LIST OF AWARDS AT THE FAIR.

No Competition in Many Classes --- Display Representative of the County.

Last week the Journal published a general resume of the Crook county fair, now numbered with its three annual predecessors. Space precluded mention of everything exhibited, hence the scope of the article aimed to embrace all that was new while not passing by altogether exhibits shown in previous years.

A fair, or exposition of any kind, is perhaps best judged by the awards for merit, etc. There have been so many demands for it that, notwithstanding its length and the labor involved typographically in composing it, the Journal this week takes pleasure in printing the full prize award list of all exhibitors who earned first and second places in the various classes. It will be noted that in many classes there was no competition. The list follows:

HARRIMAN MEANS BUSINESS.

Begins Condemnation Suits for Right of Way Up the Deschutes Valley.

Harriman's engineers pitched their tents at Madras a week ago and by this time have evacuated the lower Deschutes canyon for the prosecution of the Harriman survey through interior Crook county, work in the canyon having been completed and data fully prepared prior to the laying of the rails. The engineers have rented an office at Madras, and evidently intend to make that place their headquarters in Crook county for some time to come.

Engineer Mills, the surveyor-in-chief, is not divulging any of his company's plans in this section, other than that a line will be built south as far as Bend and quite possibly to Klamath. They admit being Harriman's party, however, so it is believed they will practically follow the route taken by former Harriman surveyors, one of which was known as the Columbia Southern extension and the other as the Oregon Eastern. Both of these surveys cross Crooked river near O'Neil, and it is believed that one of these will be chosen. It is just possible, of course, that the new Harriman survey will pursue the course of the Central Oregon survey which crosses Crooked river 2 1/2 miles west of Trail Crossing at a point about 20 miles west of Prineville. This fact, if such be the case, will soon develop.

So Crook county feels more certain than ever that its railroad destiny will be a matter of only a few months at most.

The Harriman officials as to the route that will be followed in entering the vast irrigated district of Crook county and thence into the Klamath country.

The proceedings were begun at The Dalles by W. W. Cotton, general counsel for the Harriman interests. It is generally believed that the suit is in reality a definite statement by the Harriman officials that entrance into central and southern Oregon will be made from a point on the Columbia river near the Deschutes.

The tract to be condemned lies along the bank of the river between White and Crooked rivers. One of the defendants is the Oregon State Land Board. The Deschutes river extends along the eastern boundary of the Warm Springs reservation in Crook county.

In railroad circles the suit is also believed to mean an attempt on the part of the Harriman interests either to thwart the Hill interests or anticipate them in reaching the rich but inaccessible territory of central and southern Oregon.

The road, if completed, would be an outlet for 300,000 acres of irrigated lands in Crook county.

Already the Oregon Trunk Line, which rumor has designated as a Hill road, is seeking a right of way along the west side of the narrow Deschutes river. There are at present 12 crews of engineers in the canyon, and the Harriman interests are well represented.

According to the articles of incorporation of the Deschutes road, said Mr. Cotton, the proposed line will extend from a point on the O R & N near the mouth of the Deschutes through Crook county and into the Klamath country.

CIRCUIT COURT ENDS QUICKLY.

Three Fined for Violations of Liquor Laws. Kitching and McVey Go Free.

District court for the fall term lasted less than one week, Judge Bradshaw and the outside lawyers leaving Saturday for their homes at The Dalles, Portland, Eugene, Bend and Laidlaw. From a criminal viewpoint it was one of the tamer sessions ever held in Prineville, and the "dry" condition of Crook county may be responsible for the lack of crime, though liquor cases were the only ones in which convictions were made.

A. B. Estebenet, a former Bend saloonkeeper, was fined $200 on one of four indictments, the other three counts being dismissed on his plea of guilty. Z. T. McClay of Redmond was fined $25, and Ban Puett of Prineville was fined $50, for dispensing whisky at the polls in Redmond June 1.

The trial of most public interest was that in which S. J. Kitching and George McVey were arraigned for alleged firing of shots into the Methodist church a little over a month ago. This case was called Wednesday and occupied an entire day. Kitching and McVey both pleaded not guilty, and the jury sustained them with a like verdict, which exonerated them from blame and caused their discharge by the court.

Joseph Elliott, John Eagan and Ada Pierce, each of whose cases was considered by the grand jury, were discharged by the court, the state failing to return true bills against either of them.

Several judgments and decrees were entered by Judge Bradshaw, all of them being reported in the summary below.

Criminal Trial Calendar.
State of Oregon vs. S. J. Kitching and George McVey. Defendants arraigned; time to plead waived; plea of not guilty entered. Verdict, not guilty; defendants discharged.

State of Oregon vs. J. B. Palmer and Mrs. J. B. Palmer. Arraigned; plea of not guilty entered by defendants. Verdict of not guilty on motion of District Attorney; defendants discharged.

State of Oregon vs. Joseph Elliott. Not a true bill; defendant discharged.

State of Oregon vs. John Eagan. Not a true bill; defendant discharged.

State of Oregon vs. Ada Pierce. Not a true bill; defendant discharged.

State of Oregon vs. Ban Puett and Z. T. McClay. Arraigned; time for pleading waived; plea of guilty entered by defendants. Defendant McClay fined $25; defendant Puett fined $50. Three other counts nolle prosequi.

State of Oregon vs. A. B. Estebenet. Arraigned; plea of guilty entered by defendant; fined $200. Three other counts nolle prosequi.
