MAYER SHOES

THE VERY BEST
J. E. STEWART & CO.

The harvest season in Morrow county will open early next week, probably Monday, and in most sections the crop will be heavier than for several years. In fact some of the wheatgrowers claim they will have the largest yield they ever had. The abundance of moisture that fell during May and June has caused the grain to fill better than usual and the berry will be heavier than ordinarily; no shriveled or half formed grain to reduce the weight. The yield will be the lightest in the north part of the country where the grain was injured to some extent before the rains came, but even there the crop will be better than was anticipated earlier in the season.—Heppner Times.
