OFFICIAL PAPER OF GROOK COUNTY.

THURSDAY, APRIL 6, 1905.

The favorable action which the county court will take in the matter of building the new road through Hay Creek canyon, thus avoiding the long and energy destroying haul over McPherson hill, is commendable to say the least. The road is one which should have been built a matter of 25 years ago, but even at this late day the route will service its purpose, and to greater advantage because of the material increase during the past two years in travel and freight traffic. The estimate placed upon the total cost of constructing the road ranges between $3000 and $3500, and beyond doubt the entire expenditure would be counterbalanced each year in the saving in time and rates to all parts of the county. Hay Creek canyon offers a natural pass through which a road can be built on safe ground at a water level and now that the county court has viewed with its own eyes the proposed route and determined definitely the saving in time, labor and cost such a road would afford, it is to be hoped that little time will be lost in giving the whole county the benefit of the advantages offered by the undertaking.

The following card, sent out by a Detroit commercial club is worth reading and pasting in your hat. "If there is any chance to boom business, boom it. Don't pull a long face and look as though you had a sour stomach. Hold up your head, smile and look for better things. Hide your little hammer, and try to speak well of others no matter how small you really know yourself to be. When a stranger drops in, jolly him, tell him this is the greatest town on earth, and it is. Don't discourage him by speaking ill of your neighbors. Lead him to believe that he has at last struck a place where white people live. Don't knock. Help yourself along by becoming popular, and push your friends with you. It's dead easy. Be a good fellow, and soon you will have a procession of followers. No man ever helped himself knocking other people down in character and business. No man ever got rich by trying to make others believe he was the only man in town who knew anything. You can't climb the ladder of success by treading on other people's corns. Keep off the corns and don't knock."

The Portland Journal has chased the rainbow colors in which it is printed down the street, and the "old woman in the tower" will apply some to the faces of her own family, namely, the Evening Telegram. In fact one issue of the latter has already appeared in all the gorgeous array capable of being administered by a four decker, magazine supplement, Hoe perfecting press, and promise is given of more to come. So far, the prismatic colors of the Telegram are confined to its humorous supplement in Saturday evening's edition, but "colors run" and no doubt they will gradually work themselves around to the front pages. This, of course, will be a slow procedure, so the public will not gain the idea that the Telegram is aping the progressive style set by The Journal. But the change is coming. The garland of red will soon be a prominent feature of the old woman's twilight mouthpiece. The signs of the times all point that way. Even the old woman herself may succumb later on to the same style to keep from losing ground.

The town of Waycross, Georgia claims to have solved the liquor problem without resorting to prohibition or local option. The city council has passed an ordinance fixing the liquor license fee at $30,000 a year, thus making Waycross undoubtedly the highest licensed town in the country. Nineteen years ago the campaign for high license started and the fee was fixed at $10,000, which was considered a prohibitive price, but a merchant raised the money, took a license and made a fortune, retiring last year, and now the council has fixed the fee at $30,000, which it is believed no one will be able to pay.

Chicago has just gone through another of its paradoxical performances by giving Judge Dunne, the democratic nominee for Mayor, a plurality of over 24,000 votes in the city election of last Tuesday. If Roosevelt were to be elected tomorrow, the same city would probably give him as large a plurality as it has Dunne.

There is no occasion to pull the wool over anyone's eyes regarding prosperous conditions in Crook county when shorn sheep sell for $2.90 per head.

A man named Job was registered at one of the hotels last week. He's a boiler maker and hails from Palestine, Arizona.

Portland made a good beginning with its ball team, but it was just the start before the slide down the toboggan began.

No one was heard to remark last week that the March lion had hibernated. He hasn't got through roaring yet.

The Bend Bulletin is building another railroad. Auto be satisfied without a railroad.

But there aren't many of the hens working over time on account of Easter's approach.

WILLIAMSON & GESNER SELL SHEEP AT RECORD BREAKING FIGURES

At an advance of 40 cents per head over any price paid this year, Williamson and Gesner sold to Ketchum of The Dalles yesterday over 3000 head of sheep at the high price of $2.90. This is a record breaking figure and is the highest paid for sheep in this county for several years.

The hand turned off is made up of two, three and four-year-olds and they will be delivered to the purchaser some place in the vicinity of Antelope about May 20 after they have been sheared. With wool at the same price as secured by Williamson and Gesner last year for their clip, this band will in reality net the firm a figure between $4.25 and $4.50 per head.

The sale completed yesterday was the last and best deal of the many which have been made in this vicinity during the past fortnight. J. N. Burgess, who is buying for B. F. Sanders of Salt Lake, purchased about 12,000 head while here last week, the sellers being Wurzwel & Thomson, M. C. Nye, Morrow & Keenan, C. W. Colby, J. E. Roberts and N. F. McCoin. These bands purchased were composed of yearlings and two-year-olds, and the prices ranged from $2 to $2.50.

Additional Locals

Roy Price is in the city from his ranch at Post.

Ernest Starr returned this week from a trip to Portland where he has been visiting for some time past.

Rev. J. A. Mitchell will preach in the Union church next Sunday. His subject for 11 a. m., "Forgiveness," and for the evening "Come." The sacrament of the Lord's Supper will be observed after the morning services.

Soon after Dr. Edwards was injured yesterday morning by a vicious kick from a horse, Dr. Rosenber's team became frightened when in front of E. H. Smith's harness shop and only by a very narrow margin was the occupant of the buggy saved from injuries in a runaway accident.

B. F. Johnson returned this week from Westfall, Malheur county, where Mr. Johnson went last fall to winter a herd of cattle.

The summer weather during the last of February and the first ten days of March brought disastrous results to the McCallister fruit ranch at the Cove. The warm weather brought out the buds on the peach trees and then a sudden change to cold, frosty nights put the finishing touches on this year's crop of peaches. Mr. McCallister expresses the belief that he will secure but very little fruit from the peach trees this season. Some of the other hardier fruits were also damaged.

Wool at 16 and half Cents.

During the past week Bailey & Massingill have contracted about 120,000 pounds of Lake county wool at 16 1/2 cents per pound. This now leaves in Lake county about 100,000 pounds of wool that has not been sold and it is expected that this will be sold in the next few weeks.

The early sales of the wool means that the busy season should open up earlier in Lake county this year than it has for several years past, as the money will come into the hands of the wool growers a few months earlier than usual.

There should be busy times in Lake county this year. The wool has been sold at a good price and indications for a good grain crop are now bright indeed.—Lakeview Herald.

Another Percheron Horse Brought Here.

T. J. Ferguson returned Sunday from Lincoln, Nebraska, where he went about a month ago to purchase a Percheron stallion from Watson, Wood Bros. & Kelley Company, a firm which handles nothing but imported stock.

The animal which Mr. Ferguson brought back with him is a 3-year-old, and weighed 1630 pounds at the time of purchase. He is a well proportioned and well built animal and has been on American soil only a few months, having been imported from France in January last.

This is the second Percheron to come to Crook county this year and speaks well for the enterprise displayed by those who are interested and anxious that a better grade of stock be raised. It will not be long under existing conditions before Crook county will be noted for its fine breed of horses. The Percheron owned by C. W. Foster and O'Neil Brothers is a year older than Mr. Ferguson's horse and came here from Iowa.

Annex Elects Officers.

The members of the Ladies' Annex elected officers at their regular meeting last Tuesday afternoon as follows: Mrs. M. E. Brink, president; Mrs. Isadore Michel, vice president; Mrs. C. L. Winnek, secretary; Mrs. Fred Wilson, treasurer.

Plans have been set on foot by the members of the Annex to give a concert program and a one-act farce about the last of this month, the proceeds from which will be used in fitting up a dining room on the first floor of the club building.

The report of the treasurer Tuesday on the financial status of the organization showed that $186 had been taken in during the past year, and a balance of $86 remained on hand. Ten dollars was subscribed for magazine subscriptions for the coming year.

At the present time there are 67 members of the club in good standing and it is believed that in a short time the memberships will be increased to 100.

Base Ball Next Sunday.

The local base ball season will open next Sunday without fail unless Jupiter Pluvius takes a notion in his head to send down torrents of rain, in which event the game may be turned into an indoor contest.

The Bend team will be here ready for the contest and the local club is ready and waiting for the initial crossing of bats. The line up will be practically the same as published last week and the game will be played on the new diamond at the Fair Association grounds. Both teams will appear in new suits and the fact has inspired confidence in the Bend team to the extent that the members and accompanying rooters will wager the contents of their pocket books that the Deschutes river aggregation will carry off the palm.

Ford and Bailey will play the puzzle stunt between pitcher's box and backstop for the locals, and Blyen and Weider will endeavor to convince the home team that it knows nothing at all about the batting.

With a clear day and the weather of the kind that good loyal ball fans pray for, a large crowd will witness the opening game of the season. An admission of 25 cents will be charged.

Then, the question is:

Don't you think the paper with decidedly the greatest bona fide circulation can give a business more ginger than and indolent medium could? Look up this matter and you will find that The Journal can give you the best returns for the money invested than any other paper in Crook County.
