All lovers of the brute creation will with satisfaction that the law regulating the treatment of cattle enroute by rail will from this on be enforced. The more shame is that it has been neglected so long. The law provides that cattle in transit shall be unloaded, watered and rested once in every twenty-eight hours. It is claimed that 1200 violations of the law by railroads have been discovered.

Charles Derham was in town on Sunday, on his way to Antelope. He says that work is progressing nicely at the saw mill, and that they will soon be turning out lumber at the rate of ten or twelve thousand feet per day. They now have their planer in position, and as soon as the lumber has dried out enough, will begin to turn out dressed lumber. They have a good many logs in Matoles which will be driven down to the mill as soon as the boom is in place. The boom is about 800 feet long, and is being placed in position in the river now.—Madras Pioneer.

One day last week Aaron Hoffman had an experience with a rattler which he will not soon forget. While sprouting potatoes in the bin near the house, he was conscious of something rubbing against his back, and glancing over his shoulder, found that an immense rattlesnake had raised its head and was in the act of crawling up on his back. The slight froze the blood in his veins and he was too paralyzed with fear to move, and while he sat there the snake crawled over his shoulder and across his knees and into his hiding place. When young Hoffman did recover his powers of locomotion he ran into the house, but the reaction from the terrible fright completely prostrated him and he was unable for some little time to tell his mother the cause of the fright. It is a well known fact that the rattlesnake unless disturbed will not strike, but even this fact does not make him a neighbor to be enjoyed.—Madras Pioneer.

While riding over the range near Lost Lake Adolph Asthoff, head forest ranger of the Western Oregon district, nearly lost his life a few days ago. He was following a new trail when his horse shied, reared and fell over backward, pinning the rider to the ground. The horn of the saddle penetrated the fleshy part of Asthoff's thigh, causing a serious wound. Blood flowed freely, and Asthoff, realizing his danger, dragged himself to a spring, bathed his wound and then bound it. Thinking that some other forest ranger might happen along, he lay near the spring for several hours. No one appearing he struggled to the saddle and rode to his home, 25 miles from Lost Lake. There his wound was bound up, and he was brought to St. Vincent's hospital. Asthoff will be able to be about in a few weeks. In the meantime his place will be taken by Ranger Anderson. His district is in the vicinity of Mount Hood.—Journal.

The Oregon Agricultural College.

The Oregon Agricultural College is the largest, wealthiest and best equipped technical school in the Northwest. The institution is supported by the general government and the State of Oregon; and it is directed by a board consisting of the Governor, Secretary of State, Superintendent of Public Instruction, Master of the State Grange, and nine other regents appointed by the Governor and confirmed by the Senate. There are 33 instructors, 680 students and 200 graduates.

The school provides seven four-year courses, all leading to the degree of bachelor of science, viz: Agriculture, Household Science, Mechanical Engineering, Electrical Engineering, Mining Engineering, Pharmacy, Literary Commerce.

These courses include instruction in Mental and Political Science, Agriculture, History, Latin, German, Mechanical and Electrical Engineering, Chemistry, Pharmacy, English Mathematics, Civil and Mining Engineering, Zoology, Botany, Forestry, Horticulture, Elocution, Floriculture, Gardening, Bacteriology, Typewriting, Stenography, Book-keeping, Penmanship, Commercial Law, Drawing Military, Physical Culture. All departments supplied with laboratories.

These courses with the special two-year course in Pharmacy and Mining are free to all who are at least 15 years of age and able to pass examination in the common school branches and Algebra to quadratics. Special winter courses in Dairying and Agriculture free; no examination. Terms in vocal and instrumental music given on application.

Tuition free; incidental fee $1 per term. Board, room, etc., $3 per week; for school year of 36 weeks, $108. Books—Freshman year—about $10. Laundry for year about $12. Chamberlain's Cough Remedy the Best and Most Popular "Mothers buy it for croupy children, railroad men buy it for severe and elderly people buy it for la-grippe," say Moore Bros., Eldon, Iowa. "We sell more of Chamberlain's Cough Remedy than any other kind. It seems to have taken the lead over several other good brands." There is no question but this medicine is the best that can be procured for coughs and colds, whether it be a child or an adult that is afflicted. It always cures and cures quickly. Sold by D. P. Adamson.

The Fourth at Paulina.

About 300 people gathered at Paulina to celebrate Independence Day. They began to arrive on Sunday and by Sunday evening there was not a bed to be had at any price.

The entertainment given the evening of the 3rd was an enjoyable affair. Mrs. Elmer Clark and Chas. Congleton especially distinguished themselves in the play of "Spooned-nykes New Bicycle." After the entertainment a few hours were spent very pleasantly in dancing.

The morning of the Fourth arrived clear and warm, not a cloud to mar the beauty of the sky and remained so all day. The morning program commenced at 11 o'clock sharp. Appropriate songs and recitations were rendered. W. C. Congleton was president of the day. The Declaration of Independence was read by Miss Letha Smith. Hon. Mike Mulvihill, of Wheeler county delivered ed the oration. Following the program a basket dinner was served.

At 2 p. m. the crowd gathered at the race track to witness the races, which were under the management of Elmer Clark. The first race, a Free for All was won by Mr. Officer's horse, purse $25. The 2nd race a Saddle Horse race was won by Mr. Whitworth's horse, purse $15. The pony race was also won by Mr. Whitworth's horse, purse $10. A match race between Mr. Whitworth's horse and Mr. Spifford's "Billie Bow Legs" was easily won by the latter.

The dance in the evening under the management of Chas. Bolaby, although the hall was crowded, was thoroughly enjoyed by all. The music furnished by Bert James, Leo Steers, Mrs. Elmer Clark and Johnnie Morgan was of the first class order.

After the expenses were paid, which amounted to $5.00 about $35.00 was turned over to the Hall Association.

The association desires to thank those who kindly helped to make the celebration a success, especially Mr. and Mrs. Elmer Clark and Chas. Bolaby.

Centennial Notes.

Liberati's famous Italian band of fifty pieces is now giving two free concerts daily at the Lewis and Clark Exposition.

In the Idaho building at the Lewis and Clark Fair there is a pyramid of nearly pure lead ore which weighs 60,000 pounds. A single specimen weighs 10,000 pounds. Idaho produces annually forty per cent of the lead mined in the United States, and twenty-seven per cent of the world's supply.

Monday, July 1, was Trail Day at the Lewis and Clark Fair and on that day the amusement street was formally opened to the public. There are thirty-five shows on the Trail, and it costs only about seven dollars to see them all. This is much cheaper than at St. Louis.

In the Foreign Exhibits building at the Lewis and Clark Exposition there is a reproduction of Raphael's "Sistine Madonna," done entirely in needlework. The reproduction was made by a young German girl, Fraulein Clara Ripberger, and is considered the most wonderful example of art needle work ever created.

The free illustrated lectures by Barry Bulkeley, of Washington, D. C., which are given every afternoon at four o'clock in the Government building are attracting large audiences. Mr. Bulkeley speaks eloquently on the wonders of the Yellow Stone National Park, and his lecture is beautifully illustrated by colored lantern slides.

For a Weak Digestion.

No medicine can replace food but Chamberlain's Stomach and Liver Tablets will help you to digest your food. It is not the quantity of food taken that gives strength and vigor to the system, but the amount digested and assimilated. If troubled with a weak digestion, don't fail to give these Tablets a trial. Thousands have been benefited by their use. They only cost a quarter. For sale by D. P. Adamson.

Truss Notice.

Notice is hereby given that all persons are hereby warned against trespassing upon the residence property of Mrs. J. N. Poindexter, opposite the court house. Trespassers will be prosecuted in the future. P. B. Poindexter.

NOTICE.

Notice is hereby given that I will sell, at the expiration of 30 days from date, the following described horses: One bay mare, branded S on left stifle, and two colts, one branded S on left stifle. The mare and one of the colts came to my premises 27 months ago and since that time have been fed by me. If owner does not call for same on or before August 1, 1905, they will be sold at my homestead, 14 miles southeast of Prineville for the charges now against them. Dated June 29, 1905. Frank Vanina.

W. F. King

(Successor to ELKINS & KING)

The price of admission to the fair grounds in the evening has been reduced, by a provision whereby the purchaser of a fifty-cent admission ticket receives with his ticket coupons which admit him to twenty-five cents worth of shows on the Trail. The arrangement is proving popular. The change was made because it was thought that the fifty-cent charge which merely permitted the visitor to the grounds was unreasonable, since the exhibits palaces are not kept open in the evenings.
