In the matter of a guarantee by citizens of Prineville for the sum of $6400 on the new court house. Whereas, it appears by the certificate of John B. Shipp, contractor, that the tower of the new court house is under construction, and clock ordered, it is ordered by the court that the clerk notify the signers of a certain memorandum guaranteeing $6400 to said county, upon certain conditions, that half of said sum is now due and request payment thereof.

Fulton Scores Bryan.

tors at Washington to vote with the republicans to pay Spain $20,000,000 for the Philippine Islands. In 1907, when he returned from his world tour, in a speech at New York, Mr. Bryan announced government ownership of railways to be the paramount issue of the campaign of 1908, yet now he is advocating guaranteed bank deposits. I take it that Mr. Bryan has not the courage of his own convictions; if, indeed, he has any.

In closing, Senator Fulton paid his tribute to William Howard Taft. The eulogy of this great statesman, who has never faltered, never failed, at the most stupendous task, as lawyer, judge, governor of the Philippines, or secretary of war, was eloquent, and when he finally urged the people to vote for the republican nominee and mentioned the name of Taft, he was applauded and cheered to the echo.

Occupying seat on the stage were J. N. Williamson, chairman; Dr. H. P. Belknap, Mayor Will Wurzeiler, Judge M. E. Brink, Sheriff Frank Elkins and Dr. James Withycombe of Corvallis.

Senator Fulton left Prineville Wednesday for Shaniko, from which place he goes by rail to Condon. Engagements at Grass Valley and Moro had to be cancelled because of the heavy rains.

Culver Cullings.

CULVER, Or., Oct. 13.—The roll of the Culver school has now swelled to 25 pupils, with all the grades represented.

O. G. Collver's brother from Hillsboro is visiting him at Culver.

According to last reports men are still busy getting the right of way for the railroad in the Culver precinct.

M. E. Green and family of Colorado have moved on one of Henry Windon's ranches, two miles southeast of Culver.

Culver and Haystack people are rejoicing over a fine rain which will settle the dust for some time to come.

Joe Mendenhall went to Shaniko Saturday to take his parents, who will spend the winter at Sheridan for Mr. Mendenhall's health.

Mrs. May Schooling has been ailing at the George Osborn home.

George Osborn took a business trip to Madras Monday, and incidentally heard Senator Fulton speak there.

Lowe's Dramatic Co.

Mr. Lowe's Madison Square Theater Co. has been playing to packed houses all week, and this evening's production of "The Clay Baker," which drew crowds every night during a six months' run in New York, will surely be royally received.

Mr. Lowe has assembled about him, in his troupe, actors and actresses of talent, who have highly pleased the fair week crowds at the productions given here. Nearly all his plays are well known to the theater-going public, and "In Old Kentucky," which was presented Wednesday night, was especially well received.

It goes almost without saying that every seat will be taken at tonight's and Saturday night's shows, and that Mr. Lowe's enterprise and individuality in the world of pantomime will not go unrewarded. The Burns papers speak highly of the Madison Square Co., and their appearance in that city last week, and certainly the troupe will leave Prineville with no iota less of commendation.

Settlers Coming In.

M. J. Lemons, a rancher of Buck creek, 95 miles southeast of Prineville, near the Harney county line, while in the city a few days ago spoke encouragingly and optimistically of the future insofar as his part of the county is concerned. He said that while practically all of the land in his neighborhood, and for miles and miles around, is still subject to entry by homesteaders, settlers are coming in more rapidly than ever in the past and the country is assuming a more civilized aspect with each passing year.

Until two years ago, one might almost say less than one year ago, the big stockmen—long accustomed to feed their cattle on the wide expanse of the government ranges—discouraged homesteaders from locating in Crook county, and much of the county's area remained a terra incognita to the intending settler. Now all this is changed. Instead of placing obstacles in the way the big stockmen realize the inevitable trend of a rapidly developing civilization and are encouraging homesteaders and land purchasers with a little money to locate right in the heart of the cattle district. This means more people, more improvements, the driving back and conquering of the erstwhile wilderness, more earning power and more money in circulation and lower taxes for every resident of Crook county; in other words, better times and railroads.

Only a short time ago, said Mr. Lemons, a party of capitalists were in the Paulina and Buck creek neighborhoods looking over the topography of the country with a view to segregating a portion of it under the provisions of the Carey act. Should they finally take this matter up, the conservation reservation will be located on Swamp creek with a dam at the canyon mouth. Below are at least 4,000 acres of irrigable land which would be reclaimed from the desert if the project is put through, as seems likely.

Redmond News.

REDMOND, Or., Oct. 11.—The writer is much disappointed in not being able even to be present at the Prineville fair. Owing to our absence from home there will be no notes from Redmond next week, unless Volunteer will send in the week's happenings.
