CREAMERY NEWS.

Novel Work at the Kansas Experiment Station.

By Professor OSCAR IRFF.

Investigations were carried on to construct a floor for a creamery that will be sanitary and at the same time will be comfortable and healthful to the operators. Up to the present time this has been a serious problem. Cement has been the best material to be used for creamery and cheese factory floors, but they have always been cold and unhealthful to the operator. We have therefore devised a floor by which the heating is done through the cement, warming the cement and making it comfortable for the operator, at the same time raising the temperature in the room. This has been one of the most successful experiments of the past year, and the plan has proved to be very successful.

In connection with this we have made also some tests in regard to cement partitions as they should be used in creameries. We have experimented on making slabs for creameries and cheese factories out of cement. The results of these experiments will be observed later.

Insulator For Refrigerators.

The question of securing an insulator for creamery refrigerators has been taken up, and some good results have been obtained. The first experiment in this line was to use baled straw as the insulating material, cementing the bales with Portland cement on both sides. This has proved to be a very successful way of insulating icehouses and refrigerators. Cement was also used in connection with asbestos fiber and sawdust, which proved to be successful for creamery floors by mixing cement with asbestos fiber and sawdust.

No More Last Buttermilk.

A line of investigation with reference to recovering the buttermilk that has been lost in the large creamery was undertaken, and some very valuable results have been obtained. Buttermilk to the extent of several million dollars has been dumped into the streams of the state of Kansas every year. By drying this buttermilk and turning it into a food product the feeding value of the buttermilk can be fully recovered. Feeding experiments were begun along poultry lines and later with cows. In both cases the casein has proved to be a very profitable feed. It has been estimated that it is worth approximately 7 cents per pound as feed for chickens and about 5 cents per pound as feed for cows. This casein can be produced for the creameryman as well as the feeder, and by this means buttermilk is recovered and not lost, as is now the case.

Points on Machine Milking.

We have just completed the experiments between hand milking and machine milking, which showed an increase of 6 per cent in the maintenance of the cow after milking. The question as to stripping the cow after machine or allowing the machine to do all the milking is another experiment which was started, but no definite results have been obtained. The results so far indicate that cows stripped after the milking by machine do not give as good results as where milking is done entirely by the machine.

JOHNNY, GIT YER GUNI

Johnny, git yer guni
Johnny, git yer guni
A wesset in the pini
Give it to 'em tonight
Don't about the specky hen.

Hit 'em with the ax,
Star 'em in the collar;
The feller what fixes 'em
'Til git a ha't a dollar.

You're a holly febrer!
My, but you fix a possel
Here's yer ha't a dollar,
An' 'B'ly cents to boot.

Nail 'em in the barn,
Warda to the 'B'ly git,
Skunks an' wesset a git,
If yer know what's best.

Johnny's pulled his gun;
This ha't nary the
Dettor go a mile aroun'
Else yer want to die.

Quality in Seeds.

As the result of tests of alfalfa, red clover and grass seeds secured in the open market Chief Galloway of the bureau of plants industry makes a report that is certainly of interest to farmers.

Red Clover.—Of the 1,217 samples of red clover seed secured 405, or one-third, contained seed of dodder, 424 contained traces of yellow trefoil seed, and 155 bore evidence of having originated in Chile.

Alfalfa.—Of the 590 samples of alfalfa seed secured 191, or about one-third, contained seed of dodder, 135 contained a trace of yellow trefoil seed, 120 contained a trace of sweet clover seed, and 16 contained a trace of red clover seed.

Bromus Inermis.—Of the 55 samples of Bromus inermis seed obtained 15 contained seed of chest, or chess, 28 contained from 2 to 3 per cent of seed of the wheat grasses, several contained seed of meadow fescue, and one contained more than 21 per cent of meadow fescue and rye grass seed together.

Kentucky Blue Grass.—Of the 429 samples of Kentucky blue grass seed obtained only 8 were found to be free from any trace of Canada blue grass. In most of these samples the trace of Canada blue grass found was immature seed, showing that it was harvested with the Kentucky blue grass seed. The seeds of the two plants not ripening at the same time, it is improbable that mature seed of Canada blue grass would be harvested with Kentucky blue grass seed. In 110 samples, however, Canada blue grass seed was found in quantities exceeding 5 per cent, 32 of these being Canada blue grass seed misbranded as Kentucky blue grass seed.

CATTLE AND SHEEP.

The recently published regulations in regard to Texas cattle fever place the states of Louisiana, Mississippi, Alabama, Florida, South Carolina and parts of California, Texas, Oklahoma, Missouri, Arkansas, Tennessee, Georgia, North Carolina and Virginia under quarantine. Between Feb. 1 and Oct. 31 cattle may be moved from the quarantined area when shipped by rail to market centers for immediate slaughter. Some special rules are provided for other movements of tick free cattle.

Colorado Loss on Lambs.

Senator W. A. Drake of Colorado says: "The prices we are getting for our lambs are losing us all kinds of money. The trouble is the first cost of the stock was too much."

"There will be a big thinning of the ranks of amateur feeders next season owing to the severe monetary losses incurred this season, but the men who make lamb feeding their regular business will be in the game again. They are like the losing poker player in that they will get in again in the hope of retrieving their losses."—Live Stock Report.

Light Feeding Costly.

H. J. Waters of Missouri says that gains made with light winter feeding are relatively costly. The cattle hardly more than keep their weight at best, and therefore practically all the feed consumed was wasted, considered from the standpoint of gain made. As the ration was increased in amount so that the rate of gain increased the cost of gains diminished uniformly. This seems to be true up to the full limit of the appetite of the animal or to the point where the animal is on full feed or approximately on full feed. That is, other things being equal and considering only the cost per pound of gain, the cheapest gains are uniformly made when the animal is on full feed, or approximately so.

Not to Carry Fat to Grass.

It is the opinion of a western cattleman that when cattle are to be grazed during the summer "it is important that they be wintered lightly or in such a way as not to carry to grass any considerable amount of fat."

Him Is It.

A shearer named F. Hill broke the machine record at Beardsley, Ariz., last week by clipping 325 sheep in nine hours, and the plant sheared 6,572 sheep in the same time.—Field and Farm.

DON'TS.

Don't fail to advertise, but fail to tell lies.

Don't use the same trough in all the pens. Epidemic.

Don't buy medicated nest eggs for lice. They are quackery.

Don't keep too many breeds. It beats Kilkenny cats and will beat you.

Don't think how hard your work is. It brings on grumps and lazy prostration.

Don't dust the mother hen with sulphur. Makes sores and blinds chicks. See?

Don't get your troughs and water vessels mixed. Hoop, cholera, chicken-pox, canker, are contagious.

Don't use rotten eggs for nest eggs. Your mother-in-law may get an old one for breakfast. Then for a treat-up.

Don't expect a five dollar cockerel for a dollar. Have you any real five dollar birds for a dollar bill? We have never bought any and would like to try it.

Don't forget when chicks, ducklings and poulets appear that they should be kept separate from each other and the old stock. The old gander will guard the gosling.

Don't forget heredity. A crooked tail on a hen puts a crooked tail on a cockerel. Hat ditto. A crooked beak on the cock puts a humped mouth on the pullets. Where did you get your crookedness?

Don't spend your time writing spring poetry, but raise spring poultry. The former will bring you an N. G. check to your aspirations, but the latter will bring a check to pay for your wife's Easter hat.

SETTING A HEN.

Test her first with doorknobs and corncobs. If her enthusiasm increases, arrange a roosting nest, so she may turn and leave and return without breaking the eggs. Underlay the oat straw with tobacco stems and dust the hen with house powder two days before you give her eggs and reduce the fifth day.

Hint.—A hen will not set at once after dusting and will soil the eggs if put right back on the nest. Set her in a secluded spot and you will get a good hatch if you have a good fellow to tend her.

Bill of Fare.—Whole corn, grit, water, dust box; no green feed, meat scrap nor mash. If you are faithful, it will not be twins nor triplets, but on the twenty-first day she will serve a whole family of chicklets on the half shell.

FEATHERS AND EGG SHELLS.

Ducklings, white clover and honeybees are a bad combination. Better be careful.

To get a white-flesh market chicken feed white ground oats and skim milk; corn for yellow backs.

When you buy dressed fowls, if the bird is healthy kick against a packed crop. Too high for corn. It's against the law to sell packed crop chickens in some states. Call the cop.

It's common sense to keep fire extinguishers handy. It's no joke to grab a red-hot incubator and fire it outside the fire zone. Swish, swish, hiss, and the extinguisher has saved you from being beaten by the insurance company!

The yield of farm products for 1907 reaches $1,412,000,000, or $637,000,000 above 1906. The farmers' poultry did their part. Who got the big pull? "The trusts," says the farmer. Yes; they play their trick, and the farmer gets a gold brick.

Chickens that pick toward the sharp point of the shell seldom get out. They do not absorb the yolk; it bursts, and they drown. Sometimes a chicken will stick fast to the shell. You can help it to liberty, but the majority of these stickers have crooked backs, crooked necks and crooked feet and amount to nothing. If nature can do no better with such crooked material, can you? "Dear reader, if John Brown's pretty peacock gets over your fence and lays an egg under your rosebush and you get it, whose egg is that?" "Mine, of course." "Yours? Well, prove it." "Oh, that's easy! I've got the egg, and possession is nine points of the law." "Sure your right?" "Well, I guess, and if you weren't so pigeon-toed you'd see it." "Well, then, my dear, would it make any difference to that egg had been laid by a pretty peahen?"

Who ever heard of a goose special? Well, then, Russia is ahead. A special goose train of twenty to forty cars steams over the Russian border into Berlin every day. Each car holds 1,200 crackers. Imagine 48,000 geese honking and hissing while a multitude of our good natured German friends bid for them! Berlin's "goose gander" bill is $2,000,000 a year. The German emperor relishes roast geese stuffed with onions, decorated with liquid hops. This is not leze majesty.

BIDS FOR BRIDGE.
