School districts that contemplate putting in new seats this fall should leave their orders with A. H. Lippman & Co. at once. By so doing they can save money, as the price of seats is steadily advancing and the Pacific coast supply is sold out. Mr. Lippman is going to place an order with eastern firms for seats and would like to get an idea of the number needed in the county. J19-11

Bend people who celebrated at Prineville report large crowds in attendance at the three-day base ball tournament, and Fourth of July celebration. They also report that the county seat furnished a very pleasing day on the Fourth to her visitors. Every available sleeping place was occupied, many private homes being opened to the visitors, and many men were compelled to sleep on the floors of the halls and offices of the hotels.—Bend Bulletin.

E. S. Dobbs lost the third finger of the left hand Saturday evening while unloading hay with a derrick at his ranch a few miles up the Ochoco. The steel cable of the derrick would kink and twist and hence would not work through the pulley unless straightened. This Mr. Dobbs would do with a fork handle, but once he tried it with his hands. This is the time he got caught. He was drawn up a distance of twenty-four feet before he was released from his perilous position. The third finger was cut off at the first joint. The injured hand received prompt medical attention and Mr. Dobbs is able to be around again.

The Summer Normal is now attended by fourteen teachers and some hard and faithful work is being done. Although the course of study is designed primarily for those preparing for the August examination, yet some valuable work for all teachers is being accomplished, and a student of the school should be able to do better school work as a result of their efforts here.

P. G. Phelps, of Vale, Ore., passed through Prineville today on his way to Portland. Perry is well supplied with a good camping outfit, good teams and plenty of supplies and is making his trip to Portland a pleasant outing. Himself and family were in the best of health and spirits. Mr. Phelps closed out his holdings at Vale and will locate permanently on a sixty-acre tract of land within twelve miles of Portland.

J. C. Houston, who helped take a bunch of horses to Alberta about a month ago, got back to Prineville the other day. Mr. Houston had an idea that pastures would be greener and that things would come a little easier in some other place. His trip to Medicine Hat dispelled this illusion. He says the feed in Alberta was good but there were other drawbacks in that country that made Crook county a good place to come back to. He is much better satisfied since he made his little journey.

Frank Reeber who was shot in the jaw at Arlington, by John Robb, was brought to The Dalles hospital Monday morning. Drs. Ferguson and Reuter, removed the bullet, which had lodged in the left side of his neck, Tuesday. The jaw was badly shattered and Reeber is in a dangerous condition. Reeber made a statement that Robb asked him to take a drink and upon his refusal he pulled a revolver and commenced shooting. He threw up his hand to protect himself and in this way had one finger badly shattered. Robb is an old chum of the notorious Hank Vaughn who was killed in Pendleton several years ago. Nearly all the old stockmen in the Prineville country remember the time that Vaughn and Charlie Long met in a Prineville saloon and emptied their revolvers into each other and then both recovered. Robb is one of the last of this notorious bunch to meet an inglorious finish.—The Dalles Optimist.

The little three-year-old son of H. F. Mitchell while playing with his brother around a chopping block in the yard in some way received a cut that may cause him to lose the third finger of the right hand. When the child was discovered the finger was hanging by a shred of skin. Drs. Belknap & Edwards were immediately called and did everything possible to relieve the little sufferer.

There will be the regular services at the Union church next Sunday. Sunday School at 10 and preaching service at 11 a. m. Endeavor meeting at 7 and preaching again at 8 p. m. The pastor, Rev. J. T. Superintendent L. R. Traver of the Pendleton schools, who is to conduct the work in "Methods" at the summer Normal now being held in Prineville, is one of the most successful supervisors of schools in the state. He makes a specialty of primary methods in which work he has been engaged for several years. He has done normal work both in Pendleton and Salem. He comes here after several years work in Roseburg. He was superintendent of the Salem schools for a term of years. Here he organized the Salem High School that grew under his management until it enrolled over 200 students. He has been in Pendleton one year and already his influence is shown in better results in the schools. Mr. Traver will be here the last three days of July and the first two days of August. His presence here will prove of great benefit to the young teachers. None should miss the opportunity to take work under him.

Crook County Wool.

McIntosh & Son, Paulina; E. Laughlin, Buck Creek; George Roba, Paulina, and Hugh Lister, from the same place, returned from Shaniko the last of the week where they had been to dispose of their wool. These gentlemen expressed themselves as well satisfied with the prices received.

McIntosh & Son had 175 sacks for which they received 20 cents a pound.

E. Laughlin had 33 sacks for which he received 19¢ cents.

George Roba had 33 sacks and received 19¢ cents.

Hugh Lister had 80 sacks and was paid 19¢ cents.

There was another point upon which these gentlemen were most emphatic, and that was the condition of the county roads in their neighborhood. They claim that they have a big kick coming and want the Journal to register it for them. McIntosh & Son had a bad breakdown and claim to be out a good many dollars for repairs. The attention of the powers that be is respectfully called to this matter.

CHARGED WITH COMMITTING RAPE

U. S. Cowles Bound Over to the District Court on a New Charge.

The preliminary hearing in the case of State of Oregon vs. U. S. Cowles, wherein the defendant is charged with the crime of rape committed upon his own daughter, was held in the justice court of F. J. Brooks at this place, during the first three days of the week and upon the showing made by the prosecution the defendant Cowles was bound over to the Circuit Court, his bonds being fixed in the sum of $2000. M. L. Loucks qualified as bondsman and was accepted by Judge Brooks. The State was represented in the case by M. E. Miller, of Antelope, and M. C. Mason, of this place, while the defendant had as counsel W. L. Marquardt, of Port Angeles, Washington, and George Barnes, of Prineville.

The first charge filed against Cowles was that of incest, and his preliminary hearing on that charge was set for Monday and finally adjourned until Tuesday morning. When the case came up for hearing on Tuesday morning, the incest charge was dismissed and a new complaint was filed, charging the defendant with rape. Grace Cowles, daughter of the defendant appeared as complaining witness. Under the law it is necessary to prove the consent of both parties before the charge of incest can be sustained, and the daughter of Cowles being under the age at which consent can be given, the crime of incest could not have been established and the case was therefore dismissed. The new charge preferred, however—that of rape upon a daughter—is much more serious, the extreme penalty being imprisonment for life.

The hearing in the second case against Cowles was begun on Tuesday afternoon and continued throughout the afternoon and the greater portion of the next day. The only witness introduced was the complaining witness, Grace Cowles, who told a story which not even the rigid cross examination by defendant's counsel was able to break down. The defendant introduced no witnesses, and the case was submitted without argument. Judge Brooks bound the defendant over to the Circuit Court, and fixed his bonds at $2000, the bail being furnished by M. L. Loucks.—Madras Pioneer.

Eastern Wool Market.

The latest Eastern telegraphic advices report improved conditions in the wool market. A hopeful symptom is the disposition by the Western woolgrowers to accept fair prices for their clip. The finer grades of pulled wools are in best demand and a fair business is being done. Territories are moderately active. Foreign grades are steady. In the opinion of merchants the present prices are the lowest that will obtain for the next few months.
