

DISUSE OF WHIPPING-POST.

Old-Fashioned Manner of Punishment Is Rapidly Going Out of Date.

Notwithstanding the advocacy now and then of the rehabilitation of the whipping post, that form of punishment is losing, rather than gaining ground in civilized countries. It is now inflicted in England and in only a few of the continental countries of Europe. In the United States it is used only in Delaware and Maryland. And perhaps it still obtains to some extent in Australia. The punishment is not inflicted upon women in England, Delaware or Maryland. In England there is an increasing reluctance on the part of the judges to inflict the punishment. A late return shows that in 16 cases in 1903. Seven of these sentences were passed at the central criminal court, five by Judge Rentoul, and two by the common sergeant. It is interesting to notice that Mr. Justice Willis, Mr. Justice Lawrence and Mr. Justice Darling are the only three high court judges who ordered the use of the "cat." Flogging has been practically discarded in English convict prisons as a means of prison discipline, and a few years ago a bill to extend the whipping post to a number of offenses not punishable in that manner was refused a second reading by the decisive vote of 196 to 72.

WHY GLASSES ARE NEEDED

They Do the Focusing for the Tired Muscles of the Eye Thus Saving That Work.

"Old age doesn't affect the sight exactly," said an oculist. "It affects certain sight muscles. An old man, for instance, can sit down the same as a young man, but he sits down slowly and stiffly, because his sitting-down muscles are no longer supple. So it is with an old man's eyes. They see quite as well as a young man's, but the muscles that do the focusing—the muscles, that is to say, that alter the degree of convexity of the crystalline lens—are hardened and don't work well. The strain that the managing of these muscles demands of an old man gives him a headache. Hence he adopts glasses, which do his focusing for him—one pair focusing for reading, another pair focusing for long distances. Old age glasses don't actually improve the sight. They only take the place of certain muscles that age has stiffened. They don't even do that, though, unless they are cleaned frequently. Glasses should be kept perfectly clean—should be cleaned when in use once an hour, with a silk handkerchief, never with a linen one."

WEATHER AND TORPEDO.

Deadly Instrument of War That Depends Solely Upon the Change of Atmosphere.

An invention which, if the weather be in its favor, is extremely deadly is the dirigible torpedo, controlled by wireless electricity from ship or shore by means of Everybody's Magazine. It is merely the ordinary torpedo, loaded with its big charge of gun cotton and a fring pin in the head to explode the torpedo when it strikes, fitted with double rudders, one of horizontal blade to steer up or down, one of vertical to steer right or left; a storage battery for ordinary use and propulsion, a wireless current transmitter and motor for dirigible propulsion, and an elevated tube to discharge a small jet of sea water forced through it by an electrical pump. An observer completely sheltered behind earthenworks, could send out such a torpedo from shore, make it go miles out to sea, wait for a battleship of the enemy, swim around it, dive under it, and with certainty ram its armored bottom with the fring-pin head. One such station could defend the Sandy Hook entrance to New York harbor, if the weather were always good.

CORN IS ITALY'S STAPLE.

Cereal Fills the Same Place That Wheat and Potatoes Do in This Country.

Corn is a staple article of food in Italy and Servia. It takes the place of wheat and potatoes in this country. Cornmeal mush, known in Italy as polenta, is the principal diet of the peasants. Corn bread and mush are also used in Servia, says Medical Talk. It is used in the United States among the poor people as Johnny-cake, hoe-cake and the like, as is well known. In this form the whole grain is used, and it constitutes an excellent article of food for working people. In the finer cornmeal the embryo, or germ, which contains most of the oil, is removed, to prevent the flour from becoming rancid. In the removal of this oil a considerable value of the corn is taken away. Corn is the richest in fat of all the cereals, provided the whole grain is used. Corn does not contain so much protein nor albuminous matter as wheat, but it is about equal in heat-making qualities, and in the amount of mineral matter it contains. It is exactly with corn as it is with wheat, the whole kernel should be used to get the best results.

Singular Instance of Tenacity.

A singular instance of tenacity in the digestion of fish is reported from Sheffield, England. The fish, a link four feet long, had what appeared to be an abnormally hard liver. But the cutting-up process revealed something far stranger. The supposed hard liver turned out to be a piece of stout netting over two yards long and 14 inches wide which had been pressed into the folds of a football. How this mass came to be swallowed is a mystery. It was suggested that the fish, caught in the toils of a fisherman's net, had tried to escape by devouring his prison walls.

Brights Disease And Diabetes

We desire to place in the hands of those afflicted with Brights Disease and Diabetes a 30-page pamphlet that is saving human lives. It is not an ordinary pamphlet, such as is commonly used to advertise medicines, but is principally made up of reports of scientifically conducted tests in a large variety of cases, showing 87 per cent of recoveries in these hitherto incurable diseases. The specifics employed in these tests are known as the Fulton Compounds and the results obtained prove conclusively that these dreaded diseases so long fatal (the deaths from Brights Disease alone are appalling, over 100,000 a year, starting as kidney troubles) have at last yielded to medical science. The pamphlet is free. Write to the John J. Milton Co., 409 Washington street, San Francisco, Cal. When to suspect Brights Disease: Puffy ankles or hands; weakness without apparent cause; kidney trouble after third month; frequent urination, (may show sediment or cloudy on standing); failing vision; day drowsiness—one or more of these.

THEFORD'S BLACK-DRAUGHT FOR CONSTIPATION
Constipation is nothing more than a clogging of the bowels and nothing less than vital stagnation or death if not relieved. If every constipated sufferer could realize that he is allowing poisonous bits to remain in his system, he would soon get relief. Constipation invites all kind of contagion. Headaches, biliousness, colds and many other ailments disappear when constipated bowels are relieved. Theford's Black-Draught thoroughly cleans out the bowels in an easy and natural manner without the purging of calomel or other violent cathartics.
Be sure that you get the original Theford's Black-Draught, made by The Chattanooga Medicine Co. Sold by all druggists in 25 cent and $1.00 packages.
Moran, Ark., May 25, 1901.
I cannot recommend Theford's Black-Draught too highly. I keep it in my house all the time and have used it for the last ten years. I never gave my children any other laxative. I think I ought never to be able to work without it on account of being troubled with constipation. Your medicine is all that keeps me up.
C. B. McFARLAND.
