ACCIDENTALLY DROWNED

The Body of Edward Hurlburt

FOUND IN THE RIVER

Redmond, Ore., Dec. 22.

This neighborhood has been the scene of quite a tragedy that resulted in the death of Ed Hurlburt, manager of the Cline Falls Power Company's ranch.

Mr. Hurlburt was last seen alive by L. E. Prickett about 11:30 a. m. Saturday, as he started down over the bluff from the ranch house to the power house to turn on the ram that furnishes water to the house. Mr. Muller, the cook, came in about noon from the schoolhouse, where he had been helping trim a Christmas tree. He got his dinner, ate it, washed the dishes, and left dinner on the table for Mr. H., whom he expected would be in soon and returned to the schoolhouse. When he again returned about 4 o'clock and found that no one had been there he commenced a search, starting down for the power house.

When about two-thirds of the way down he saw a hat lying near the water and after going a little further down saw the body itself in the intake to the flume that leads down to the ram and turbine pump, lying face downward and floating in four or five feet of water. He drew the body out and went for assistance and with the help of Messrs. Bishop, Chase and Meredith, carried it to the house at the top of the hill. The first ones to see the body thought that they saw signs of foul play in what seemed to be a bullet wound at the inside of one eye. A close examination by the coroner, however, showed that this was not the case—that there was no evidence of violence. A bruise on the forehead was found, but hardly one that would have had a serious effect. The brain seemed entirely normal, also the heart which was being examined at the time the writer was there.

It seems that Mr. Hurlburt must have cleaned out the screens that let water down to the ram, gone down and started the ram, came back and crossed the flume, then perhaps have been taken with a fainting fit or heart failure.

A preliminary inquest was held Saturday evening before Justice of the Peace Jones who was called, a final hearing before the coroner being set for Monday evening. The following are the jurors: Meredith, McCarty, Sears, the other mail carrier, Lilly and Harader. The Prineville parties, the coroner, judge, sheriff and deputy arrived about 1 o'clock today and will probably work all night.

The deceased was a young man of exemplary habits who came here eight or nine months ago to take Mr. Thompson's place as manager of the company farm in which his brother, Mr. Hurlburt of the Shaniko bank, is quite a heavy stockholder. The brother is expected in from Shaniko some time tonight.

The tragedy has naturally put quite a damper on the Christmas festivities which were to take place Saturday night and they have been postponed until Wednesday evening.

LATER

After a thorough investigation of the circumstances surrounding the death of the unfortunate young man the county authorities came to the conclusion that the drowning was accidental. Sheriff Elkins, Deputy Sheriff Combs, Judge Bell and Dr. Edwards went to Cline Falls Sunday to look into the affair. Dr. Edwards made a postmortem and found no evidence of foul play. The brain and heart were examined which showed that there was neither blood clots nor hemorrhage. The heart showed there was valvular insufficiency which was pronounced enough to cause heart trouble. It is the opinion of the doctor that the exertions of the young man in going to the hydraulic ram caused an unusual flow of blood to the heart and this in turn made him sick. He felt the need of some water and laying his hat aside on the bank proceeded to get it. In stooping over the embankment of the intake became dizzy or lost consciousness and fell into the water. That the man was alive when he fell in is attested by the fact that water was found in his lungs. That Hurlburt ran or rather jumped down the sidehill is shown by his foot prints in making the descent to the stream.

Redmond Items

It does not look very much like a desert out this way with two whole days and nights of almost continuous showers.

H. C. Bauer and Mr. Landerback are in from the ditch camp for some time.

W. S. McEwing was in Bend for lumber the past week. He gets tired of rummaging around in the wet for stovewood.

Several farmers of this vicinity were hauling from the Prineville Flouring Mill the latter part of the week.

On a trip to O'Neil last Wednesday three new houses that we had not seen before, either completed or in process of construction, was all we could find. There is another one started the past week but it is not on that road.

The house warming at W. E. Young's Friday night was entirely successful, about fifty being present. Elegant refreshments were served.

McLallin and Welch were among the hunters the past week. We did not hear whether they got any mountain sheep or not.

Yours truly will soon have some more dead junipers and totem poles lying around when we get that new stump puller limbered up.

Although the ladies labored under quite a severe disadvantage on account of the weather they feel quite well satisfied with the outcome of the bazaar. Quite a neat sum was realized from the sale of the many nice articles on hand.

New Forms For Applications and Proofs

The department of the interior, general land office at Washington, D. C. has issued the following notice: New forms of applications for Homestead Entry, Soldier's Additional Homestead Entry, Desert Land Entry, and for Timber or Stone Sworn Statements, Timber or Stone Final Proofs, Coal Land Proofs and Yearly Proof in Desert Land cases have been adopted, and on and after March 1, 1908, no entries will be allowed in the class of cases above mentioned unless executed upon the new official forms, or upon forms which are exact duplicates thereof, both as to wording, arrangement, and size. Each of said forms is a combination of the several forms and affidavits formerly required to be filed in such cases, and the use thereof will result in a saving of time, labor, and expense to the local land officers, proof-taking officers, and claimants.

R. A. BALLINGER, Commissioner.

The Key that Unlocks the Door to Long Living.

The men of eighty-five and ninety years of age are not the rotund well fed, but thin, spare men who live on a slender diet. Be as careful as he will, however, a man past middle age, will occasionally eat too much or of some article of food not suited to his constitution, and will need a dose of Chamberlain's Stomach and Liver Tablets to cleanse and invigorate his stomach and regulate his liver and bowels. When this is done there is no reason why the average man should not live to old age. For sale by D. P. Adamson.

Rolled barley, lowest cash price at J. E. Stewart & Co.
