Hugh Lister is down from the Paulina ranch. His brother, Joe, is improving slowly and will be moved to the city this week where closer medical attention can be given him.

Ernest Priddy has disposed of his interest in the cattle firm of Priddy Brothers at Cross Keys and will locate at some other point in Crook county this spring.

W. F. Hammer was in the city from his ranch at Haystack Saturday. He says everyone is busy in that section this spring putting in a larger acreage of grain.

John Combs returned Saturday morning from a three months business visit in San Francisco and California points. While away he spent considerable time inspecting the cinabar mines in California.

Henry Smith was over from Bend last week. He has been on the engineering crew since last fall and left last Saturday for Spokane where he joins the surveying crew at work on a railroad extension between there and Lewiston.

The warm rains last week caused general rejoicing among the farmers. Parties from the Agency Plains country, who were in the city at the time, said it was raining dollars as would be evidenced next fall when the season's grain crop was delivered.

Saturday was the last day during which tax payers could look Sheriff Smith in the eye and grin at the fact that no penalty or interest was attached to their tax accounts. On Monday, April 3, all taxes, save those paid either wholly or in part, became delinquent. Henceforth a penalty of 10 per cent and interest at the rate of 12 per cent will be the "White Man's Burden," including all colors, races and creeds.

Frank Wright, the young horse rustler arrested on a warrant sworn out by John Hunsaker, was given a hearing before Justice Luckey Saturday. He was bound over to the grand jury, his bonds being placed at $1000.

J. N. Hammond was over from Cline Falls yesterday. He stated that the Central Oregon Transportation Company's automobile was due in Shaniko today, and would make its trial spin on the new road bed about next week.

Steel & Freeland's moving picture concert entertained crowded houses both nights of its stand here this week. The show was billed as the best of its kind on the circuit, and those who attended were not in the least disappointed.

Dr. Edwards met with an unfortunate accident Wednesday morning. While hitching one of his horses to the buggy the animal kicked him in the face, the iron shoe fracturing his nose. Dr. Belknap set the broken bones and dressed the wounds which will leave ugly marks for some time to come.

Henry Whitsett has resigned his position as night engineer at the power house and has rented the L. L. Kotelman and C. M. Zell ranches on Crooked river below the city. Mr. Whitsett and wife moved out to the latter place the first of the week where they will make their residence.

Sheep-buyers are still scouring this section of country for sheep, but very few that were for sale remain unsold. The prices for yearlings were $2 and $2.25, and two-year-olds brought about $2.50 and at these prices sheepmen have sold down pretty closely. Practically all of the yearling wethers in the country were sold for shipment.—Ashwood Prospector.

E. G. Bolter and daughter-in-law Mrs. J. G. Bolter, of Cross Keys, who have been visiting in the city the past week left Saturday for their homes. Mr. Bolter was here looking after stock matters. He has a contract to furnish two head of cattle at Madras and one at the Columbia Southern hotel in Shaniko each week during this spring and early summer.

A large crowd attended the baseball game given in Athletic hall last Friday evening. Every number on the program was thoroughly enjoyed and the excellent music furnished by the orchestra went a long way towards making the evening a pleasant one throughout. The proceeds will be used in supplying material for the team.

The annual election of officers of the Athletic Club will be held this evening at 8 o'clock. The regular election was scheduled for last Monday evening, but owing to the fact that a concert was to be given that evening in the club building, a quorum could not be gathered in time to transact the business of the meeting. Besides the election, several other matters of importance will come up to-night.

Carey Foster's unique scheme of irrigating his ranch south of the city by the aid of a gasoline engine and pump, has attracted the attention of the Irrigation Age, a monthly publication of Chicago, devoted to the irrigation developments in the west. The editor of the magazine has written to Mr. Foster asking him for a detailed account of his project and several photographs with which to illustrate the article.

Since last Thursday workmen have been engaged near Cello in moving 4000 feet of the O. R. & N. track for a distance of about fifteen feet at the most toward the south, to make room for the portage road. Previous to this about 1000 feet has been moved near the mess house. These are the only places where the portage enoches on the O. R. & N. territory so as to demand a change in its track.—Dalles Chronicle.

Two diminutive specimens of humanity thrust their heads up to the post office window yesterday morning and inquired for the mail. Mrs. Summers handed the larger of the two a long package. "Let's see it," said the smaller archer, as he made a grab for the parcel. "Sit," said the other, "you don't get a look in on this, it's Mamma's new corset and she don't want anyone to know she's got it."

Mr. Thron Thronson left for La Grande on Tuesday to visit his brother, J. A. Thronson, who is proprietor of the La Grande electric light works. He reports that Eastern capitalists have become interested in the Mayflower mine, and about the first of April a representative is expected to go to the mine on an inspection tour, and if satisfied it is more than probable that capital will be invested and extensive development work will be done this summer. Owing to the light fall of snow during the past winter, the length of the run on the plunger ground will be materially reduced for lack of water, but he expects to open the eyes of the doubters wide open, if he can run only thirty days.—Dayton (Washington) Courier.

The seventeen who appeared in the cast of characters in "The Uster," the High School play given in Athletic hall last Saturday night, entertained a large audience during two hours of merriment. The play generally was a pleasant surprise to those who attended and furnished no little amusement during the three acts. The various character roles were well taken and not a few laughable climaxes were enjoyed. The proceeds amounting to over $90, will net the High School a little in excess of $60.

W. A. Robinson, assistant superintendent of the registry system, was in the city Friday and Saturday last week, checking up the business at the post-office and giving instructions from the post-office department. He called attention while here to a recent order from the postal department relative to registered letters and packages and the restrictions which had been placed upon the handling of them. The refusal in the future of Postmaster Summers to deliver such mail matter to any save the right person will not be contrariness or an indisposition to be accommodating, but a simple matter of obeying orders from headquarters.

Hon. Tim Kinney, of Rock Springs Wyoming, was in town last Friday, on his way home from Muddy, where he spent two days looking over the property of the Prineville Land & Livestock Co. Mr. Kinney is one of the best known stockmen in the United States, and has been one of the largest individual owners of sheep, but at this time he is almost out of the sheep business, according to his own statement, as he only has about forty thousand ewes upon his range. Two years ago he sold 150,000 sheep at one time. He was accompanied as far as Shaniko by T. F. Boylen, superintendent of the Muddy Company.—Antelope Herald.

A Chicago Alderman Over His Election to Chamberlain's Cough Remedy.

"I can heartily and conscientiously recommend Chamberlain's Cough Remedy for afflictions of the throat and lungs," says Hon. John Shellen, 220 So. Florida St., Chicago. "Two years ago during a political campaign I caught cold after being over-heated, which irritated my throat and I was finally compelled to stop, as I could not speak aloud. In my extremity a friend advised me to use Chamberlain's Cough Remedy. I took two doses that afternoon and could not believe my senses when I found the next morning the inflammation had largely subsided. I took several doses that day, kept right on talking through the campaign, and I think this medicine that I won my seat in the Council." This remedy is for sale by D. P. Adamson & Co.
