

THE MINE DEDICATED

Howard Crowded With People.

FIVE STAMPS GOING

A Chicken Dinner Served Free to Everybody—An Enjoyable Trip.

Monday, October 8th, 1906, may well be considered a red letter day in the commercial history of Crook county. The Gatewood mine, formerly the Mayflower, at the head of Ochoco creek, was formally opened with appropriate ceremonies, and the ponderous machinery set in motion that is destined to place this county well up in the list of gold producing sections of the Northwest.

Pursuant to the announcement of Mr. B. Gatewood, who has an option on the mine from the Mayflower people, that the mines would be dedicated on Monday, a number of Prineville people including Mr. and Mrs. T. M. Baldwin, Mr. and Mrs. W. F. King, Dr. and Mrs. H. P. Belknap, Mr. and Mrs. Thomson and Mr. and Mrs. M. E. Brink started early Monday morning for the new mining camp where a large concourse of citizens from Mitchell and the Ochoco Valley had already assembled. At 2 o'clock the guests met on the second floor of the stamp mill where a brief address was made by T. M. Baldwin of The First National Bank of Prineville, who spoke earnestly of the brilliant prospects of the new mine and what its development would mean to the commercial interests of Crook county. The last words of Mr. Baldwin's address dedicating the mine to "success and prosperity" had scarcely died away when Mr. Gatewood turned on the power. The 125-horse-power water wheel began to revolve, and as the immense 750-pound stamps began to drop Mrs. H. P. Belknap broke a bottle of clear Ochoco water across the face of the battery, and the first gold stamp mill ever erected in Central Oregon was in successful operation not to stop until the Northwest comes to know that Crook county contains a gold mine that is a commercial success.

Mr. Gatewood estimates that there is enough ore now in the bins and in sight to keep the mill running night and day for a year. Experts pronounce the mill as thoroughly equipped as any mill in the West. The ores are handled almost entirely by the gravity system and the cost of milling is reduced to the minimum.

The mill now contains a battery of five stamps, each dropping ninety-five times a minute. Three tons of concentrates are produced every twenty-four hours, of the value of $250 per ton; the tailings are carried to the cyanide tanks and will produce enough gold bullion to pay all running expenses of the mine.

Mr. Gatewood is certainly to be commended for the energy and intelligence displayed in taking up a proposition that has been often pronounced impracticable and putting it upon a sound financial basis.

The Mayflower mine was discovered about twenty years ago by Lewis and George McCallister, who prosecuted the development work for thirteen years and then bonded it to W. W. Cotton and B. Campbell of Portland, for $100,000.00. After spending some $30,000.00 in driving tunnels these gentlemen gave up the enterprise, concluding the ores were too obstinate to handle with profit, after which the mine was sold to The Oregon Mayflower Company, the principal stockholders of which are Thron Thomson, Lewis McCallister and M. E. Brink of this city. Mr. Gatewood obtained an option on the mine about eight months ago for $100,000.00 and has since been offered twice that amount for his contract. All Crook county wishes the new management unbounded success.

Additional Locals.

Hugh O'Kane of Bend, is town. Rose Smead of Post is taking in the fair.

Robt. Jordan and wife of Sisters, are Fair visitors.

Elmer Clark of Paulina, was in town Wednesday.

Rosecoe Knox of Post, is in the city taking in the Fair sights.

W. E. Helfrich and wife of Lamonta, were in town Tuesday.

P. Chtwood of Grizzly, was viewing the city and Fair sights yesterday.

J. B. Cornett is in from his ranch on Summit Prairie seeing the fair and races.

Mrs. Susan E. Gibson of Post is in town making arrangements to prove up on her homestead.

Mrs. E. R. Riley and daughter, Miss Mary of Bend, are in town visiting and seeing the Fair.

J. B. Fryrear and wife of Sisters, are in town taking in the fair. They brought in an exhibit of garden truck to show what can be grown in their section.

L. L. Welch and Col. Belcher of Redmond, are in town. They brought over an exhibit from their section which is on display at the pavilion on the Fair grounds.

H. F. Jones of Redmond, is attending the fair. He says that the whole town of Redmond would have been here had it not been for the fact that a good many are now busy threshing. As it is, about fifty Redmondites are here taking in the sights. He says Redmond has already started to work up next year's fair. They are hustlers over there.

F. S. Stanley, secretary and treasurer of the D. I. & P. Co., of Redmond, shows his implicit confidence in the productiveness of the lands under his company by closing a $17,500 contract with persons living in The Dalles to clear 1000 acres on his ranch about 16 miles from Redmond.

Prof. Elias Nelson is coming back to take charge of the D. I. & P. Co.'s experimental farm at Redmond. He will be in charge again the first of the year. It will be remembered that the government last year secured Prof. Nelson to take charge of its experimental work at Twin Falls, Idaho. The D. I. & P. Co. officials appreciate what the gentleman has accomplished for them and made it an object to him to again take up his work with them.

D. McLean, the horse buyer from Medicine Hat, Alberta, is registered at the Poindexter. Mr. McLean and son have come for the rest of the Paul Heid and Huston horses. They took some three or four hundred head to the fair last spring, as was noted in the Journal at the time, and were to come back and take what was left after the fall round-up. This is Mr. McLean's mission in Crook county at this time. He says the Canadian market while still good, is not as high as it was last spring. Horses that would bring $125 there then would sell for about $100 now. However, prices are fairly good and he is out after good, heavy stock. He can find a market for animals weighing from 1200 pounds up. "Ranchers ought to make good money in the horse business if they would exercise more care in range breeding. Good stock will always command good prices. Where no attention is paid as to what runs on the range the scrubby stock is found to increase all out of proportion to that which is desirable, and it costs just as much in the way of pasture to raise one as the other. Commence to improve your range stock now and in a few years you will reap your reward," says Mr. McLean.

High School Debating Societies.

A meeting of the two debating societies of the Crook County High school—the Ochocoan Debating Society and the Alphan Debating Society—was held in the assembly hall of said school Friday afternoon, October 5th, with Prof. A. C. Strange in the chair. The meeting was called for the purpose of reorganizing the two debating societies. Rubeen Booten was elected acting president of the Alphan Society and said president appointed Sam Newsom as acting secretary.

Bert Barnes was elected acting president of the Ochocoan Debating Society and he appointed Arthur E. Lindborg as acting secretary. It was decided to make a new roll by having the two presidents chosen alternately. President Bert Barnes of the Ochocoan Society then chose the following students: Bert Barnes, President pro tem, A. E. Lindborg, Secretary pro tem, Celia Nelms, Chas. Summers, Elsie Osborne, Wilford Belknap, Aleatha Dillon, Christina Gibson, Horace Belknap, Beulah Hyde, Lester Colhrs, Rose McDaniel, Elva Dobbs, Ceole Smith, Vida Jones, Emerene Young, Edna Estes, Randolph Ketchum, Luther Moore, Agnes Elliott, Neuton Smith, Lora Sterns, Grace Wilson, Pearl McFarland, Dolly Hodges.

At a meeting of the Ochocoan Debating Society held October 8, acting president Bert Barnes was elected permanent president; Arthur Lindborg was elected vice-president, and Beulah Hyde secretary. Celia Nelms and Elva Dobbs were appointed on the program committee. ARTHUR LINDBORG, Secretary.

Keep Your Money at Home.

It is doubtful if there is a person in this community outside of the postmaster who is aware of the tons and tons of advertising matter that is distributed in Prineville every year. Sack after sack of stuff from a well known Chicago mail order house was dumped on the distributing table at the postoffice the other day and curiosity prompted a Journal representative to make a few inquiries concerning the amount received in a twelve-month. The answer was, "Tons and tons of it."

Few people stop long enough to consider what it means to a community to send away its surplus cash. Our farmers seem to forget that the catalogue houses never buy their wood, their grain, their butter or eggs or anything else they raise. They overlook the fact that the profits of the mail order house are not spent in this community and not a cent of their money do they ever see again. These mail order concerns create no local markets and have no property in the community which can be assessed to help bear the expense of schools, local government and improvements.

Our citizens should be loyal to local dealers who spend their money, time and skill in our midst. They help share the burden and responsibility of building up a community wherein they make their homes and invest their profits. Before sending your money away for goods stop and consider the matter well. Inquiry will convince you that you can do better at home. Try it.

Notice.
All persons knowing themselves to be indebted to me will please make some arrangement to pay the same either in whole or part. The fire has left me without a home and I must have the money to rebuild and furnish the same.
Yours Respectfully,
DR. E. O. HYDE.
