Prineville Public School Notes

Education is a growth toward intellectual and moral perfection.

George Taylor has dropped out of the IV grade.

Katie Chambers was absent from school last Friday.

The pupils are enjoying the spring weather the last few days.

Miss Marshal was a visitor of Mr. Mosier's room Friday afternoon.

One of the best effects of thorough intellectual training is a knowledge of our own capacities.

Alvan Whitsett and Nellie Summers were absent from Miss Smith's room last Friday.

Miss Emma Ketchum taught Mr. Mosier's room during his absence.

Aleatha Dillon returned to school last Monday after a few weeks absence.

Sammie Newsome was absent from school the first of the week on account of sickness.

Mr. Mosier was absent from school Wednesday afternoon on account of sickness.

There is considerable sickness in the school. Several of our pupils were absent last week.

Maudie Dobbs, Bert Barnes, and Carl Hyde have been on the sick list.

The editors elected from Mr. Mosier's room are Georgia Hodges, Elwood Draper, Lester Colars and Stella Young.

The VIII and IX grades have had tests in their several studies during the last week. The results are quite satisfactory.

The IX grade is now reviewing General History and Physical Geography and the VIII grade is making reviews on various subjects.

Honor and shame from no condition rise: Act well your part there all the honor lies.

Every person has two educations, one which he receives from others, and one more important, which he gives himself.

The pupils of Mr. Mosier's room are reviewing in most of their studies, having completed the grade work.

There has been several cases of tardiness during the past month. This should not be. Parents should spur their children up in this respect.

The IX grade will soon finish Tennyson's Princess. This will make the third little book on literature this class has reached this year.

The school is expecting to observe Arbor Day in an appropriate manner. Arbor Day always comes on the second Friday in April of each year.

Miss Marshal and Miss Lena Jones visited Miss Foster's room Monday. Miss Marshal has been teaching at Powell Buttes, and will commence a term of school on Upper McKay next Monday.

The prospects for a large class for the High School next year are good. We hope that the High School Board will see their way clear to build the High School building this year. Such a move would go a long way toward building up school sentiment here.

The pupil who disobeys his father and mother at home will likely disobey the teacher at school. The father who curses the teacher and takes his boy out of school because the teacher proposed to teach the boy that which he is not taught at home—obedience in manners—does the boy an injury that he will always regret. Fathers, if you curse the teacher in your sons presence, the son will curse and insult the teacher. No teacher can do anything for a boy who is discouraged in this way by his father. Fathers and mothers should encourage their children to love the teacher. It is hard for a teacher to do anything for your boys and girls unless you give your co-operation to the school. Do not discourage your boy or girl by joining them in their condemnation of the teacher. Pupils become angry sometimes and say things which are not based upon facts. If you talk quietly and lovingly to your child of matters which concern him you will do him a great deal more good than you could by lending your ill will.

Miss Foster's pupils rendered the following program Friday Mar. 13:

sheep.

A sheep is a very useful animal raised for its wool. They shear sheep in the spring and haul the wool in wagons to Shaniko and then from there to The Dalles, and then it is sent to the factories and made into cloth.

The men herd sheep in the mountains in the summer and bring them back in the winter and feed them hay. Most sheep are white but some are black. People kill sheep and eat them; they are very good meat. In a band of sheep there are about 2,000. If you will pet sheep when they are young they will make a nice pet. Men sell sheep and get a good price for them.
