H. L. Holgate for Joint Senator.

The candidacy of H. L. Holgate, a prominent Klamath county citizen, for the republican nomination for the joint senatorship of this district, has been informally announced. In his home county he has strong support, especially from the ranchers, farmers and stockmen, with whose interests he has been actively identified, and his candidacy will appeal to the voters of Crook and Lake.

Mr. Holgate was born in Oregon, at Corvallis, and has been a resident of Klamath for several years. He is 40 years of age and for 15 years has been a member of the Oregon bar. He has never held nor sought a public office, except that upon the organization of the United States reclamation service he was tendered, and accepted, the assistant attorneyship for that governmental department in that capacity he served four years in Washington, D. C., and in the western states. He previously served one year in the Philippines as a member of the Oregon Volunteers. He has a wide acquaintance with the public men of the state and is familiar with legislation and legislative methods.

Mr. Holgate is a resident of Bonanza, Klamath county, where he is managing a bank, and is also interested in the Bonanza Creamery, Farmers' Telephone system and similar organizations of that enterprising community.

Judge Willits for Joint Senator.

We announce the candidacy this week of Judge L. F. Willits of Klamath Falls for the nomination of joint senator at the coming primary election. Judge Willits is well qualified for the position. He is a man of about 50 years of age and has lived in Lake and Klamath counties for the past twenty or twenty-five years. He is a large taxpayer and is interested in projects for the promotion of the community in which he lives. Mr. Willits was county judge four years and gave an excellent administration of that office.

Need of Water Legislation

At the request of Gov. Chamberlain State Engineer Lewis has compiled a special report on the need of water legislation for Oregon. In asking for the report the governor said:

"The great uncertainty as to titles to water, the wide differences of opinion among the ablest water lawyers as to what the water law of this state really is, and the vast amount of capital that is already invested in this state in works depending upon the use of water, make it absolutely necessary that Oregon at an early date place upon her statute books a complete, concise and definite code of law governing the use and distribution of water, patterned after the modern laws of Wyoming, Idaho and Canada, where titles to water are as secure as titles to land. Oregon's sin, not so much of commission as of omission, in this matter, is becoming notorious among the states of the west, where the diversion and use of water is necessary, and if persisted in, will greatly retard the settlement of lands already reclaimed, and discourage further development of our great water resources."

After carefully reviewing the situation in which he dwelt upon the existing evils and showing the harm done to the state by the lack of adequate legislation. Engineer Lewis set forth the following under the head, "Needed Legislation:"

"In view of the existing conditions, it would appear to be the duty of the state:

"First—To provide a means whereby the priority and limitations of every existing right to the use of water can eventually be determined.

"Second—To provide for a complete record of all water rights.

"Third—To provide for the protection of these rights by an effective administrative system.

"Fourth—To determine the amount of water available for new uses.

"Fifth—To provide a definite method of procedure for acquiring rights to such unappropriated water.

"Sixth—To provide suitable penalties for the proper enforcement of such law. No right to the use of the state's public waters should become vested unless initiated in compliance with the provisions of the law."
