THURSDAY, MAY 28, 1903

There seems to be a revival in the northwest, of the price fighting business and the accounts and apparent encouragement given it by our leading papers...

With the reports of President Roosevelt's ovations reaching us daily, it makes us realize that he must feel a favored man.

Five years ago last Sunday the Oregon regiment embarked at San Francisco and started on their 8000-mile journey to the westward, bound for the Philippines...

One often hears the expression now-a-days, "Well, when the Columbia Southern is extended further south Prineville's death knell is sounded" or "the range is gone and the backbone of the country is broken..."

Rev. Mr. Triplett, of Prineville, conducted religious service at the Bend schoolhouse Sunday. There was preaching in the morning and a song service in the evening.

A. H. Grant, who had charge of the B. S. & L. Co. store at Hay Creek for several years, arrived in Bend on today's stage and it is understood he will open a large store here.

W. A. Laidlaw will leave Sunday for the Columbia Southern Irrigation site on the Tumello, seven miles to the westward of Bend, where he expects to be busy ten days or so.

Take for instance, the wheat raising industry. Any one could tell that our section was especially adapted to it, but for all that and with the immense acreage available, last year's supply was 10,000 bushels short of the local demand. When you ask the cause, you are told, there's more money in raising hay, but the day is not far distant when that will not be the case, and diversified farming will then be a reality in Crook county.

Hay has been so scarce at Haystack this spring that there has not been enough to send "straws" to the Journal, so we thought we would send a few so you would know we were still in existence.

We notice there is a rumor going that Haystack has several cases of smallpox. That is a mistake, for there never has been a case here and is none at present.

There is only one thing needed here worse than rain, and that is a Humane Society. When it comes to confining horses a week or more without water, and beating them till they are past going, it is about time some one was looking the matter up.

All members of Haystack Assembly U. A. are especially requested to attend lodge on Saturday evening, June 6, at the Culver Hall, as important business is to be transacted, and part of the program is to be ice cream and cake. So don't fail to attend.

G. H. Osborn is laid up in bed with a sore arm caused from vaccination, not smallpox.

Sunday School has been postponed for some time past on account of the smallpox scare, but we understand there will be Sunday school next Sabbath.

Deschutes Items.

Miss Marian Wiest gave a charming dancing party last Friday night.

A flurry of snow Wednesday night served to give variety to the weather this week.

Mrs. Ora Poindexter, of Prineville, arrived here Saturday and will spend the summer at the home of her father, J. I. West.

The undershot wheel at the Steidle & Reed mill did not prove entirely satisfactory and Mr. Steidle has gone to Portland to purchase a turbine, which will soon be in operation.

W. A. Laidlaw will leave Sunday for the Columbia Southern Irrigation site on the Tumello, seven miles to the westward of Bend, where he expects to be busy ten days or so.

Miss Mary Riley, of the Pilot Butte Inn, has been quite ill with cerebro-spinal meningitis since Sunday. Fortunately a physician was at hand to give prompt treatment, and the young lady is expected soon to recover.

Near Wetweather Springs, half a dozen miles above Bend, a crew of half a dozen men has a camp and the men are at work some distance farther up on the right-of-way and ditch for the Hutchinson irrigation enterprise. Progress as yet is not rapid but it is understood the work will be prosecuted on a more extensive scale soon.

At the meeting Wednesday night to consider further the matter of a Fourth of July celebration

In Bend the committee having charge of preliminary arrangements, including ways and means, was instructed to report what progress it had made and the prospect for the celebration. The committee is to have a meeting this evening and upon the report it will make to the public gathering at the schoolhouse next week will depend the scope and character of the affair.

Crops at Crooked River.

The crops and gardens are all backward on account of cold weather.

Mrs. Carmical has been quite sick but is slowly recovering.

Alva Gilliam and Jessie McCallister visited friends at Powell Buttes last Sunday.

John Green and Eld Pike have quit work in this neighborhood. They intend going to Haystack to rusticate until haying.

A. T. Yocum is busy sewing alfalfa seed on his farm.

The horse ride on the desert will commence about the first of June.

Wm. Rodman was out from Prineville last week visiting his daughter.

Walter Helfrich, of Haystack, visited at McCallisters last week. The Montgomery brothers have taken their cattle, and some of Colonel Smith's to the Deschutes for the summer.

Mr. Messinger will sell his farm if he can find a purchaser, and move to a warmer climate.

David Weaver and Mr. Hathaway were over on the Deschutes last week with line and hook, fishing for tadpoles. They had excellent success.

Mr. Montgomery will move his family to his homestead at Little River this week, where they will remain during the summer.

A Long Trip.

Six wagon loads of general merchandise passed through the city Wednesday en route to Lee, Grant county. The goods were from Posse & Mays, of The Dalles, and were consigned for the most part to Kero Bros. the Lee merchants. This trip requires 250 miles of travel and is one of the longest freighting routes in America. It shows how badly transportation is needed for Central Oregon.

A Wonderful Discovery.

One of our leading western physicians on being interrogated as to what he regarded as the best remedy for all diseases that the human flesh is heir to, and what is the best preventive promptly replied, Portland Club whiskey, as I know it is a pure bourbon, well matured, and aged in wood—for sale by all first class dealers.

"The fact that a horse is sensitive to ridicule," said a student of the biological department of the University of Pennsylvania, "may easily be demonstrated. Take, for instance, the case of a horse that is eating out of a nose bag. If you stand in front of such a horse, attract his attention, and then, with loud laughter, mock his way of feeding, he will stop with a look of embarrassment and shame, and he will not resume his meal until you are gone away. Dogs also object to being laughed at. Make fun of them, and they will cease whatever they are doing. It is only when they are in a fight that they will remain impervious to the shafts of mockery."—Philadelphia Post.

Job Couldn't Have Stood It.

A Hazing, Hazing Flood.

Washed down a telegraph line which Chas. C. Ellis, of Lisbon, Ia. had to repair. "Standing waist deep in icy water," he writes gave me a terrible cold and cough. It grew worse daily. Finally the best doctors in Oakland, Neb. Sioux City and Omaha said I had consumption and could not live. Then I began using Dr. King's New Discovery and was wholly cured by six bottles. We want to know How many children in Oregon are good guessers. We are going to give Seventy Dollars in the form of cash prizes to find out what child can give the best reasons why EILERS PIANO HOUSE can sell pianos as it does at from $100 to $150 less than any other dealer on the coast. The first prize is $25 cash; The 2d prize is $20 cash; The 3d prize is $10 cash; The 4th prize is $5 cash; The next ten are each $1 cash.

Is there any difference between selling in large quantities or small quantities? Can a dealer make better prices in one case than in the other, and if so, in which case? Does it pay to ship pianos and organs in car load lots, and if so, why? Is it more economical to ship them in boxes? Does this save in weight, and if so, what difference does it make?

Many bright and interesting letters are coming in, and not a single Oregon child wants to miss the opportunity of winning a prize. We want to hear from you all. The gentlemen who have kindly consented to act as judges of the contest are Mr. C. J. Owen, managing editor of the Evening Telegram, and Mr. Thomas Milburn of the advertising department of the Oregonian. They will select a third from among the business men of Portland, whose name will be announced next week. Contest closes May 31, 1903. Children 16 years old and younger eligible. Letters must not contain over one hundred words.
