E. G. HODSON, Proprietor

I am prepared to do all kinds of Machine work (except casting) such as boring Engine cylinders, dressing valves and valve seats, fitting shafting for any kind of machine, also plow and edge tool grinding, saw gumming and filing.

Having installed new and up-to-date machinery for the above work, I can, in most cases, save you money over sending to Portland for repairs, say nothing about time saved which is certainly quite an item. At any rate give me a trial and then you will be in a position to judge for yourself. A supply of material kept on hand at all times.

Mule Raising Pays.

A mule is a cash article at any time from three months to thirty years of age, says an agricultural paper. It costs no more to raise a three-year-old mule than it will sell for three times the price.

Too many farmers though, sell their mules as they do their steers, without feeding them up. A good sized two-year-old mule if properly handled will do considerable work. If well kept on pasture, stalks and hay and then put up and fed for two or three months they will usually bring $25 to $50 more than if sold without any special preparation.

A good span of three-year-old mules will usually bring from $225 to $300. They are usually heavy and vigorous. Not once in a hundred times is one injured by a barb wire and they are seldom injured otherwise.

The day of the small jack and the little mule is about gone. Neither pays. The dam should weigh from 1000 to 1500 pounds. The bigger the better, everything else being equal. Probably no other dam quite equals the pure-bred or high-grade Percheron for raising mules.

Many still insist on a touch of thoroughbred blood. This is all right in a way, but usually reduces the size and injures the disposition. The jack should be large but not leggy. He should be well formed, have a good back, clean, heavy limbs and good action.

The cross of a Spanish jack and a Mammoth jennett usually gives the best results. Spanish blood gives finish and vigor, while the Mammoth dam gives the size. A good No. 1 jack is worth a fortune in any neighborhood and can be bought in the fall or winter for from $500 to $1000.

There is a lesson in the work of the thrifty farmer. He knows that the bright sunshine may last but a day and he prepares for the showers which are so liable to follow. So it should be with every household. Dysentery, diarrhoea and cholera morbus may attack some member of the home without warning. Chamberlain's Colic, Cholera and Diarrhoea Remedy, which is the best known medicine for these diseases, should always be kept at hand, as immediate treatment is necessary, and delay may prove fatal. ### IT DRAWS HARD

On a woman's vitality to do work for which she is unfitted, and we wonder how some of our laod line through a single season of disease or dissipation.

They will say with tears in their eyes when they mention the subject at all, "It is a hard pull," that with pain, weakness and weariness they are "almost dragged out." Many, in this case, resort to alcoholic stimulants and "invigorants," the after effects of which are very injurious.

Dr. V. Pierce, forty years ago found that women were being mistreated through ignorance or carelessness and determined to devote his life and energies to their relief.

Having found the cause of their suffering, he next sought for the means of relief, and found in Nature's laboratory—the earth, certain roots which had remarkable and valuable medicinal virtues for the cure of these ailments.

Using medicine composed of glycerine, of proper strength instead of alcohol, he prepared extracts of these, and the result was so satisfactory that the combination became his "Favorite Prescription." The roots used are: Lady's Slipper root, Black Cohosh root, Unicorn root, Blue Cohosh root and Golden Seal root. The world knows it as Dr. Pierce's "Favorite Prescription," which has the wonderful and unparalleled record of a half-million of cures in the last forty years.

Write to Dr. Pierce, Buffalo, N. Y., for advice, giving without charge.

"I am glad to be able to testify as to the merits of Dr. Pierce's Favorite Prescription for women's ailments that women suffer with, writes Miss Gertrude Mitchell (President Young Ladies' Christian Endeavor Society) 4 Columbia Street, Detroit, Mich. "After many years of suffering and pain, I took your medicine, and in a short time I felt stronger, became more regular and did not have the bearing-down pains which had been so distressing to me. I shall never cease to be very grateful that it was brought to my notice. I have no pains, and feel much stronger generally."

Dr. Pierce's Pills cleanse the clogged system from accumulated impurities.
