High School Commencement.

The annual commencement exercises of the Crook County High School were held in Assembly hall last Friday evening where the large audience which greeted the program showed its appreciation of the numbers with enthusiastic applause.

Each of the five graduates in clear and well modulated tones delivered orations and the program was pleasingly interspersed with vocal and instrumental solos and duets and choruses by the students. The program of orations was as follows: "Progress of Women," Irene Barnes; "Footfalls," Nora Kizer; "Slaves' spears' Heroines," Ada Pennington; "Japan since the War," Oliver Adams; "Development of American Fiction," Carl Hyde.

The musical side of the program which consisted of vocal solos by Mrs. Glass, Lydie, Miss O'Neil, Miss Vera Howard, Oliver Adams and Randolph Ketchum; a vocal duet by Misses Cole Smith and Beulah Crooks; and a piano solo by Miss Edna Estes was treated with marked attention and drew forth repeated applause. With the conclusion of the numbers the program, Superintendent Dinwiddie, after a few brief remarks relative to school work and the beginning of new careers, presented the diplomas.

We have a nice line of Ladies and Misses White Canvas Oxfords and for a short time only, we will give to each person buying a pair of our Ladies White Canvas Shoes of any style or price a 25c box of Blanco FREE.

Some Facts for Your Consideration

We have just received a large shipment of Ladies Fine shoes direct from the factory and we claim to be in a position to give you better values and a nicer and later line to select from than any of our competitors. The reason we can do this is that we buy from a factory in the East that makes Ladies fine Shoes exclusively. Doesn't it stand to reason that we will get better values and later styles in that way than we would if we bought from a factory that makes everything from a plow shoe to an infant's moccasin. If you will come in and let us show you our line of Ladies Shoes we will convince you of the truth of our argument.
