

LOCAL MENTION

Miss Ella Dohds and Miss Evelyn Lippman left last week for Deschutes for a short outing.

Miss Hattie Quinn, of Grizzly, was visiting friends in the city the first part of this week.

J. F. Taylor was in from his sheep ranch in the Haystack section Tuesday.

Austin Kizer, of Bear Creek, was visiting in town this week.

J. B. Corbett, of Summit Prairie, is in the city transacting business matters.

J. K. McMeen and wife, of Lamonta, were in the city this week on a brief visit.

Jack Stroud was in the city from his Lamonta ranch Tuesday getting the election returns.

BASEBALL, BASKETBALL, Baseball, Sunday, June 12th. Bend vs. Prineville. Game called at 2 p. m. Come all of you and see the boys play ball.

S. S. Stearns and family and Miss Nellie Day left Wednesday for Mr. Stearns' ranch on Crooked river where they will reside this summer.

Mrs. G. T. Mann, who has been seriously sick for the past week, was worse yesterday and it is not believed that she can live.

Mrs. M. B. Bligg and Mrs. A. Thomson will entertain the members of the Ladies Aid society this afternoon on the lawn at the hotel.

H. J. Healy was in the city Tuesday from Haystack to attend to business matters and learn the results of the election.

E. H. Sparks came over from Sisters the first of the week to spend a few days transacting business matters.

J. F. Morris was in Bend several days during the past week attending to business matters.

Mrs. J. B. Henderson returned last Sunday from a six weeks visit with her daughter in Portland.

G. W. Springer was in the city from Culver Tuesday getting the election returns and attending to business matters.

M. R. Elliott left this week for Portland where he expects to remain for a week or ten days attending to business matters.

Miss Iva Booth left this week for The Dalles where she will spend the next two months visiting with relatives.

Mrs. C. I. Winick and daughter left last week for Astoria where Mrs. Winick's father is quite seriously ill.

J. C. Turney came in from Portland the last of the week. He left Monday for the Silver Lake district to look after land matters in that vicinity.

The Rev. O. W. Triplett will hold services at Sisters at 11 a. m. the first Sunday in July and will preach at Bend in the evening of the same day.

Ralph Fortney was in the city from his Eagle Rock ranch Friday. He reports having finished shearing his sheep and the average clip will be about 8 pounds per head.

Rev. O. W. Triplett left Tuesday for Grass Valley where he goes to attend the Baptist association which will be held there yesterday and today.

Mrs. Eloise Hall, who has been visiting during the past two weeks with the family of her brother, Dr. J. H. Rowenberg, left last week for her home in Seattle, Wash.

E. H. Smith and wife returned Tuesday from their homestead on the Ochoco where they went last week to look after the garden prospects for this year.

L. S. Logan returned the first of the week from Portland where he has been spending the past month attending to business matters. He left Monday for his stock ranch at Crook.

J. R. Heath was in the city from Howard the last of the week. Mr. Heath is expecting his sister home from Appleton, Wis., in a short time to make final proof on a timber and stone claim.

Henry Smith left Monday for Bend where he goes to enter the engineering corps of the Deschutes Irrigation & Power company. He expects to be away for several weeks.

Allen & Lafollett last week finished shearing about 5000 head of sheep. Their clip this year has been heavy and has averaged between 10 and 12 pounds per head. In the neighborhood of 65,000 pounds is now held by the firm awaiting shipment.

KOLA CHERRY
An invigorating drink for Summer. It is something new in Prineville. D. P. ADAMSON Serves It.

Owing to the inability of the Haystack management to get the baseball players together on short notice, the game between that team and Prineville last Sunday was postponed. It is expected that arrangements can be made later on for a contest between the two sides.

Miss Nellie McDaniel left Tuesday for Grass Valley, where she goes as a delegate to the Middle Oregon Baptist association which meets there on the 9th of this month.

The Rev. and Mrs. Z. W. Combsford entertained a small company of young people at their home last Tuesday evening. A pleasant evening was spent in games and guessing contests after which light refreshments were served.

FOR SALE—We have on hand a large quantity of haled hay which will be disposed of at a reasonable price. Inquiry should be made at the Salomon blacksmith shop.

Mrs. NAOMI SALOMON.

The members of the Degree of Honor were entertained at the residence of Dr. and Mrs. H. P. Belknap last Tuesday evening. After the meeting of the lodge at which several new members were initiated, the party went to the Belknap home where games were played and refreshments served.

At the annual meeting of the Prineville Pine Company, No. 1 held in the council rooms last Monday evening the following officers were elected for the ensuing year: P. B. Douk, president; D. C. Gray, secretary; J. W. Bacon, treasurer; Harold Bahliwin, foreman; Samuel Martin Paderwickowski Bailey, first assistant foreman; Wernie Smith, second assistant foreman. Seven hundred dollars has been raised among the business men in town to purchase a chemical engine and it is expected that it will soon be here in readiness for the next fire.

Ice Cream Soda

Also Ice Cream, Plain Soda, Crushed Fruit and other soft drinks can be had at D. P. ADAMSON'S.

Farmers in all sections of the county have had reason to feel happy during the past ten days over the rains which have given crops a decided boost. The rain has been general and no portion of the county has been slighted. Ranchers state that the range is in better condition than it has been for years, the grass being green and abundant. The grain has also been given a fresh impetus and a big grain harvest is anticipated.

A relic of the Heppner flood was found near Lone one day last week which recalls vividly the horrors of that awful flood. In a beer bottle which was picked up was found a sheet of paper torn from a note book upon which was written the message: "The rider please tell my friends at Lewiston that I died happy, J. Louis." The bottle had been washed down to a ranch near Lone a distance of over 20 miles.

The Republicans who gathered together in a final rally last Thursday evening had an opportunity to hear a hair-raising and well spoken expounder of the principles of Republicanism. W. E. Guerting, Jr., who spoke for nearly an hour, is a republican first, last and always and his speech showed it from beginning to end. Mr. Guerting, who was prominent among the leaders in Ohio before taking up his residence in this county, has both the voice and language to sway his audience and he used them to good advantage.

The million pounds of wool were sold yesterday at Shaniko, at prices averaging better than 16 cents. The bidding was brisk and every clip offered was sold at a price at least two cents better than the sheepmen had expected for it. As a result of the sales yesterday, sheepmen of this vicinity are $49,000 better off than they thought they were, because the wool brought that much more than they expected for it. The highest price paid in twelve years was paid yesterday, and this a presidential year. C. P. L'Ren received 18 cents for his wool, his sheep being half-bred Lincolns. Thomas Bragan received the top price for Merino wool, 17 1/2 cents, and the B. S. & L. Company, Little McMeen and P. J. Walsh received 18 1/2 cents.—Astoria Herald.

In the demurrer to the complaint in the case of State of Oregon vs. J. H. Tate for condemning right of way for Dalles-Civilian canal, a decision was rendered by Judge Brudshaw today, and the demurrer overruled. The defendant, by his counsel, interposed a demurrer on the grounds that the State of Oregon was not such a direct party in interest in these proceedings for right of way for the United States canal, as to exercise the right of eminent domain. Further, counsel for defendant contended that the right was not asked by the legislative branch of the government, congress, but simply by a subordinate function of government—by the chief of engineers of the war department. It was argued that the request to be effective should have proceeded from the legislative branch of the United States government to the legislative branch of the state, and the grant, to be effectual, should be accepted by congress. These points were overruled, and it an appeal is not taken, the case will soon be at issue and ready for trial.—Dalles Chronicle.

J. H. Zevory, of Howard was in town Wednesday.

Mrs. Anderson and daughter, Lulu left Tuesday for Grass Valley, where they go to attend the Baptist Association.

The Marnell Company with 12 artists will open a week's engagement in this city commencing Monday night. This company is far superior to any other that has been in Prineville this season and is deserving of a liberal patronage.

R. F. Jones and Perry Read last week sold a bunch of 52 range horses to a representative of Thompson & Co., eastern horse buyers, for $12 per head. The price included all the horses in the band, the same sum being paid for each animal. The sale is a good one and Mr. Jones says from all indications the market will be good this year.

Stanton Black, of Ashwood was in the city Tuesday and Wednesday. He reports that a new vein of remarkable richness has been discovered in the Oregon King mine and that contrary to rumors the mine had not been sold. There was probably a deal on to sell the property but this was called off upon the discovery of the new vein.

Contrary to the religious precepts which the Rev. H. C. Clark preaches from the pulpit, he believes in "doing others as they do you," as is evidenced by a circumstance which happened only a short time ago. Mr. Clark was returning from the Rye Grass district, where he had been holding services, and was driving along the side of an irrigation ditch. Suddenly there was a loud splash of water and the team of horses plunged several times and finally broke one of the traces before the minister could quiet them. As soon as he had jumped from his buggy and the horses to a tree, and returning to the side of the ditch, where the disturbance had taken place, he saw a big jumper eel with such dexterity that a big six-foot hickshoon was soon lying on its back in the water. This unusual circumstance is accounted for by the fact that the water in the ditch was shallow and the minister had no trouble in locating the object of the horses' fight. The Rev. Clark denies strenuously that this is a fish story, and in corroboration offers testimony to the effect that he and Mrs. Clark have had fried salmon for breakfast several mornings during the past week.

Maury Items.

The first wool clip of the season passed by here May 26.

Mrs. Henry Cox is having a new house built in place of the one which was burned last week.

We got a fine thunder storm Tuesday commencing about 11 a. m. and continuing all day. It put a broad smile on the faces of the rye growers.

Some two weeks ago William Gilchrist, while working on his irrigating ditch, took the bridle of his team and turned them loose to get a little green grass. A few hours afterwards when he went to get them they were gone and he has never heard of them since. Mr. Gilchrist says in the future he will take the harness off his horses before turning them on the range.

The Maury Mountain saw mill is now in running order and will commence sawing about June 1. A full crew is to be employed and Mr. McMeekin intends to saw about 200,000 feet of lumber and then move his mill to a more desirable location. We regret to learn that the plant will be moved, as it will then be 45 miles to the nearest saw mill and lumber is needed in this district badly.

A few days ago one of the Maury saw mill men, we will not mention his name here, went out to kill a deer or anything else that was unfortunate enough to get in his way, as he had been telling the boys that he would shoot anything that moved. He hadn't gone far when he caught sight of a big buck deer at the foot of a cliff of rocks. He stood and watched the buck for a few seconds and then raising his gun to his shoulder let drive, knocking the deer down with the first shot. The deer had hardly fallen when a large panther sprang into view. Mr. Hunter, we will call the man, stood frozen to the ground for a minute, then dropping his gun he turned and fled to the mill as fast as his frightened legs would carry him. When one of the boys asked him what was the matter he was unable to speak for some little time, but finally made them understand what he had seen and where he had seen it. The boys looked wise, but went with him to the cliff. When they arrived there they found the buck just as he had fallen, but no sign of the panther could be seen. Mr. Hunter still declares he saw a panther as large as a cow but the boys only laugh. Since then he has nothing to say about shooting anything that moves.

Baseball Next Sunday.

The members of the local baseball team appeared in all the gorgeous colors of their new suits last Sunday at the practice game which was called short by a shower of rain in the second inning. The team is playing a good game of ball and a new player, who will add considerable strength to the infield, was signed last week. The Bend team has accepted a challenge for a match game next Sunday afternoon and the grounds will be placed in readiness for the contest. New lines have been made and a tacktop will be recast during the week, which will place the diamond in good condition for play.

Woman Walks 200 Miles.

Mrs. Elsie Hughes, who passed through Long Creek on Tuesday's stage from Monument, undoubtedly holds the record of Eastern Oregon, and probably of the entire west, for long distance walking. On last Sunday evening she arrived in Monument, having walked the entire distance from The Dalles to that place, a distance of about 200 miles, in 15 days, and carried her seven months' old baby in her arms.

Mrs. Hughes, who was living near The Dalles, was recently deserted by her husband, and concluded to return to her parents' home near Whitney in Baker county. Having no money with which to travel by rail, set out on foot, stopping at night at ranch houses along the way. When she arrived at Monument she was almost ill from over-exertion, and good people of that little town made up money enough to send her the remainder of her journey on the stage.—Long Creek Light.

Telephone Line Is Completed.

The last of the week the final connections were made between Prineville and Howard and way points on the new telephone line and people along the way can now tell their troubles to each other without going out of the house. Fourteen ranches between here and Howard are connected onto the main line and those who can be called from "central" are: Hawkins Bros., Jas. Wright, Clyde Hon, E. T. Slayton, Henry Gram, J. W. Elliott, W. F. Elliott, Henry Cadie, Chas. Lister, C. Sam Smith, Allen & Lafollett, Dillard Lowrey, J. H. Zevory and Mrs. Pen Blevins.

The new line marks the connecting link between Prineville and one of the richest strips of territory in the county, besides setting up communication through a district in which a large amount of business is being transacted. Postmaster Summers says he feels confident that the line will be one of the best paying in the country, and the mining operations especially in the vicinity of Howard will add considerably to the bulk of business which will be done by 'phone.

The Indian Voted.

Judge M. E. Brink was doing a little electioneering himself Monday morning. While standing on the sidewalk near the courthouse he got his eye fixed on a copper skinned Swash from the Agency whom he thought would be willing to vote about the way the Judge believed was right. So he touched the Indian on the shoulder and the conversation which was overheard by several bystanders is related this way:

"Well, my son, where are you from?"
"Agency."
"Going to vote today, my boy?"
"Yes."
"Are you right sure you know which men to vote for?" asked the Judge who was parrying in a legal way for a little elbow room.
"Yes," said his monosyllabic client whose face was as stolid as a brick wall.
"What's your business, my boy?"
"Banker."
"Banker!" said the Judge as he took a step backwards to keep from falling over.
"Yes."
"Where were you born?"
"Ireland," said the stolid copper-skinned and the by-standers snickered. And the Judge couldn't tell to save his collar button from scratching his neck who the joke was on or for whom the Indian afterwards voted.

Notice of Final Settlement.

In the matter of Frank Allison, deceased. Notice is hereby given that the undersigned, administrator of the estate of Frank Allison, deceased, has filed his final account as such administrator in the County Court of the State of Oregon, for Crook County, and that said Court has fixed Thursday June 20th, 1904, at 10 o'clock, A. M. for the hearing and final settlement of said account.

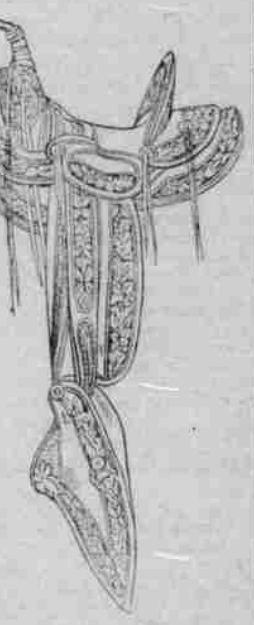

All persons are therefore notified to present their objections to said account, if any they have, at said time and place.
