Rev. B. W. Bass and family left yesterday for Roseburg where they will make their future home.

John Jones and family of Powell Buttes have moved to town in order to send their children to school here.

Next Saturday is Aster-Day at I. Michel's. The members of the Civic Improvement Brigade please bear this in mind.

Rev. Bellington, of Forest Grove, state secretary of the Christian church, will preach in the Union church next Sunday both morning and evening.

The county clerk experienced a busy day Tuesday. That office took sixteen land proofs which required the taking of testimony of almost fifty people.

R. M. Morris of Culver was in town the first of the week. He is one of the many people in that locality that complain of the time it takes to get mail from the county seat.

Rev. E. C. Holladay has been appointed to succeed Rev. Jinnett as pastor of the M. E. church at this place. Rev. Jinnett goes to Goldendale, Wash.

Mrs. Combs and her daughter, Mrs. W. F. King, were passengers to Shaniko today. Mrs. Combs will spend the winter at Preston, Calif., and Mrs. King will accompany her as far as Portland.

Business is rushing in the stage lines these days. Yesterday J. H. Beams dispatched a stage at one o'clock with the mail and express and nine passengers, and another a little later with about the same number of passengers.

W. F. Hammer returned the first of the week from a trip over the Madras country. Mr. Hammer says that the farmers are all getting more grain than they expected and the question now is what they can do with it.

F. A. Rice, the civil engineer, has just completed a plat of McCaffery's addition to the townsite of Sisters. The work is well executed and would indicate that the town of Sisters appreciates its position with regard to probable railroad building.

Miss Anna Beard and Frederick McCormack were married at the home of Ed Slayton last evening. Rev. Ridenour performed the ceremony. There were about thirty invited guests present. The young couple left today for Portland, Salem and other points before settling down on their farm near Brownsville.

Mr. Wilt of Sisters was in town yesterday.

Mrs. Jerry Barber of Culver was in town Thursday.

William Combs has bought the Ralph Jordan place.

Carlson-Stewart Wedding

J. W. Carlson of Schenectady, N. Y., was married yesterday at 11 o'clock to Miss Una Stewart, the youngest daughter of D. F. Stewart of this place. The Rev. J. T. Moore performed the ceremony in the presence of the members of the family.

After the wedding dinner the young people left on the stage for a visit to Portland, Spokane and Chicago. From the latter place they will proceed to Schenectady, their future home.

It is doubtful if ever a young bride left Prineville followed by so many good wishes as did Mrs. Carlson. Not only by good wishes but by several and diverse tokens of esteem in the shape of old shoes, placards and flags. Covering the "boot" of the stage was a large placard announcing "Can't You See; Just Married." A flag from the rear of the coach bore an invitation to "Meet the Bride." Plenty of rice was in evidence and it is safe to say the young couple will remember their wedding send-off for a long time.

The bride is the youngest daughter of D. F. Stewart of this place, and is a general favorite with everybody. The bridegroom is an Oregon boy and is a graduate of the O. A. C. at Corvallis. The young man is an electrician and is employed with the General Electrical Company of Schenectady.

The best wishes of hosts of friends go with them to their future home in New York.

Change of Dates

Owing to the fact that many turfmen were unable to get their horses to Prineville for the races during the coming fair, the date has been changed to October 24, 25, 26, 28, 29. This date will permit of horses making the regular racing circuit and reaching Prineville in time to take part in the greatest meet ever held here. So everybody will please bear in mind that instead of holding the fair from Oct. 15 to 19, it will be held from the 24th to the 29th. Everybody get in line and boost.

A Superb Edition

The fifth anniversary edition of the Portland Journal issued September 8 is a magnificent testimonial to the spirit of enterprise and progress possessed by the youngest of the great metropolitan dailies of Portland. It is a credit, not only to Portland but to the whole state of Oregon. Its appearance just now is timely. People are flocking to Oregon in great numbers and a copy of this superb edition would settle once for all any doubts about the country. Beautiful half-tones represent leading features from all parts of the state and these pictures are supplemented by able descriptive articles. The edition contains 160 pages and weighs over 14 pounds. Do not fail to secure a copy.

Remember the Redmond Fair

The people of Prineville and Crook county generally must not overlook the Redmond fair which will be held from September 19 to 21. Everybody enjoyed themselves at the Redmond fair last year and it is guaranteed that the fair this year will be "bigger, better and busier than ever." The alliteration is all right. It sounds good. Redmond did the proper thing at the Prineville fair last year and we feel confident that their generous spirit will be reciprocated a week hence.
