Ice Cream Soda

Also Ice Cream, Plain Soda, Crushed Fruit and other soft drinks can be had at D. P. ADAMSON'S.

Wm. Arnold sold his ranch at Squaw creek last week to Dr. M. Y. Turley and Merrill Van Tassel, of Weston, and Charles Gist, Ukiah, the consideration being $5000. The sale includes an interest in the irrigation ditch in that section. The new owners of the ranch have moved onto the property and will use it for raising stock.

City treasurer McCulloch has finished his April report of the city's finances which will be submitted at the next meeting of the council on the second Monday in June. The report shows the total amount of cash on hand to be $452.30 of which $91.35 remains in the road fund; $298 in the interest fund, and $60.65 in the general fund.

Rosee Knox was down from his ranch at Post Monday. Mr. Knox says the range situation in that part of the county is not quite as peaceful as it might be, but he looks for an amicable adjustment of matters this year. Mr. Knox is running a large band of sheep this year and says his increase amounted to about 75 per cent during the lambing season.

B. F. Jones returned Sunday from Silver Lake where he went to purchase the freight team belonging to the J. C. Cona estate. Fourteen mules and horses were bought by him for $11200. The team is a consideration being $1200. The team is one which has always attracted considerable attention when it passed through town and is one of the best in the country.

Justice of the Peace J. L. Luckey met with a painful accident last week which fortunately will not prove serious. He was standing on the top rung of a ladder in the barn when one of the sides gave way throwing him a considerable distance to the ground. An examination by Dr. Rosenberg showed that one of the ribs had been torn loose from the spine. Mr. Luckey is able to be around although suffering a great deal from the injury.

A. W. Boyce was in the city the last of the week from the Haystack district. Mr. Boyce stated that the residents in the vicinity of Madras are getting up a remonstrance against the discontinuance of the daily mail service between that point and Grizzly. He says that to do away with the daily service between the latter place and Haystack would shut off the Madras district from a daily mail service, a condition which the people of that community do not look upon with favor.

Writing to a friend in Portland from St. Louis, a visitor to the fair says: "Our state is certainly well represented. It took me an entire day to find the pigeon hole erected in a selected spot. I was very much disappointed when I beheld the log cabin in which are our exhibits. It is not in the least a good type of state building nor is the exhibit of Oregon's industries placed before the world in a fair light. I am afraid to admit that I am a resident of Oregon, as people might say to me: 'Go way back and sit down.'—The Dalles Chronicle.

J. E. Roberts and wife were in the city this week from their Crooked river ranch visiting.

J. H. Helfrich was in the city this week from Lamonta attending business matters.

Orin Price, formerly of this city, is here from Moscow, Idaho, to spend a short time visiting with relatives.

M. B. Bliggs and wife spent several days at Bend last week, where the Judge was busy with his political lenses.

Mrs. Charles Lytle left yesterday noon for Portland where she will spend the summer visiting with friends and relatives. She took with her little Hortense Day whose mother is so seriously ill in the hospital there.

Harry King, Kelly Duncan and two more of Grass Valley's crack fishermen were in the city Sunday on their way to the Deschutes for a week's fishing trip. The boys were well supplied with the necessary apparatus to capture the speckled beauties and expect to break all previous records.

Construction work is being pushed along pretty lively on the line of the first Southern railroad. Three miles of the grading have been completed ready to receive the ties. About 100 men are employed. Representatives of the company state that work will be running into Bend in time to move this year's crop.—Dales Mountaineer.

D. P. Adamson has just installed a new soda water fountain in his drug store which is the finest in the city. He is making arrangements to serve all kinds of sodas during the hot weather and should enjoy a liberal patronage.

Work on the new High school building is being pushed as rapidly as possible and the work on the upper part of the structure will begin in a short time. A force of men will start in the first of next week burning brick which the masons will be ready to use by that time.

The tennis courts at the Athletic building will be laid out this week and it is expected will be in shape to play on within a few days. This is the first time that suitable grounds have been at the disposal of tennis players in the history of the city and crowded courts will probably show appreciation of the fact.

The baseball team cleared enough money at the dance given last Friday night to pay for the material now being used, besides leaving about $20 on hand. The dance was well attended over eighty tickets being sold. It is probable that the money in the treasury will be used in fixing up the local grounds. The latter needs leveling and a backstop will have to be built and bases supplied.

Complaint having been made that the Great Southern railroad was encroaching on the county road at Five Mile, Judge Blakeley sent Sheriff Sexton out to look into the matter yesterday. He discovered that their grade as surveyed between the Floyd and Linton places passed through the county road for a distance of about a half a mile. Mr. Sexton brought in his report and Commissioner Harriman will make further investigation, when the court will act in the matter.—Dales Chronicle.

The Dalles Mountaineer of the 29th contains an article telling of a mob in this city being formed and led by "one of the oldest and most law-abiding citizens in the community" which was bent upon lynching General Price. The article also conveys the information that Sheriff Smith held his ground, fought the mob back, and refused to give up the prisoner. There is no question but that Sheriff Smith would have done exactly as the Mountaineer says he did had the incident taken place, but the whole story is a "jibe-dream," the result of someone's extremely fertile imagination.

The members of the local Editorial association were the guests of D. G. Rogers Wednesday noon at an informal dinner given them. The scribes "fell to" with the same avidity which characterizes their wielding of the pen and at the conclusion of the elaborate spread were too full for utterance to even express their thanks to the genial host. Later in the afternoon resolutions of thanks were adopted, inscribed on cards and posted on the walls of the newspaper offices. The inscription reads: "Ma does the cooking here, but that was the first square meal we've had in ten months."

BARGAIN SALE

The Salomon Estate has Three Rakes, Two Gang Plows and one Harrow, which are to be sold at a bargain. Inquire of Bob Moore at Blacksmith Shop.
Naomi Saloman, Executrix.

Four little arkins started a fire on the north bank of the Ochoce just east of the brewery Tuesday afternoon and were preparing to manufacture some well seasoned sausages when the wind rose suddenly and gave their fire an impetus which threatened a conflagration considerably bigger than themselves. Four badly scared youngsters immediately resolved themselves into a volunteer fire department to extinguish the flames which were beginning to lick up the dry grass. The delicately molded sausages were the first to strike the flames, then a bucket brigade, from which the local department could have taken some valuable pointers, was organized and four pairs of short legs worked with lightning rapidity carrying tomato cans full of water from the Ochoce to the James. Half a dozen times two or three of the amateur fire fighters stood on their head while scrambling down the bank of the stream, but visions of the city jail kept them working like beavers until the fire was put out. Then the crowd watching them from the bridge gave a cheer and the youngsters doled their caps as if they had just performed a deed of heroism.

Prineville Plays Bend Next Sunday.

The challenge sent out to Bend last week by the local ball tossers has been accepted and the Prineville team will leave here next Sunday morning to play a match game at Bend in the afternoon. The game will be called at 2 o'clock the local team returning the same day. The line-up of the Prineville team will be as follows:

Rosenberg, Constable, Jordan, Bailey, Smith, Booth, Burns, Gray, Henry, Smith, Stefa, Feaks and Foster.

BORN
In this city, Tuesday, May 21, to the wife of Jas. S. Kelley, an eight-pound girl.

Two Marriage Stories.

Speaking of wedding happenings, a story is told on a well known Mill creek rancher who added a blushing bride to his happy home a few years ago. In the process a Prineville clergyman was employed who tied the knot in due form, and expectantly awaited his fee. This was forthcoming in the shape of a ten dollar bill which was quietly thrust in a capacious pocket and its receipt was the signal for the clergyman's departure. Before he had reached the gate, however, he was interrupted with the exclamation: "Hold on that you son of a gun I've got a five dollar draw down coming, hain't I?" and the minister's vision of wealth was cut in two.

Still another story of more recent date was when a popular young couple of this city approached the hymeneal altar, the minister's query brought the young groom to a sudden realization of the fact that he had secretly locked his wedding license in a larger proof trunk some mile and a half from the scene of operations. This had been done immediately after its purchase—just to be safe, you know—and it required the despatch of a boy on a bicycle and a half hour's wait to rectify the bridegroom's mistake.

MARRIED

In this city, Monday, May 21, Miss Iva McCallister to Stephen A. D. Balch, the Rev. O. W. Triplett officiating. Mr. and Mrs. Balch left the same day for Independence where they will make their future home.

Registration Books Close.

Out of the 24 precincts in the county eight of them registered a larger number of voters than were on the books two years ago. The most noticeable are Bend and Ketchikan precincts where the registration runs nearly four times over that of 1902. Prineville shows a few less, but the vote this year will be considerably heavier than in the last election. Out at Bend it is expected that at least 150 votes will be polled, while in 1902 only 30 were cast. This precinct together with the Ketchikan and Haystack precincts are the three in which the immigration has been the heaviest and the increase in registration shows plainly how rapidly the population is increasing. The registration books were closed last Saturday night and the County Clerk is busy this week getting the ballots sent off to the different polling places.
