

Sunday School Convention.

In order to facilitate attendance, especially for school teachers who may come to Prineville as delegate, the dates for the Crook county Sunday school convention have been changed from Nov. 10-11 to Nov. 13-14-15. President Shipp believes that three days will prove none too many, in any event, and Sunday school workers in this city and at Redmond uniformly concur with him.

Indications point to a great outpouring of Sunday school workers, representing every active Sunday school in Crook county. Rev. C. A. Phipps will also be here from Portland. The same spirit which actuated the district convention at Laidlaw last May will be evident in amplified degree at Prineville in November.

Speaking for the six Sunday schools in his district—Redmond, Bend, Laidlaw, Pleasant Ridge, Cline Falls and Gist—Fred A. Sherwood writes Mr. Shipp from Redmond:

I am impressed we shall have a glorious convention, something I hope Crook county never before experienced. We are looking forward to the event with the keenest anticipation.

Culver Cullings.

CULVER, Or., Oct. 27.—Merrill Van Tassel and wife went last week to The Dalles for a load of fruit, and are expected to return next week.

Henry Windom, George Windom, Dave Barnett, Albert Collier and U. A. Wynn drove to Shaniko Saturday.

Fred Killingbeck, expecting to go across the mountains, started a week ago last Friday for the Willamette valley. He returned, however, last Thursday, saying there was so much snow that he was unable to cross. He got as far as Windy point, where he found the snow drifted in the road so deeply that he could go no farther. He will go by way of The Dalles when he again starts out.

W. J. Buckley of Redmond, who went to The Dalles last week for fruit, passed through Culver Monday on his return trip with a wagonload of apples. He says he is going to eat pie this winter.

Mrs. P. B. Howard of Prineville paid Culver a flying visit Sunday. Mrs. May Schoelling returned with her for a few weeks' visit.

Mrs. Perry Reed went to Prineville Thursday, expecting to return early this week.

Fred McDowell and wife drove to Madras and back Monday.

Robert and Winifred Osborn made a business trip to Madras on Saturday.

Mrs. Abbie Woodard returned last week from an extended visit in Iowa and Illinois.

The DeMoss family will entertain the people of Culver Friday evening at Culver hall.

Ed Hostetter, postmaster at The Dalles, and one of Oregon's greatest Odd Fellows, passed through Culver Friday morning. He is visiting the I. O. O. F. lodges of interior Oregon.

Mrs. Frank Osborn, who has been visiting for the past two months at the home of her parents, Mr. and Mrs. Perry Reed, has returned to her home at Madras.

Thomas Alderdyce sometime ago drove in a cart to Yakima, Wash., where he went to visit his daughter, whom he had not seen for 26 years. Neighbors are expecting his return home soon.

When the Culver pupils returned to school Monday they found the stove and windows freshly polished. Some Bon Ami fairies and Sunrise brownies had been there Saturday, being assisted in the general brightening up by two of the directors. The L. T. Y., the school club, is planning other improvements in the appearance of the school house.

A half hour with "Jean Valjean," Victor Hugo's masterpiece, "Les Miserables."—Dr. H. C. Dunsmore.

The Ladies' Aid Society will serve a light lunch in the basement immediately after the program.

County Assessor Complimented.

J. D. LaFollette, the county assessor, has just been commended by the Crook county board of equalization for the thoroughness of his work and the promptness with which he submitted his books, completely entered, at the time the board met.

Under the law, a county assessor in Oregon must have his books finished not later than Oct. 19 of each year, and this Mr. LaFollette has done.

Spray of the Falls.

CLINE FALLS, Or., Oct. 27.—The John McKinney family has settled in the Tetherow house and will remain for some time.

Mr. and Mrs. Harvie Muller entertained I. L. Harader Sunday at dinner.

Mr. McCarty arrived Thursday from Shaniko with a load of new freight for the Cline Falls grocery, returning to Shaniko Friday.

A few Cline Falls people attended the dance at Redmond Saturday night.

Everybody around Cline Falls is talking election, and everybody says Bill is sure to win.

Rev. G. A. M. Lilly has come home from the synod, and remains on the same circuit.

The school house has been treated to a little more light, Prefect Muller having put up a few lamps. A little light on the subject is a good thing.

The Cline Falls Sunday school begins now at 10:30 a. m. instead of noon. Come out and help the good work along.

Quite a number from here have gone to work on the ditch near Bend.

Ashwood Items.

ASHWOOD, Or., Oct. 27.—Mrs. Mary Grater has lately returned from Danbury, Nebr., to her home here, and her daughter Lizzie is now going to school.

Ed Gosner returned Friday from a three weeks visit on the John Day river.

W. Crosswhite, wife and three children of Haycreek visited Ashwood Sunday, the eldest boy being left at the home of Mrs. Milo Wood to attend the public school here.

Ashwood is blessed with the four great issues of the day. —AMICUS.
