THURSDAY, AUGUST 9, 1906

There are 156,466 persons of school age, i. e., between the ages of 4 and 20 years, living in the state of Oregon, according to the reports of county school superintendents. This is only an increase of 2 per cent for 1906 over 1905. Twelve counties show a decrease and 21 an increase. Crook county stands well up to the front of those counties that have not fallen behind in school population. The increase for this county is nearly 13 per cent. We receive $3865.80 of the $265,992.20 to be divided among the counties of the state from the school fund. This is on the basis of $1.70 per capita.

The government is increasing its army of rangers in the Cascade mountains in the hope of keeping down the fires that each summer ravage the timber reserve. If campers would be a little more careful many thousands of dollars would be saved directly and many more indirectly to the country at large. Most of our forest fires start from smouldering camp fires, notwithstanding the fact that notices are posted everywhere warning campers to be careful and extinguish them before leaving.

It now transpires since the executors of the late Russel Sage have been delving into the dead financier's strong box, that the estate will reach in round numbers $150,000,000. And yet the lawyers may have some good fat pickings from it for years to come on account of the carelessness of handling dates. Mole hills are magnified into mountains when seen through golden spectacles in the hands of astute lawyers.

The condition of Russia is not a pleasant picture to look upon these times. Anarchy and outrage is everywhere. In Warsaw the principal shops were plundered, goods dragged into the streets, fought over and carried away. The law abiding people could not stem the tide of lawlessness. The police were powerless and all who tried to interfere were shot down or clubbed to death.

Typhoid is epidemic in San Francisco and is directly traceable to unsanitary kitchens. It is not a water epidemic but caused by swarms of house flies. These flies come in contact with filth in the kitchens and then carry it to the food that is consumed in soup kitchens, restaurants, cafes, etc.

Redmond Fair Notes.

We are going to have the best kite-shaped track in Central Oregon for our races. It is the "Made-in-Oregon" kind—not shipped in from "back East."

We will have brand new buildings, running water and camping facilities for those who desire.

We especially invite exhibits of goods other than those provided for in the premium list and we will offer all facilities possible for their proper exhibition. Our lists are quite full in live stock, farm products and (now, ladies, sit up and take notice) culinary, textile, fine arts and dairy departments. Individual prizes run as high as $25. Premium lists will be sent out as soon as published to those who request them. See address below.

Make entries early. Books open September 1. If there is any difference in accommodations it will be in favor of the earlier entries.

We expect Prineville to do her best to send over a winning tug-of-war team. Prizes announced later. Remember we eat lots of sand and grit up here and it makes us pull hard.

We have some good two and four horse teams for pulling, too, but still we are ready to be shown something better.

Watch the papers for further particulars and if you don't see what you want write to

E. C. PARK, Secretary.

Railroad to Prineville.

A dispatch from Tacoma to the Evening Telegram says that articles of incorporation were filed August 5 by J. C. Donnelly and Arvid Bydstrom for the Southern Extension Railway Co. to build a railroad from a point on the left bank of the Columbia river, near the mouth of the Deschutes river, through the valley of that river to a point near Madras, thence to Bend, Or., with a branch line to Prineville, Or. The capitalization is $1,250,000. Considerable speculation exists as to the parties behind the move. Donnelly is a well known hotel man here, and Bydstrom is a prominent contractor.

Attempted Jail Break.

Adams, one of the prisoners at the county jail, made a break for freedom on Saturday evening. It seems that it is the practice of the county officials in charge of the prisoners to let them eat outside of the jail during the hot weather. Adams took advantage of this privilege but did not succeed in getting away. He ran from the jail to a clump of willows back of Mr. Vanderpool's place in the south part of town, where Deputy Sheriff Combs took him in charge and marched him back to jail.

There is no doubt in the minds of the officials but that the attempt of Adams was a part of a scheme to liberate the whole gang. It was thought that when the officer in charge saw a prisoner making his escape he would immediately give chase and thus give the others a chance to skidoo. But it didn't turn out that way. Deputy Sheriff Combs did not lose his head. He marched the other prisoners back to their cells and then followed up the fugitive. In the meantime a man on horseback and several citizens took up the chase. Adams was made to crawl out from his hiding place and surrender.
