

C. O. D. WOMAN BOUND OVER Ada Pierce Held to Await Action of the Circuit Court Under $250 Bonds.

Ada Pierce, of Dayville, Grant county, who was sent C. O. D. to Prineville last week, was placed on preliminary trial Saturday at the court house before Justice R. Sharp, charged with the larceny of a horse and saddle. This was the first case to come before the newly elected justice. M. E. Brink prosecuted, George Barnes appeared as counsel for the defendant, and J. H. Beckley of the Coil Springs ranch near Paulina, took the stand as complainant and prosecuting witness.

The hearing itself was quite ordinary, the result being that Miss Pierce, who is 20 years old, was bound over to await trial in the circuit court under $250 bonds, but the interchange of words between opposing counsel and the prosecuting witness was on the facetious and sometimes on the spectacular order. The lie was passed very plainly at least once between Beckley and Barnes, who had to be cautioned by the court, and there were a number of ambiguous questions and answers.

The prosecution tried to wring from Miss Pierce a confession that the reason she had chosen to come to Prineville rather than go to Burns for trial, was because she believed her lover in the alleged crime, a man named Sheffield, who, she says, she has known since she was 14 years of age, was to meet her here (in custody), although it now appears that the said Sheffield is held at Mitchell. The young woman, however, only tacitly admitted this fact, saying that she had hoped to see the man she liked so well even though he were under arrest, the same as she was. Her principal defense for going off with Mr. Beckley's outfit the way they did, was that both she and Sheffield were sick and had to go to some nearby town to seek relief for their distress.

ESTEBENET CHARGED WITH ARSON

Habeas Corpus Writ Dismissed and Bail Fixed at $1250---Still in Jail.

Charged with arson, and also held on a charge of selling liquor unlawfully, A. B. Estebenet is locked up in the Crook county jail awaiting trial on the criminal docket at the October term of court, which convenes in Prineville Monday, October 5.

Both preliminary trials were held last Friday at Bend before Justice V. J. O'Connor. He was held on the arson charge in the sum of $2500. A change of venue was granted in the liquor case. Estebenet has not yet been able to furnish his bond.

At the hearings Attorney G. L. Bernier of Prineville appeared as special prosecutor for the state, and Attorney F. H. Greenman of Bend defended.

On the complaint alleging unlawful sale of liquor, motion was made and granted for a charge of venue, defendant's counsel submitting an affidavit. This charge will, consequently, be reheard at some place other than Bend, and probably before the next term of court convenes.

Estebenet is the ex-saloon keeper of Bend whose place of business opposite the Bend Hotel was twice on fire within one week recently.

Estebenet's case came up again today before County Judge Ellis on habeas corpus proceedings, in an attempt to release the defendant from jail. Attorney F. H. Greenman came down from Bend to represent his client. After a lengthy legal dissertation, Judge Ellis dismissed the writ and held the prisoner. Estebenet's bail, however, was reduced to $1,250, which he may be able to furnish.

Booths Acquitted in the Federal Court

W. A. Booth of Prineville returned from Portland this week happy in the verdicts of acquittal rendered in the federal court in the cases of his two brothers and brother-in-law, who were defendants before Judge Wolverton in what has been known as the Booth-Singleton conspiracy case. Only two of the jurors were against acquittal at any time during the proceedings, and these finally acquiesced in the unanimous opinion of the majority.

Robert A. Booth, ex-state senator, was freely acquitted of the conspiracy charge; J. H. Booth, ex-receiver of the Roseburg land office, was acquitted for the second time in the federal court; and their brother-in-law, Thomas E. Singleton, was also exonerated of blame.

Tears of joy mingled with hearty congratulations were in evidence after Clerk Marsh had finished reading the verdicts, each of which was individually separate. Each of the three verdicts is equivalent to complete vindication.

Redmond News.

REDMOND, Or., Aug. 3.—Last Saturday, a little girl; not so very little, either, for she weighed 10 lb; made appearance at the home of Mr. and Mrs. D. W. C. Woods and was given a royal welcome.

Campers are in town to the extent of twelve children and some older folks. They, the older folks, were land purchasers some time since, but seem to have trouble now in locating their land.

W. L. Gibson was hunting horses Saturday morning which were stolen again. We presume that he found them later in the day or that they came home again.

The Ladies' Aid has another ice cream social on for Thursday afternoon and evening. The refreshments will be served at the school house.

Latest advice received from Miss Olive Smith at Spokane are to the effect that she is out of danger. Friends of the family will be glad to learn the cheering news.

We understand that A. E. Anderson is soon to leave here. He has sold his town lots, east of the Redfield property, to J. E. Lamb who thinks they may come handy when the railroad comes in.

E. C. PARK.
