THE FAIR A BIG SUCCESS

Fine Showing of Crook Co. Products.

SOME GOOD RACING

Exhibits Not Quite Ready for the Opening—Will be Ready Today.

There is no longer any doubt or uncertainty about the success of the second annual Crook County Fair. The big crowd at the opening yesterday, the fine display of blooded stock, the exhibits of fruits and vegetables, the fine arts display by the ladies, the showing made in county school work, and the good racing program offer attractions that will draw large crowds every day and keep them interested from the opening until the close next Saturday. Many exhibits were not in place yesterday. People living at a distance could not get here sooner and some of our townspeople did not calculate on such a large attendance the first day. The pavilion was so crowded part of the time that very little headway was made in getting things in place. By today everything will be in readiness. No detailed account of the fair is possible in this issue of The Journal, but net week we hope to cover it in detail. We are pleased to note the presence of many Redmond people who are on hand with some of their finest specimens of vegetables, grasses and grains. People from all parts of the county are here with their blooded stock making a sight you cannot afford to lose.
