E. E. Laughlin of Prineville, who has been spending the past few days in Pendleton left for his home yesterday morning.—Pendleton Tribune.

About 90 tickets were sold for the Thanksgiving ball given by the Athletic club last Thursday evening. The music furnished by the orchestra was greatly enjoyed and dancing was continued until a late hour. The club will turn about $50 into the treasury as a result of the event.

W. J. Wright, who has charge of the Prineville Land & Livestock company's ranch at Summit Prairie, was in town on a business trip Tuesday. Mr. Wright said the company was feeding about 800 head at present and the stock is all in fine shape. About eight inches of snow has fallen on the prairie and feeding will be continued during the balance of the winter.

We often grow discouraged endeavoring to keep mistakes from appearing in the Chronicle, and, as misery loves company, about the only satisfaction we have is finding errors just as previous in our more pretentious exchanges. In view of the frequency of indictments among Oregon's congressmen recently a comical error appeared in the La Grande Observer when the report of Senator Burton's second conviction was used under the picture of Senator Fulton, who has been appointed chairman of the committee on claims.—Dalles Chronicle.

The funny things that didn't happen at the High Jinks last Saturday evening in Athletic hall would take but little space to enumerate. There were all the diversions and laughable incidents that a gay crowd of masqueraders and their kangaroo court could furnish, remarking nothing about the side stunts which added amusement to the evening. The event was attended by nearly every member of the club in town or living near enough to get here in time for the evening's entertainment.

L. E. Allingham, who is working on a logging contract which he holds with the U. S. Cowles sawmill company, was in the city during the week. He said he had about 800,000 feet of logs and would finish the contract, which calls for two million feet, in the spring. Mr. Cowles at present is figuring with the Great Southern railroad company on a contract to furnish the latter with four million feet of ties. Negotiations have been in progress for some time, but as yet, nothing definite has been decided upon so far as is known.

Orville Davison is in the city from the Logan & Davison cattle ranch at Hampton buttes. The company is feeding about 1000 head of stock and has a large supply of hay on hand to carry them well into spring. Mr. Davison said the residents in that vicinity were getting up a petition for the establishment of a mail route from Prineville to Back creek to connect with the Burns line. At present they receive their mail but once a week and it is carried by the different ranchers who take turns coming to the local office, distributing the mail at the various ranches on their way back. This method while satisfactory is a great inconvenience and it is expected that the petition for the establishment of the mail route will be approved.

Further reduction work at the Alameda property on Lookout mountain will not be done before spring. The recent heavy snows on the mountain and freezing weather, which cuts off the water supply for the Pelton wheel, has made further work impossible. Some little trouble was also experienced with the furnace during the last run and it was thought best to wait until the good weather begins in the spring before doing more. Development work in the tunnels will be continued, however, and the ore bins filled for the next run. About a dozen flasks of quicksilver, the result of the last clean up, are stored in the company's warehouse on the mountain.

Celebrated Thanksgiving.

At the Shepard school house at Powell Buttes appropriate Thanksgiving services were held last Thursday. The residents of the community gathered at the school house in the forenoon and after religious exercises all united in a basket Thanksgiving dinner, which lacked nothing in the way of good things. In the evening another meeting was held in the school house when a well arranged program was presented by the school children.

Wyoming Firm Wants Crook County Sheep.

In hand with the numerous sales of sheep which have taken place in the county during the past few months, comes inquiry from outside points relative to the sheep situation here and the opportunities open to buy.

The Journal is in receipt of a letter from Hall & Hartle, a Wyoming sheep firm, in which the company states that it is in the market for 7000 head of mixed yearlings, ewes and wethers, to be contracted now and delivered about July first. The firm offers $2.30 and $2.25, with a deposit of 50 cents per head when contract is made, the balance on delivery, less 5 per cent.

A reply, based on careful inquiry among the prominent sheepmen, was made to the firm stating that the number of head wanted could not be purchased here at the prices quoted. It is probable that the Wyoming people will offer an advance over the figures named above.

With the Churches.

Rev. Mitchell will preach at 11 a. m. at the Presbyterian church. Subject: "Would You Live Your Life Over Again?" Sabbath school at 10 a. m. Rev. Jinneth's congregation is invited to meet with us.

Rev. W. K. Kidenour will conduct the services at the Methodist church next Sunday morning in the absence of the pastor who was called to the bedside of an invalid sister. In the evening a union service will be held at the Presbyterian church. Rev. Mitchell will discuss the question: "Why, in Baptism, do Methodists and Presbyterians Use the Forms Sprinkling and Pouring?" The Epworth League meets with the Christian Endeavor of the Presbyterian church at 8:30.

As announced the question "Will Methodists and Baptists Be Saved?" was presented at the Methodist church last Sabbath evening. It was interesting to note in how many ways they do not follow the Saviour's commandments and do not literally obey his laws. And more interesting to notice in how many ways they do follow the spirit of his commandments and honor the deeper meaning of his laws. They do not preach upon the home topic as commanded, but they do preach in the public parks, on the seashore, in the wilderness and send the truth over all the world. So that the house top law is more than obeyed. The man who has the Christ character is the Christian, as well as the man who earnestly wants it, but has not yet risen to his level, so that the man with a saved character is saved no matter where he stands.

By a show of hands it was found that the Methodists and Presbyterians present did not know why their churches use the forms sprinkling and pouring in baptism, and this subject will be presented in the Presbyterian church next Sunday evening.

Must Pay for the Water.

Residents about Powell Buttes are now facing the proposition of paying $1.50 per month for the privilege of hauling water from the springs located on land owned by the Vandevent Bros. Ever since settlement has been commenced in the fertile region, the residents have gone to these springs, filled their tanks and hauled the water home and no charge has been made. The demand on the supply of the springs has become so heavy, however, that the Vandevent just before the first of the month announced that a charge of $1.50 per month would be made. This matter affects some 25 or 30 families at present. While no denial is made of the right of the owners of the springs to charge for the privilege of getting the water, nor is there any denial of the privilege being worth $1.50 per month, settlers have been getting it for nothing for so long it does not take well with them to pay for it.

The next nearest water is at the end of the Central Oregon canal, of the D. L. & P. company, at the Johnston ranch, eight miles south of Hobbs station. However, there is a spring on the Dick Darling place, lying above the Vandevent ranch, which by piping its supply for a half mile could be made accessible for water tanks, and residents are now considering clubbing together and building the pipe line. Engineer C. M. Redfield, of the D. L. & P. company, has assured the settlers that a lateral will be extended to their relief at the earliest possible moment.

Man's Unreasonableness

is often as great as woman's. But Thos. S. Austin, Mgr. of the "Republican," of Leavenworth, Ind., was not unreasonableness when he refused to allow the doctors to operate on his wife, for female trouble. "Instead," he says, "we concluded to try Electric Bitters. My wife was then so sick, she could hardly leave her bed, and five physicians had failed to relieve her. After taking Electric Bitters, she was perfectly cured, and can now perform all her household duties." Guaranteed by J. H. Templeton's and D. P. Adamson's druggists, price 30c.
