Fruit Farm For $200, and a Town Lot Free, at Beautiful Lakeview.

The opening of the old Oregon Military Road Grant through the Lake and Harney counties is throwing upon the market the best and cheapest lands in Oregon. It is the opportunity of a lifetime for Oregon people and investors.

For sale, in tracts of 10, 20, 40, 80, 160 and 1,000 acres, the small tracts suitable for fruit and farming, the large tracts for grazing. Best of the following extra from a letter from George Conn, the first United States Land Office Receiver at Lakeview: "Lakeview, Oregon, June 17, 1908.—Oregon Valley Land Co.—Gentlemen: In 1863 I came to Lake county and am, therefore, one of the oldest pioneers. The road was established through the best portion of Southern Oregon, and even in 1863 I recall that the grant was, in many places, literally covered with wild plums, and, with rare exceptions, these natural fruits have borne fruit every year since, not to speak of the planted and cultivated trees, which possess a remarkable flavor and have thriven quite as successfully. Of late years, perhaps, the range, especially along the Military Road, has been grazed too closely, still, if fenced, it reproduces very rapidly and constitutes a country which, even if used as in the past, chiefly for stock, enables the owner to grow and raise to become independent in a short time, literally, at that early date, and until about 1885, the natural grasses were over knee-deep and covered the great bulk of the grant, and if protected this same condition would return. Yours truly, George Conn."

Don't miss the opportunity to become owner of a piece of good Oregon land. You won't have to spend a lifetime grubbing stumps.

Willow Creek Lumber—the best in the county—for sale by A. H. Lippman & Co.

Teachers' Institute.

tendent R. A. Ford and George Jones' Monthly at Salem, were the instructors; by their talks, lessons and lectures enhanced the value of the institute greatly, leading to it added interest and making it comprehensive in scope and valuable educationally to everyone who attended the interesting sessions.

Space naturally precludes even an attempt to report fully, or in epitome, the various phases of the addresses; therefore only a few passages can be picked at random for public edification. Those of the public, as well as the teachers, who went and listened were abundantly repaid for their trouble, and the truths told and modern methods of handling the child advanced will long live in the minds of all such persons.

Ackerman's Achievements.

During the term of years during which he has been state superintendent of public instruction, Mr. Ackerman has accomplished much, and without any spirit of vainglory but merely as one of the leading exponents in the nation of better methods of education, he told in the closing lecture at the Presbyterian church Friday night of what the Oregon legislature has done since he has been in office for this state, an era of wonderful advancement all along the line.

Some of these enactments call for a high school in each county, compulsory education, more ample salaries, cheap text books for rural schools and an entirely new set of school text books for the regular courses of study. These are fore-runners only of still greater progress to come.

For the benefit of school funds Mr. Ackerman advocates an income and an inheritance tax. He also urges the passage of a law creating one school board for each county, thus doing away with separate school boards in each district. Although this may seem radical it is no more radical says Mr. Ackerman than the county courts governing all roads, etc., as is now done.

Nor was the institute without its humorous side. Prof. Alderman, who is a wit, poked quite a bit of fun at his conferees in a very good natured way, and Mr. Ackerman responded in kind.
