Arthur Langell and Roy Kilgore stopped in town Friday night on their way to Beaver Creek, where they go to receive 600 head of steers purchased from Rickwaugh, Bailey and others. The cattle will be driven across the desert and taken to Klamath county and fed.—Central Oregonian.

L. D. West returned this week from Cline Falls, where he was engaged four weeks in surveying an irrigation system for the White Rock Irrigation Company, which is composed of men who have about 2,500 acres of land needing water. The proposed ditch will leave the Deschutes river six miles south of Cline Falls. Mr. West says it is one of the finest tracts in the Deschutes valley. This irrigation plant will water the Cline Falls townsite and lands distributed along the line to a point beyond Tetherow bridge.

Dr. C. A. Cline and wife returned the first of the week from a visit at the Portland exposition and valley points. They came across the mountains by the McKenzie route and encountered a great deal of snow. Several teams were in front of them and it was found necessary frequently to unhitch the horses and break a way through the immense drifts which were piled up to a height of ten or twelve feet. Dr. Cline stated that the snow was unusually heavy in the Cascades at this time of the year and it extends clear across the summit down to Sisters.

The eldest son of Mr. and Mrs. Sly, a boy about 15 years of age, who lives a little way south of Rosland, was killed in a distressing accident which occurred last Friday. He was driving a team of gentle horses and dropped one of the lines. Climbing over the end gate of the wagon box he secured it and was in the act of regaining his seat when the team became frightened and ran away, throwing him violently against a pine tree and killing him almost instantly. The family is quite well known to residents of Silver Lake, who extend heartfelt sympathy to them in their sorrow.—Central Oregonian.

Arthur P. Donohue, formerly with the Western Historical Publishing company of Spokane, was in the city last week from Laidlaw where he is making arrangements to begin the publication of Crook county's next addition to journalism, the Laidlaw Chronicle. Fred N. Wallace will be associated with Mr. Donohue and plenty of future business has been assured the paper. In speaking of the gold discovery which was made recently on Broken Top, Mr. Donohue said he believed that prospectors had found several pay streaks. Some of the ore taken at a 40 foot level showed a value in gold of $14 per ton.

If all the road supervisors in the county exercised the same care and performed as diligent work as supervisor A. C. Knighten in the upper Ochoco district, the country locally would soon become famous for its good roads. Mr. Knighten has lived up fully to the duties of his office and the results are evidenced in the substantial bridges and solid and level grades along the valley of the Ochoco. The work has consumed considerable time and much labor, but the highways throughout the district in which Mr. Knighten has charge are a credit to Crook county, more especially in view of the fact that they have been built over a mountainous region where road building and maintenance are difficult tasks.

Work was completed the last of the week on the new drier at the Alamedan property on Lookout mountain and Sunday the furnace was fired for the second time. Three or four days will be consumed in raising the temperature to the desired height when it is expected that a continuous run will be made for a month or six weeks, or as long as the weather permits. At present the company is busy getting in a large supply of cord wood and ore is being hauled to the ore bin above the drier so that as soon as the furnace is ready to receive its supply nothing will prevent the steady reduction of ore. A night and day shift will be kept busy and the first clean up will be made inside of a short time.

The blank forms of applications to purchase land, contracts for water and the release of lien, which the Deschutes Irrigation & Power Company had prepared and has been using, have all been set aside by the board and a new set will be prepared, which will meet the objections of the board. As far as possible, the land-owners' objections will be considered, so that the new blanks may be satisfactory to all persons concerned. The State Land Board met Monday to consider the rules and regulations submitted by the company, regulating the use of water, purchase of land, etc., along its canals in the Bend country. W. T. Muir, attorney for the company, and J. O. Johnston, vice-president and manager, were present.

Mrs. J. F. Cicles, of Bend, was visiting in the city the first of the week the guest of her daughter, Mrs. Al Hill.

Rev. J. T. Moore will preach next Sunday morning at 11 o'clock at the Rye Grass school house, and at the Union church in Prineville on Sunday evening at 7:30 o'clock.

The Midway Plaisance in all its glory will be one of the attractions tomorrow evening at the Japanese evening in Athletic hall. Four rounds of laughter are promised every minute for those who attend.

The dance given by the Baseball club Friday evening was a success both socially and financially, the club clearing about $20 which will be applied to the indebtedness. Another dance will be given soon, the proceeds from which will be used in reducing the debt.

Dick Darling has purchased the interest of George Cyrus in the Elita barber shop and has also purchased a half interest from Farmer Powell in the Poindexter shop, of which Warren Smith has the management. Mr. Cyrus expects to leave the first of the month for Sisters where he will devote his time to his ranch there.

Fire, which destroyed the greater part of the business section of Alturas, Cal., two weeks ago, also burned the plant of the Alturas Plantation, owned by Col. "Bud" Thompson. This is the second time inside of a year that flames have licked up Thompson's property, the last fire causing him a loss of nearly $12,000.

Servants will be resumed at the Methodist church next Sunday. The Sunday school will meet at the usual hour. At 11 o'clock Rev. W. K. Ridenbur will preach in the absence of the pastor. In the evening will occur the first quarterly meeting of the year. Rev. Walton Skipworth, presiding elder of The Dalles district will preach and conduct the sacramental services. A cordial welcome to all.

It is the intention of the members of the Ladies' Annex to have the Japanese evening at the club hall tomorrow night surpass any previous social event. While the drill will be one of the main features of the evening's entertainment, there will be a score and one other avenues of amusement which will afford as much fun and laughter as an indoor country fair. It is stated authoritatively that the best way to know about the affair is to see it.

Percy Megarier, who with his big 16 horse power Reo automobile is making a transcontinental run from New York City to Portland, has reached Hatley, Idaho, where he writes under date of October 20, the day when he expected to reach Portland. Heavy weather which he has encountered west of the Rockies has caused the delay and it will probably be ten days before he arrives in Prineville. The heavy snows which have occurred during the past month in the Cascades make it doubtful whether he will be able to cross the range this year.

Rideout, Foster & Long is the firm name under which a new business will be started in the city next week. The firm will begin the manufacture of confectionery in wholesale quantities and hopes to supply the local demand. Mr. Long, who will be in charge, comes here from Portland. He has had considerable experience in that city and other points in the manufacture of confectionery and provision has been made for turning out the finest products. An additional building has been rented and the firm expects to have everything in readiness to begin work next week.

A. W. Clothier, of the Massachusetts Mutual Life Insurance Company, met with a very painful, though fortunately not serious accident while returning from Ashwood last Sunday. He was driving a spirited team, and in turning a sharp corner was thrown out, the rear wheel of the vehicle striking and passing over his ankle at the joint. Mr. Clothier held on to the lines and was dragged a short distance before the team was stopped. His side was badly bruised from contact with the rocky ground. He drove all the way to Antelope, however, and did not realize the extent of his injuries until reaching this place and attempting to alight from the buggy. He was assisted to his room at the hotel, and on examination it was found that no bones were broken, but the ankle was badly sprained and bruised. The accident will lay him up for a spell and afford him ample opportunity to reflect upon the "error of his ways," and incidentally furnish a strong argument for the accident insurance company in which he carries a policy.—Antelope Herald.

A Juicious Inquiry.
A well known traveling man who visits the drug trade says he has often heard druggists inquire of customers who asked for a cough medicine, whether it was wanted for a child or for an adult, and if for a child they almost invariably recommended Chamberlain's Cough Remedy. The reason for this is that they know there is no danger from it and that it always cures. There is not the least danger in giving it, and for coughs, colds and croup it is unsurpassed.
