

OLD MARRIED PEOPLE

Dale Jones and Miss Maude Brown Were Married June 24.

You bet, a woman can keep a secret for a few days at least. Here is a wedding that took place June 24 and this is the first inkling the public has had of it. Dale Jones and Miss Maude Brown are the newly wedded pair. Dr. Dunsmore performed the ceremony. There were just two others present—Warren Brown, the brother of the bride, and Miss May Belle Reed. The whole affair was to be kept a secret until announced in the Journal. The young bride left today for a visit with friends and relatives at Haystack and Culver. Dale leaves this afternoon for a three weeks' outing at the head of the Mackenzie. When he returns the happy young couple will go to housekeeping. The best wishes of the Journal go with them.

In Memoriam.

Another fell from the fast thinning ranks of the Oregon pioneers last Wednesday, July 1, when Mrs. Matilda J. Knox passed away at her home near Post.

She came to Oregon in 1853, then ten years of age, and lived at Creswell, Lane county, until 1887, when she, with her family, moved to Crook county, where she has resided up to the time of her death. She was married at Creswell in June, 1861, where most of her 13 children were born. Eleven children are still living, all of whom were at her bedside during her sickness, and are still with their father, who is also in a serious condition of health. The children, all of whom are grown, have spared no expense nor pains to care for or minister to the needs of their parents. Indeed, their devotion is warmly commended by all who have knowledge of the case.

Mrs. Knox died triumphant in the Christian faith and although suffering intensely, was upheld by unseen power, so that she was able to comfort those who came to comfort her.

The remains were laid to rest in the Newsom Creek Cemetery last Thursday afternoon, the services being conducted by the Rev. C. A. House of this city.
