in our timber and the rush this spring will be immense from the East on account of the cheap rates which are now in effect.

Dr. W. W. Taggart, the eye specialist, at the Pindexter Hotel, will attend to your eyes, fit your spectacles, cure your headache and nervous troubles. One charge for one year. Care of children a speciality. Glasses ground in Portland.

Ed. Harbin, the contractor, has completed the Crooked river bridge on the Burns road near Newsom creek. This is a contract awarded by the County Court at its last regular session, and fills a long felt want by Prineville travelers going east, as the water has been so high at times that the road at this point was impassible.

Mr. J. P. Yancey while hauling a load of hay last Saturday had the misfortune to get his left arm broken. He went down to the Ketchikan place to get his load and on coming through the gate, he took one of the horses by the bits and started to lead them through. In doing so his arm was caught between the gate post and the end of the neck yoke and broke one of the bones above the wrist and dislocated the other one.

Mr. L. S. Logan, of Eugene, came in from Shaniko last week and left for his ranch near Price. Mr. Logan says that when he moved to W. Wood, he thought he could get accustomed to the rain down there, but he has given up all hopes in that line. He says that the flood down there was simply immense and that he is getting tired of so much rain.

John Edwar's and Frank Atwood have purchased the wood saw and are now prepared to saw wood on short notice. These gentlemen need no introduction to the people of Prineville. Their prices are as follows: 75 cents per cord for sawing anything under 5 cords in two weeks; 60 cents per cord for 5 cords and over. Orders should be left with either of the above named gentlemen or addressed to P. O. Lock Box No. 55.

Rev. E. A. Child announces that there is a strong probability of having a large gospel tent and one of their best singing evangelists here as early as May. Let as many in the county as desire this, write or see Mr. Child and say how much they are willing to subscribe toward it. It is possible to buy a tent and have it for use throughout the county. About $200 will pay all expenses and we shall have a tabernacle that will last us several years and be a great help in establishing work in the county. It will do for work, also, during any political or public rally in the city. Let all subscribe freely to this enterprise.
