LOCAL ITEMS Mrs. Ollie Cecil, of Portland, was visiting in town last week with her brother, C. A. Bedell. Mrs. Cecil was enroute to Portland from the ranch in Harney county, where she had been spending the summer. Mr. Bedell accompanied her to Portland. If Robert L. McMurtrey of Prineville will write to Robert J. Reed of Hoquiam, Wash., he will hear of something to his advantage. 10-25-1mop

All Our Millinery at Cost C. W. ELKINS D. A. Findlay of Rosland, was in town Monday. Mr. Findlay reports his cattle to be in good condition considering the fact that he has just brought them in from the Klamath range, a drive of 90 miles. He only sold a few of his best cattle at Klamath as the market price there is from a half to three-quarters of a cent lower on the pound than the home market. J. W. Howard returned the last of the week from San Francisco where he has been spending the greater part of the spring and summer. Mr. Howard has erected several buildings in the business district of the Bay City and is leasing them to different mercantile firms. He says he believes it will be 10 or 15 years before the city is rebuilt, and that practically all of the new buildings will be constructed of re-inforced concrete. Capital at present is timid about investing in the city and it will take a number of years before confidence is again restored to that section which was so badly shaken by the earthquake. Mr. Howard left the first of this week for his ranch west of Lower Bridge to look after his cattle there which are in charge of his son, John.

School Books and School Supplies at ADAMSON'S Halloween evening was observed by the young people of Prineville in a manner which made much fun for themselves, but which to the irate owners of gates, outbuildings and other movable material was a lot of nonsense. A number of the owners of gates however, had taken the precaution to move their gates inside the house before evening and thus escaped having to hunt the town over for the same. The main street of the town this morning looked as if it had been moved over during the night. A motley collection of outbuildings, signs and wagons, etc., had been moved to the bank corner and there arranged in rows to represent the main street of a town. The different signs that had been collected for the occasion had been hung on the various buildings denoting that one was a real estate office, another a lunch counter, rough and dressed lumber, and Dr. Harold Clark's dental sign had a place in the collection. Behind the row of buildings an array of the wagons, machinery, etc., was placed, forming quite a striking scene, to the owners. On a telephone pole was placed the dummy of a man being hung by the neck. It furnished a fine collection. Entertainment and Foot Social. The entertainment and foot social to be given by the ladies of Juniper Circle as announced in last week's issue to be given on Friday evening, November 9th, at Belknap's Hall will consist in part of the following program: Duncann Macleod will sing a Scotch ballad, A. B. Roller will recite, the mandolin club will furnish several instrumental pieces, a tableaux, Cindrella's Slipper; a moving tableaux, Old Woman who lived in a Shoe; a paper on the care of the feet by one of the physicians of the city will be prepared and read. In addition to these other numbers will be added to the program during the week. After the entertainment comes the foot social. While this is something new in Prineville it has been tried in other places and was successful. It will consist of selling of feet to the highest bidder, who is entitled to eat luncheon with the party whose feet he has purchased. M. R. Biggs will be the auctioneer. All ladies attending are asked to bring luncheon for two. As an inducement to the ladies a prize consisting of a fine pair of shoes will be given to the one whose feet sell for the highest price. The shoes will be on display at Rideout & Foster's Monday. An admission charge of 10 cents will be made.
