

LOCAL MENTION

Johnny Luckey is off on a hunting trip.
G. Springer and wife of Culver were in town Friday.
W. F. King and wife left yesterday for the huckleberry patch.
Miss Clara Horney will teach at Madras the coming school year.
Mr. and Mrs. C. W. Elkins are expected home from Portland this evening.
Floyd A. Rowell of Post was in town today making arrangements to prove up on his homestead.
Miss Rose Gibson will begin a fall term of school at the lower Mill Creek schoolhouse Monday.
Miss Verna Howard has been engaged to teach the Johnson ranch school. It will begin September 21.
Miss Elvah Dobbs will teach the Lower Rye Grass school this term. It will commence about the middle of September.
R. G. Smith and family and Prince Glaze and wife left Saturday on a huckleberry expedition to the slopes of Jefferson.
Mrs. John Howard and Mrs. Roy Howard were in town the first of the week. The latter was making yearly proof on her desert claim.
W. A. Davis, a carpenter and cabinet maker, who worked for many years in Prineville, fell off a building at Medford last week and received injuries which caused his death.
There is a new confectionery store in the corner of the O'Neil Restaurant. The stock of candies is new and fresh and will be found very choice. Fresh fruits in season will always be found in stock.
Everett Gee and N. Wylie of Spokane are in Prineville looking up the prospects for a real estate business. They are favorably impressed with this country and believe it is on the eve of marvelous development. Mr. Gee is a brother of Hugh Gee of Combs Flat.
The fall cattle ride commenced last Saturday on Camp creek and will continue with brief interruption until snow flies. Two camp wagons will be used for the accommodation of the men and an area as large as the state of Delaware will be covered in the immense roundup. From ten to thirty men will be in the saddle all of the time the ride is in progress and the cattle which will be handled number into the thousands. The object of the ride will be the branding of calves, gathering beef and collecting such cattle as have strayed far from their home range. Truly, central Oregon is a great country.

County court convenes next Wednesday.
You never smoked a milder cigar than the La Rosa.
Buy your shoes of J. E. Stewart & Co. They give the best values.
The opening fall meeting of the Ladies' Annex will be held at the hall September 1.
All this section of country was visited by a generous fall of rain Friday and Saturday.

A. H. Lippmann returned from a two weeks' visit to Portland and other points Tuesday evening.
Miss Nellie Reynolds of Powell Buttes will take charge of the McKay school when it opens this fall.
C. C. Dunham and family have returned from a trip over the mountains to Eugene, where they spent three weeks.
Miss Hazel Howard has gone to Portland to purchase the fall stock of millinery for C. W. Elkins, and while she is away Miss Iva Booth is filling her place at the store.
Wednesday, Sept. 2, will be Aster day at Clifton & Cornett's store, under the auspices of the Civic improvement brigade. Prizes of $1.50 for the largest specimen and $1 for the best collection of asters are offered.
J. A. Douthit, a pioneer Oregon citizen, who has a number of relatives in Crook county, lies in a critical condition at a sanitarium in The Dalles and his recovery is despaired of. Mr. Douthit was the founder of the Review and is widely known throughout the county.
Ora Van Tassel, a well known resident of Madras, was a caller at the Journal office today. He says his section of country is enthusiastic over the railroad outlook. He reports crops in the Lamonta district very fair, but with a falling off from last year's banner yield in the Agency plains wheat belt.
Merchants and others are warned against cashing money orders for strangers, the same as checks. Not that a genuine money order is valueless, but because recently a large number of blank money orders have been stolen from government tills in robberies of small country post offices, and these are being cashed over a wide area by the burglars and their confederates.
T. T. Monger, forest assistant, arrived in Prineville Wednesday morning. He is here to make a special study of what was formerly the Fremont reserve, with the object of discovering why conditions in this area favor the rapid growth of the lodge pole pine, an undesirable variety, to the detriment of other trees more useful. He is one of several new appointees by the government to conduct this work in a further extension of the U. S. forestry service.

Prof. Horace A. Dillard, a prominent educator and old-time news paper man of this state, who died at his home in Burns August 16, was married in Prineville in 1883 to Miss Ollie Hodges, daughter of Alexander Hodges. His widow and three children, two sons and one daughter, survive him. Mr. Dillard was born near Springfield, Mo., on July 18, 1854, and came to Oregon when a small boy, his family settling in the Willamette valley. He came to interior Oregon in the early 80s and went to Burns 23 years ago, where he founded the first newspaper in Harney county. He also edited the Prineville News for several years.

John Sizemore is here again from Bend for a week or 10 days' sojourn.
Madras was represented here on Friday by Mattie Wilson, W. A. Lee and Addie Barlow.
Bendites in town during the week included C. E. Waldron, Fred Schmitt and G. W. Walters.
Hay Creek citizens were plentiful on the streets of the county seat this week. T. W. Long and Ray Wilson were here Saturday, J. G. Edwards arrived in his big auto Monday with James Rice, leaving Tuesday for Bend.
Two brothers named Pierce passed through Prineville Tuesday in a camp wagon bound for Harney county, from whence they will return by a devious route, possibly again by way of this city, to their home in the Rogue river valley. They are looking over the country, camping, hunting and fishing.
Many telephone poles on the road to Powell Buttes and Bend have rotted off at the bottom and fallen, carrying the wire down with them. The wire must be of unusually strong texture, as it has in no case been broken and in nearly each instance continues to support the weight of the fallen poles. But sleet and a cold snap next winter will surely fix it and cut off wire communication.
Jim Wilson and Bruce Heister of Paulina, Ben Gotter of Redmond, and John Alden Seabury of Prineville, recently explored the little known cavern which has its entrance in the middle of the flat some six miles southwest of Paulina, back of the Roberts ranch. The entrance is small, but the cave slopes downward at an angle of 40 degree for nearly 200 feet, with traces of water at the bottom. In all there are five interior shafts, but in no place can a man stand upright, though the roof is 60 or 70 feet across. The feeling inside is that the roof is about to crush out one's life. The cave is occupied by a colony of porcupines in the winter and has been christened Porcupine cave.

Prineville will enjoy roller skating this winter, and the hum of the skates will resound on the floor of the P. A. C. building after Oct. 1, possibly sooner. In this connection it can be stated that Ora Parker, who left this city four years ago, has returned from Goldendale, Wash., and is now at the Poindexter hotel. He came back with the express intention of opening a rink on the left bank of the Ochoco just off Main street, but when he was made aware that the club had already ordered skates he decided to shelve his own plans. It is likely he will be made manager of the club for the winter.

DIED.

At the residence of his son in Prineville, Oregon, Aug. 26, 1908, Thomas Brink, aged 78 years.
Thomas Brink was born on a farm in Indiana, July 19, 1830, and when 5 years old removed with his parents to the then wilderness of Illinois, settling near Rock river and being the first settler on the site of the present city of Sterling.
When a boy he hauled grain to Ft. Dearborn, now Chicago, with an ox team. In 1848 he was in one of the first wagon trains to cross the plains to the gold fields of California, returning by way of Cape Horn and New York in 1851. He accompanied another wagon train to California in 1852 and returned to Sterling by way of Panama and New York in 1853. He was married December 14, 1859, to Miss Mary E. Vrooman. In 1874 he removed with his family to Oregon, locating at Albany, where he engaged in business until about three years ago, when he retired by reason of failing health. Last January Mr. Brink suffered a stroke of partial paralysis and he then determined to remove to central Oregon in the hope that the change of altitude and climate would prove beneficial. He arrived in Prineville August 9 and for awhile it was thought he would eventually recover, but a second stroke last Saturday left him entirely paralyzed and unconscious, and he passed peacefully away Wednesday evening. Mr. Brink is survived by his widow, a daughter and two sons.

Which CREAM SEPARATOR is Cheapest?

Several catalogues houses are offering "just as good" cream separators for sale at a lower price than the U. S. Cream Separator sells for. But before the unfortunate purchaser of one of these "mail order" separators gets through paying the repair bills he finds that first cost isn't the only difference. The "cheap" separators soon get out of fix because they are built of cheap material, and loosely put together. The cost of repairs alone in the first year or two would pay the difference in price between one of them and a U. S. But more important still they do not skim clean, they waste cream at every skimming.

U. S. CREAM SEPARATORS have stood the test of time. Many of them have been in use for 10 years or more, and have cost their owners next to nothing for repairs. They are easy running, skim cleaner than any others, have a simple, easy-to-wash bowl; enclosed, safety gearing and a convenient, low milk tank. See a U. S. Separator for yourself—that's the best way. They are sold by

The Horton "Spinner" washing machine. One of the latest and best machines on the market. Price is no higher than for old style machines.

HARDWARE DEPARTMENT

We are constantly adding new lines in this department and can fill almost any want in tinware, graniteware, wooden and willow ware, garden and lawn supplies, ammunition, etc. You will be pleased with our prices.
