The man who is too big a coward to thus express his opinion is the very one who will stand on the corner and talk loudly about the cowardice of the editor. The world is full of moral cowards, men who see evil and are afraid to grapple with it. Probably if the shoe tracks of ninetenths of the people who come to an office to teach the editor could be traced home the tracks would be found to lead to the homes of men who never go to a circus or interest themselves in the candidacy or election of a county attorney or attorney general who would enforce the law. The world is full of men and women who like to play to an audience, who like to sit in the galleries and cheer the man who is losing his hide and most of his resipiratory and digestive apparatus in the arena fighting the beast of evil. Not one in ten thousand climbs down and helps. Every newspaper receives enough unsigned communications in six months time to keep him in trouble the rest of his lifetime if he would publish them All newspapers get them. Let the editor stand up for decency as per instructions of the old valued substitutions of the old valued scriber; let the editor denounce or stone than for agricultural purposes, and to establish, his claim to said land before the county clerk, at Princeville, to hint at over his signature, and Oregon, on the 10th day of April 1908. the town the devil is fighting back, accusing the editor of double mowhen in the stores and offices of accusing the editor of double mo- Any and all persons claiming actives, calling him a blackmailer versely the above-described lands are and abusing him generally-who is the little man drawing his head April, 1908. down under his collar like a turtle?
