The Glorious Fourth !!

Prineville Celebrates Uncle Sam's 127th Birthday.

The glorious Fourth has come and gone and nothing remains in our little city, but a remembrance of a celebration given by Fire Company Number One that was all and more than they had promised. They fairly outdid themselves and furnished amusement for the crowd, which was generally estimated at about 1000. Many came from the country districts and expressions of approval from these outside folk, regarding the features of the day's program and the good order maintained were many. The disorderly features seen so often in connection with celebrations were lacking on this occasion. Commencing with the morning parade and ending with the ball in the evening the day was an enjoyable one, given over entirely to celebrating Uncle Sam's 127th birthday with not an accident nor injured child to mar the day's program.

The morning parade was the first feature, and started from A. H. Lippman's store corner at about 10:30 a. m. It was one of the prettiest displays of patriotism ever seen in our city and was headed by the Prineville Brass Band.

The band was followed by Fire Company Number Two, who occupied the position of honor on this occasion. The boys of this company always make a neat appearance, owing to their uniformity of size and neat appearance.

Next came the liberty car with the little folks, and a write up of our celebration would not be complete without an especial reference to the little girls representing Uncle Sam's commonwealths. They were in a pretty lot of little ones as graced a liberty car anywhere in all America, and they were very tastefully arranged and decorated by the committee in charge which was composed of Mesdames Biggs, Thompson and Smith.

After the liberty car came the Hook and Ladder Truck, which was manned by members of Fire Company Number One. Following the Hook and Ladder Company was the Thirteen Colony Float, with Uncle Sam Leo Lafallett in charge. The colonies were represented by thirteen little boys, who came in for their share of praise. Their attitudes indicated painstaking mothers. Without the latter any Fourth of July celebration would be a flat failure.

Fire Company Number One's hose cart came next. The boys of this company had only recently received brand new uniforms, and their appearance was neat.

The Warm Spring Indian band followed the Thirteen Colony Float. This musical organization is composed of young bucks from the Warm Spring reservation, and while their productions were not first class, they were as good as any could do with the limited practice to which they were confined.

Following the Indian band was a patriotic float decorated by L. Michel, in which he displayed a part of his confectionary and fruit stock. It was a pretty display, and the fruits, from the hardy apple to the tender bananas and pine apple, are now all raised under the protection of the flag to which we all did homage.

Next came the 12 ladies on horse back and their riding was generally complimented. This section is noted for its Equestriennes, and the ladies participating must to have been 12 of our best.

C. I. Winnek's float came next in the procession, and showed to good advantage the enterprising firm it represented.

The parade executed its line of march, after which it proceeded to the School Grounds, where suitable seats had been prepared by the committee for the crowd.

The exercises were opened by music by the Prineville band, which was followed by a prayer by Chaplain H. C. Clark. A double quartet, composed of Messrs. Fred Lehman, J. B. Shipp, Frank Elkins and Mark Powell, and Mesdames Powell, Elkins, King, Elkins and Miss Grace Belknap, then rendered an effective number. Mrs. J. H. Wigle next read the Declaration of Independence, and her ability as an elocutionist is too well known in our city to need of further comment. After a song by the double quartet, Hon. Fred Wilson of The Dalles was introduced by Judge M. E. Brink, in a few well chosen remarks. Mr. Wilson as orator of the day delivered an oration marked by an earnest, forceful delivery and patriotic sentiment, and was well received.

After a song by the quartet followed by music by the Indian band the exercises were adjourned.

In the afternoon commencing at 1:30 and ending at 2:30 sports were indulged in by the small boys. Several had hearts made glad with prizes. The little girl's bicycle parade was also had at this time and the prizes for the best decorated wheel were awarded to Vernia Smith first, and Wilda Salomon second.

The ball game between the Warm Spring Indian Reservation team and the Prinevilleites followed the day. Following is a write up from our baseball editor:

The Base Ball Game.

The Prineville boys played a circle around the Indian ball tossers and after the 1st inning the little brown boys never had a show to win first money.

The game started off with the Si-washes at the bat and they placed three men across the plate for runs. It looked good for the Si-washes and they made a noise that would do credit to a college foot ball team. When the locals took their turn at bat the first man up lined out a safe one, but the next two went out on easy ones. The little brown boys felt so good that they commenced a war dance, just to show the locals they were easy, but the next man up mixed things and the fireworks commenced and by the time three were out the locals had tied the score. The Si-washes in their half of the second failed to find the ball and went the ozone route in one, two, three order.

From this time on the game was never in doubt and the Si-washes played a hard, uphill game in a manner which proved them to be true sports.

The local team was the strongest that has played here in years, and although they were not forced to play their best, they demonstrated the fact that they can hold their own with any team in Eastern Oregon. It is to be hoped that a series of games can be arranged for in the near future. It would be a good drawing card and give our local fans a chance to witness a few games of first class ball.

The line up was:

Warm Spring Prineville
John P. C. Rosenberg, S. S. Joe Zack, P. Bailey, P. & 2 B. Hayes, S. S. Newsome, 1 B. Benjamin, 1 B. Sharp, C. & L. F. Miller, 2 B. Smith, 2 B. & P. Zack, 3 B. Rowell, 3 B. Ball, R. F. Myers, B. F. James, C. F. Foster, C. E. I. Miller, L. F. Jordan, L. F. & C. Score by innings:

1 2 3 4 5 6 7 8 9
Prineville, 3 4 7 0 0 5 9 *—35
W. Spring, 3 0 2 0 1 0 2 1—11
Batteries.—Bailey and Sharp, Smith and Jordan, Zack and John.

Umpire.—Harold Baldwin.
After the ball game, which was finished at about 5:30 Hose Companies Number One and Two contested over a 300 yard course for the $25 and $10 prizes, and resulted in the Number Two team getting the large prize. The time from the start until the stream was turned on was 64 and 63 seconds. This event drew a good crowd of enthusiasts, as both teams had many admirers.

After supper sports were again indulged in for a short time, after which the dancing crowd held sway. The proceeds of the dance were $152, of which sum $20 was voted by the Number One boys to be sent to the Heppner fire company. The rest of the sum will probably be used to defray the incidental expenses of the celebration.

That the boys of Fire Company Number One can entertain was amply demonstrated last Saturday, and a pleasant remembrance of their successful efforts is fresh in the minds of all, from the small boy with his fire crackers to the gray haired patriot. Much of the credit of this celebration is due Wm. Holder, J. W. Boone, P. B. Doak, Geo. Cyrus, Ora Parker and M. E. Brink and Mesdames Biggs, Slayton and Thompson, and others, whose untiring efforts made it what it was.

Portage Road Can Be Built.

Civil Engineer A. E. Hammond, of Portland, who has been engaged by the State Board of Portage Railroad Commissioners to make from The Dalles to Celilo, was in Salem last Wednesday.

In an informal verbal report to the board he said that the work of making the survey is progressing satisfactorily and that he will be ready to make a full report in about a week. He has encountered some difficulty on account of the high water in the Columbia, but this was not sufficient to prevent the survey being made.

Mr. Hammond also reported to the board that, after studying the conditions of the region over which the railroad must be built, he is of the opinion that the road can be constructed for the amount appropriated by the Legislature, $165,000. He finds that with the exception of two or three short places there are no portions of the road that will require extensive grading.

Pacific Cable Completed.

Another great enterprise, the Pacific cable, is completed. Last Christmas the first message was flashed through the depths of the great Pacific Ocean from Honolulu to San Francisco, 2300 miles; and now, only six and one-third months later, the big wire will carry a message sent by the President of this mighty Republic not only to Honolulu, but thence, with a momentary stop, 1693 miles farther to Guam, and thence, after a slight halt, 1700 miles farther through the unseen, unexplored watery waste to Manila; thence it will be pulsed almost as quickly as thought moves in the brain to Hong Kong, and so on across two continents and narrow waters to Queens-town, and then in a breath or two across the Atlantic to New York, and so up to the little hamlet of Oyster Bay, where the President will receive it before he has had time, after sending it forth on his journey around the world, to smoke half of a cigar.

A Pacific cable has been talked of for many years; was looked upon as a great undertaking; but the late John W. Mackay said he could and would lay it, and lo! in a few months it is done. It is an important achievement, and will aid in bringing the United States and the Orient into closer commercial relations, and in developing our volume of commerce with the thronging hundreds of millions of people across the Pacific.—Tele-gram.

Initiative and Referendum.

The much talked of initiative and referendum act which was passed by our state legislature of 1899, was last week decided by Judge Cleland, of the state circuit court, to be contrary to the express and mandatory provision of the state constitution. Judge George Sears and Frazier concurred in the decision. This decision makes the act null and void.
