The Merchants Investment and Trust Co. of Portland, Ore., whose advertisement appears elsewhere in this paper, have issued a very attractive little booklet for free distribution containing information about the scope and purpose of their institution. One point borne upon strongly is the advisability of persons having estates or investments to look after, of placing their affairs in the hands of the company. The Merchants Investment & Trust Co. argues that the proper care of estates demands a talent of high order, and that individuals of sufficient business skill for handling estates unusually have affairs of their own which prevent them from engaging in such a service for any other person. The Merchants Investment & Trust Co. in soliciting business, calls attention to the fact that a trust company never sleeps, never dies and never absconds. The company declares its willingness to accept accounts of all kinds and states they are as ready to receive five dollars worth of business as they are five thousand. Their booklet will be mailed to you free if you write and ask for it.

That "Kid" Ball Team.

The Antelope Herald of July 8th has just reached our table and under the head of "Baseball Notes" we find the following comment on our Fourth of July baseball tournament:

That was a first-class showing that the Antelope Kid base-ball team made at Prineville this week, where they were defeated two games and won one game. As stated last week, our boys went to Prineville, where it was advertised that teams from Prineville, Madras, Bend, Redmond and Antelope were to take part in a four days' tournament of base ball and where each team was to meet each of the other teams; but through some (mis) understanding it was a tournament of all the combined teams of Crook county against Antelope. However, our boys made a showing against these odds which would do credit to any ball team, and while we were defeated in the percentage column, only taking second money, it was very evident to all persons who saw the games that Antelope had the best team on the grounds and could defeat any one team that was represented there. The first game was between Antelope and Prineville and resulted in a victory for Antelope by the score of 9 to 8. Dugan Rooper and "Dusty" Rhodes were the Antelope battery. The second game was between Antelope and Crook county and resulted in a victory for Crook county by a score of 11 to 5. The third game was between Antelope and Crook county, and resulted in a scratch victory for Crook county by a score of 8 to 7.

The games are over and the boys have returned and are loud in praise of their treatment at Prineville and are proud of the showing they made in the games, and are hopeful of again meeting Crook county ball tossers in individual teams or in a combined team.

Talk about the resourcefulness of western men, they are not in it compared with western women. Mrs. Will King and a party of ladies left Prineville last Monday for an outing in the mountains, taking the McKenzie route. In crossing the lava bed a wagon wheel broke. Twenty miles from nowhere with a wheel worse than useless. Did the women set up a howl? Not much. They set up their tent. Mrs. King took out a horse and rode back twenty miles to Sisters, where she hired a man to bring her to Prineville. She rode all night and got here Wednesday. Telephoned to Portland for another wheel and expects to return with it to camp tomorrow. Beat that, ye lords of creation.

Dixie Meadows Gold Mine.

The Dixie Meadows Gold Mining Company held its annual stockholders meeting Thursday. The officers and board of directors for the ensuing year were elected. The work of the past year was reviewed and plans for the future discussed. The stock held in Prineville was represented by W. A. Booth and G. M. Cornet. C. A. Johns of Baker was also present representing the interest of his clients.

The following officers were elected: R. C. Reese, president; G. M. Cornet, vice-president; A. M. F. Kirchheiner, secretary; V. C. Belknap, treasurer.

The following are the board of directors: R. C. Reese, V. C. Belknap, G. M. Cornet, T. M. Baldwin and Geo. Knight.

R. C. Reese was appointed superintendent. It was understood, however that Col. Smith of Prineville would be put in charge of the mine. He is a thorough business man and the Prineville interest suggest him as he has been very successful in contract work and has had much experience in railroad work.

Work will be resumed within two weeks and the prospects are brighter now than they have been for some time. A great deal of money has been spent and the mine has now reached the stage where it can be made a good producer.

That the Dixie Meadows is a great mine there can be no question. Its value can be determined with a foot rule and a little assay work. In its 4000 feet of tunnel work the ore can be measured and its value which is the in sight can be determined. There are four levels with a vertical depth in the lower one of 400 feet. An eighty foot shaft has been sunk in the lower level. The ore in this is of the same character as above except that its values seem to be increasing. When work is resumed it will probably be in the shaft. As to the installation of the machinery no definite action was taken but it is the belief that steps will be taken for the purchase of a stamp mill.—Prairie City Miner.

Madras Items.

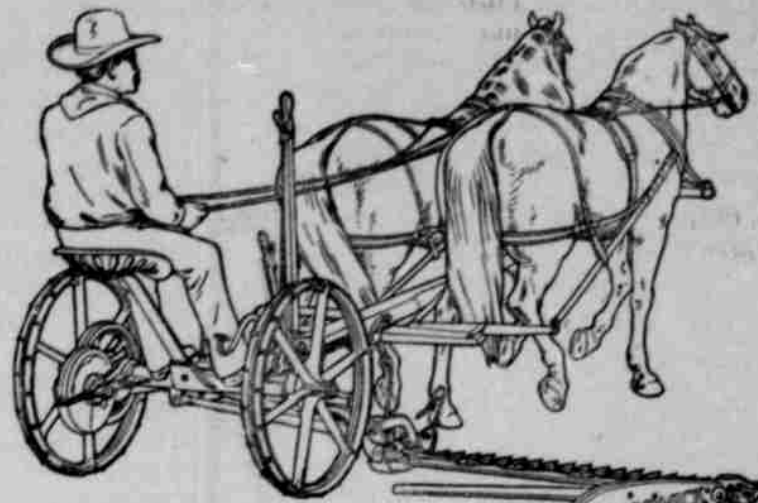

Madras, Or., July 22, 1906.

Editor Journal: We got back from our trip to the valley on the 19th. When we reached the Willamette valley it was wet and muddy and when we left it was hot, dry and dusty. The morning of the 12th of July, the day we started home, the thermometer registered 101 at 9 o'clock a. m. There were lots of berry blossoms in the mountains as we crossed but for some cause there were no berries to speak of on our return. It was our intention to lay in a supply of blackberries at Seven-mile mountain but when we got there we could not find enough to eat.

Dave Barnett, Fred McDowell and Mr. Loveland are going to the mountains to recuperate. They are all under the weather.

I was told that Charles Whitsett and others are to start for Shaniko this week to bring out their new 25-horse power steam threshing machine. ELMER N. GILLAM.
