SHOW! We are showing a line of beauties at quick selling prices. One price to all and that is the best, at the Bee Hive.

Mrs. Margaret Wiegand returned Sunday from a business trip to The Dalles where she went to purchase supplies for her gallery.

Mrs.'s Trunks. Most stylish in the city. Come and look—try on as many as you please. It will not hurt your eyes to look at them and you'll not be bored to death to buy. The Bee Hive.

Wm. Beegh returned last Saturday from a business trip to the various school districts in the Haystack country. He left again this week to take in the school districts in the vicinity of Prineville.

The little folks of the city are assured a royal treat by Santa Claus, as the Christian and Methodist church organizations have been combined for an evening at the latter's place of worship Christmas eve.

C. W. Carey, wife and son Willie left Monday for Missouri where they will visit relatives during the coming winter and spring. They intend extending their trip to the St. Louis Exposition before returning.

Byron Cady and Ed. Crabtree will leave the first of the week for the Lookout mountain district where they have provided winter quarters for themselves and will look after the mining interests of different Prineville residents.

Attorney G. W. Barnes returned from Deschutes Monday where he was engaged in a terrific legal battle concerning the possession of an organ. Mr. Barnes stated that the music in that neck of the woods is too fierce for him to get into again.

Hay King, Prineville's enterprising Chinese merchant left Sunday for Portland on his way to Hong Kong, China, where he will remain until next June. The firm of N. A. Tye & Co. of which he is manager expects to dispose of its business here by that time.

The recent rains and snows in the mountains have put the Ochoco and Crooked rivers on the boom and high water will probably be in vogue for the next few months. Work on the new bridge west of town has been delayed and the high water will keep the contractors from finishing the structure this winter.

Several Prineville turkeys have changed hands during the quiet and darkness of the past few evenings. Med Vanderpool and Postmaster Summers being among the losers. If we lived in certain sections in the south where the proverbial turkey stealing is part of the business such incidents would perhaps escape notice but in Prineville, where poverty is unknown, such depredations are unwarranted.

Frank Glass was over from Deschutes the fore part of the week. Mr. Glass who has been superintending construction work on the Deschutes Reclamation company's canals, stated that they had practically doubled the size of the canals from the flume to Benham's place a distance of eight miles. With another side board on the flume the quantity of water will be twice what it is now. He says that next spring will see considerable irrigating done on the lands under the canals.

The board of directors of the Athletic Association held its regular meeting Saturday to consider the bond proposition and transact other business matters. The committee having the bonds in charge reported a disposal of all of them to over 60 members of the club. The showing is a good one and assures the necessary amount of enthusiasm to keep the association in good working order. The directors also took up the matter of pins and pennants and it is probable that the club rooms as soon as completed will be decorated with an attractive assortment of stringers made pleasing to the eye with the club's colors.

E. H. Sparks was over from Sisters Monday attending to business matters.

W. M. Jamison was in the city from Grizzly yesterday making final proof on his homestead.

George Wright returned home this week from Washington where he has been spending the summer.

Otto Gray left Wednesday morning for Post to spend Thanksgiving with his father, J. H. Gray.

Superintendent Beegh left Monday for Portland to attend a fall brother W. J. Ellison, who is seriously ill with pneumonia.

George Beldent was in the city Wednesday on his way to Portland where he will spend the next week transacting business.

Dr. J. H. Rosenberg left Monday for Paulina to attend A. J. Noble's mother who has been seriously sick for the past week.

Harry Harkeman of Effe returned Monday from a few weeks visit to Portland. He will spend Thanksgiving in our city.

George O'Neil and wife returned the first of the week from Deschutes where they have been visiting with Mr. and Mrs. W. H. Staats.

Nick Smith was in the city Monday on his way to Deschutes from Portland where he has been looking after business matters for the past three weeks.

Mrs. Ed. Hafferty, who has been a resident of Silver Lake for four months past awaiting her timber claim proof, passed through the city Tuesday en route to her home in Minnesota.

B. C. Low was in the city from Lytle Wednesday buying provisions for his general merchandise store. He says business over on the Deschutes is steadily increasing and that indications point toward considerable building activity in the spring.

The Portland Journal's rainbow edition gotten out last Saturday was probably the finest piece of color work ever produced on the coast. The work in producing such effects is only in line, however, with that paper's recent progressive strides.

A party of you g people carried out a pleasant surprise on Box. O. W. Triplett at the hospital parsonage Saturday night. An enjoyable evening was spent and the minister extends his thanks for the many toothsome "pounds" presented him.

Al Nichols returned Tuesday from the Lookout mountain district where he has been doing assessment work on some mining claims. He says the snow there is waist deep and that it is likely to be late in the spring before the ground is clear.

The outside work on the Athletic club's building is rapidly nearing completion and work on the interior and arranging the gymnasium apparatus will soon be under way. Judging from present appearances, the building when finished will be one of the finest in the interior part of the state.

Excavating work for the basement of the new Presbyterian church was completed this week and the masons are getting ready to commence building the foundation. It is expected that construction work on the building itself will commence in a few weeks.

County Clerk J. J. Smith stated Tuesday that he had cancelled more mortgages during the past fall months, than during any like period of his four years services. It is also probable that the number of mortgages paid this fall has never been exceeded in the county's history. This is a fair index to our county finances, and while the slump in stock prices have been demoralizing they have not been sufficiently so to cause any marked depression to financial affairs.

Crook County is Still Pretty Good.

In a recent interview with parties returning from the Elberta Country in Canada, a Journal representative learns that praise of that country is not at all universal. Some who have engaged in business there deplore their move and these returning parties claim that many more are anxious to sell and move to a warmer climate. Blizzards and extreme cold detract a good deal from a new country's attractions. Just now while we're having beautiful weather Elberta is being treated to a temperature of several degrees below zero.

Notice.

Notice is hereby given that we have purchased the equip and equipments of C. A. Patterson at Lookout mountain and are now prepared to do assessment work on mining claims in that district either before or after January 1. Persons desiring assessment work done leave word at Templeton's drug store with J. F. Spinning.

CADY & CRABTREE.

The Masons Have One, Too.

Prineville Masons have recently purchased a Pianola. It comes from Ebers Piano House, Portland, which is sole Northwest agent for it. This enterprising concern is selling Pianolas as fast as they are received from the factory and say the only difficulty they have in handling this branch of their big business, is to get the Pianolas as fast as they are wanted.

The Pianola is the only perfect device for playing the piano. But so perfectly can it be made to play it, that the most discriminating ear cannot distinguish its playing from that of the personal player. It is found in cultured homes the world over and also in the palaces of the crowned heads of nearly every civilized country. To state that it is popular in America is putting it mildly. An air can be played, which includes everybody, of course, delight in the possession of this clever little instrument. It is to be found in homes, clubs and lodges throughout this broad land, and is the means of more culture and pleasure than any other single instrument. It can be adjusted to any piano, any composition can be played with it and by any person, absolutely no knowledge of music being necessary. We can therefore, predict for the Masons here an inexhaustible fund of satisfaction and pleasure in their Pianola.

Geological Surveyors Reach Prineville.

A party of United States Geological surveyors reached the city Monday after closing their winter's work about 18 miles south east of the city. In the party were A. D. Patterson, E. B. Kerns and Ray Feyord.

The crew started from Huntington in June and has been working westward since that time along a line run several years ago from the former point to Astoria. The work this year has been confined to chinking up on this old line which will be used when completed as a base from which to make the government maps of the state. The work will be resumed again in the spring and it is expected will be completed next summer.

The highest point reached so far in the level is the summit of Buck mountain with an altitude of 5427 feet. An aneroid measurement gives the altitude of Prineville at the Poindexter hotel 2746 feet.

FROM SOUTH AFRICA.

New Way of Using Chamberlain's Cough Remedy.

Mr. Arthur Chapman writing from Durban, Natal, South Africa says: "As a proof that Chamberlain's Cough Remedy is a cure suitable for old and young, I pen you the following: A neighbor of mine had a child just over two months old. It had a very bad cough and the parents did not know what to give it. I suggested that if they would get a bottle of Chamberlain's Cough Remedy and put some upon the dummy teat the baby was sucking it would no doubt cure the child. This they did and brought about a quick relief and cured the baby." This remedy is for sale by all druggists.

Married.

John Peck to Miss Pearl Tucker at the home of the bride's parents at Culver, Nov. 4.

The wedding was a quiet one only the relatives of the couple being present. The ceremony was performed by Rev. E. M. Mortimore of Madras after which a luncheon was served.
