B. V. Gierth, of the Deschutes Irrigation & Power company, came in from Portland Friday leaving the next day for Bend.

E. E. Winger, of Post, was in the city last week on a business trip. He reports stock in good condition in that part of the county, but says the fields and pastures are in need of rain.

J. C. Rush was in the city from Linnaiton the last of the week. Mr. Rush stated that the recent frosts have caused considerable damage to the crops in that section and that the grain has suffered a severe setback.

Work on the new Presbyterian church is progressing rapidly, the brick wall of the building having been completed early this week. The structure is now almost ready for the rustic siding and it is expected that the shingling will begin tomorrow or the day after.

Twenty-eight thousand pounds of wool belonging to W. B. Donahison of Grant county passed through the city Sunday on its way to the Shambaugh warehouse. The haul is a long one and the distance between the two points is almost as far from Silver Lake to the gifford. A clip of 10,000 pounds also came through the same day from Hugh Lister's ranch at Paulina.

Charles Lister claims the record for having raised the tallest alfalfa this year. He brought several stalks to the Journal office the last of the week which measure five feet and seven inches in height. They are from a crop produced on his ranch at the junction of Mill creek and the Ochoco. He says he would have let them grow taller but was fearful of passers by taking the field for a juniper forest.

The Ladies Aid Society of the First Presbyterian church met with Mrs. Z. W. Comerford last Thursday afternoon. There was a good attendance of the members present, and after the usual business meeting, guessing games were indulged in, refreshments of sherbet and cake were served. The society adjourned to meet the second Thursday in September, taking vacation during July and August.

Interest in the Lookout mining district does not seem to abate any. County clerk Smith has been busy the past week with quartz locations, eight of them being filed last Friday and Saturday. Locations are now being made a distance of a mile away from the original claimholder discoveries and it is expected the entire country from the abnathia to the Ochoco will have been staked before the summer is over.

Quite a large crowd assembled last Saturday night to witness a production of "Alabama" by the Marnell company, but there was trouble brewing back of the scenes and the announcement was made at curtain raising time that some other play besides the one scheduled would be presented. This announcement was followed in a few minutes by a second one stating that no play would be given and that the admission money would be given back. It is said that some of the actors became angry and refused to do their stunts before the footlights.

Trial of the case of the state vs. E. H. Taffs to condemn a right of way through Mr. Taffs' land for the ship canal has been set for July 5th. A motion for a continuance of the case until the water of the Columbia should fall to a stage where the jury could view the land to be condemned was argued before Judge Bradshaw today by S. H. Wilson for the defendant and District Attorney Murr for the state. The motion was overruled and the date of trial set for now stated.—Dillon Chronicle.

Mr. and Mrs. Ed Bradford contemplating moving from Prineville in a short time. Mr. Bradford's health which has been poorly for so many months is not greatly improved and a change of climate is made necessary. Mrs. Bradford intends to dispose of her millinery and dress goods stock as soon as possible and leave if possible before the hot weather is over.

A report, which originated somewhere on the Burns stage line, to the effect that stock trouble in the vicinity of Mitchell had led to another slaughter of sheep and the killing of a stockman, was circulated around town yesterday. The Journal was unable by diligent search to find any foundation for the rumors.

Hop and Mrs. J. S. Williamson and their youngest daughter, Miss Edna returned home from Washington D. C. yesterday morning. On their journey home toward the Williamson family visited the world's fair. Miss Jeanette and Katie stopped in Chicago to visit relatives and we understand that on their return the family will visit Prineville where they will spend the summer.—Dillon Chronicle.

Ed Crutcher left Tuesday for Summer Lake where he is locating settlers on homestead lands. He expects to be in that vicinity more or less during the entire summer.

John Lewis and wife, of Willow creek, were in the city Tuesday. Mr. Lewis says the grain in that section is much in need of a good rain and unless one is had that the yield will fall short this year.

L. Tillotson left Saturday for Portland expecting to return sometime in July to look after the mining property on Lookout mountain. His son, E. H. Tillotson, will remain here to superintend the development work which will be carried on through the summer.

P. W. Smith, of Crook, was in the city Wednesday attending to business matters. Mr. Smith is another of those ranchers in that part of the county not quite religious enough to pray for rain, but he wouldn't kick if his neighbor tried it successfully.

E. B. Meyer, of the firm of Meyer & Brown, of Upper Crooked river was in the city Tuesday and Wednesday. Mr. Meyer reports their cattle to be in first class condition and the outside range is good for this time of the year. The hay crop though will be short on account of cold weather.

Services at the Union church next Sunday morning and evening will be conducted by the pastor, Rev. Z. W. Comerford. In the morning the sacrament of the Lord's supper will be administered in the evening the regular preaching service. All are cordially invited to these services.

Knox Huston last week received from his son, Hasty, who is in Manila, a copy of a proclamation which was recently issued by the Civil Governor of the Islands. The text of the article is printed in the characters of the Moro language and is a collection of lines, verses and angles which would make a Chinese puzzle book.

Crooked All Around.
A teamster who was standing holding a handsome pair of heavy draught horses on the upper deck of a steamboat dock yesterday, waiting for his wagon to be pushed up the incline from a Dalles boat, while his wife and several chubby children stood outside the door till he should have hitched up the team, was asked what part of the country he came from. "I have been living in Crook County for the past year," was his reply, "but concluded to continue on my way till I reached Portland."

"Were you suited with Crook County?" "Well not exactly. I have been hauling ore from mines and doing general team-work, and have concluded from my experience that it is the crookedest place I have yet been in. The roads are crooked, the rivers are crooked, the climate is crooked, and there are a good many crooked people there. Why I have driven my team across a river twice and landed on the side I started from both times, and the town I lived in was called 'Bend.' And what do you propose to do here?" "Oh, any kind of teaming, hauling wood or building material, or lumber or anything." "You have a very fine pair of horses. Did you get them in Crook County?" "No, the horses raised there are about the crookedest things in the county. I brought my team and entire outfit from Illinois. The only product of Crook County I have is that baby, in my wife's arms, and he has a crooked ankle. The hope of getting it straightened for the little fellow was the child object of my moving to Portland.—Oregonian.

E. B. Carey writes from San Joaquin that he will leave there on the first of July to join his son Mark in Johannesburg, South Africa, where he will engage in business.

Edgar Stewart returned Sunday from Lawton where he spent the past few days attending to business matters.

Married.
John W. Demaris and Miss Minnie Birdsong were united in marriage at the home of the bride's parents on Johnson creek last Sunday. County Judge M. R. Biggs performed the ceremony. Only a small company of friends and relatives was present and the contracting couple were the recipients of many useful and pretty gifts.

Shearing Plant Gives Big Returns.
Some of the shearers have returned to this city from the Jenkins Ranch and state that the shearing plant has been shut down for the season. They report a very successful season and say the machines clipped more than 5,000 sheep in excess of last season.

As a general thing the wool this season is superior to former years, being cleaner and finer, although not weighing on an average as much as last year.—Burns Herald.

Haying Season Begins.
Ranchers in the northern part of the county in the vicinity of Hay creek last week began to harvest their hay crops and by this next week nearly every hay field will be ready for the mowers. From present indications the crop this year promises to be a heavy one although there is talk among the producers of asking $10 per ton for the yield.

The wet spring this year, together with frequent rains later in the season, has provided abundant range, and it is stated that the fact together with the promised heavy yield of hay will make up for the shortage which has existed during the past two years. The past season has also seen many more acres put into grain, the hay from which will also help to overcome the present stringent conditions.

Notice.
All horses branded on left shoulder with diamond, formerly belonging to Mrs. Hugh, are my property. Perry Reed is now gathering the bunch and any person knowing the whereabouts of these horses will kindly notify Mr. Reed or the undersigned.
