

ESTIMATES FORWARDED

General Manager O'Brien, of the Harriman line, says the Oregonian today, has forwarded estimates for the construction of the first section of the Central Oregon railroad up the Deschutes river, from a connection with the O. R. & N. at its mouth. Profiles of the new line and the probable cost were sent forward to the Chicago headquarters of the Harriman system during the past week.

The estimates call for the expenditure of $4,000,000 for building the first 100 miles of the Deschutes line. This will construct the road as far south as Madras, tapping the big Central Oregon plain that is expected to furnish a vast traffic during the coming few years.

Redmond News.

Redmond, Nov. 22.

Bring your oil can to Ehret Bros. and have it filled with coal oil at 35 cents a gallon. Five gallon cans at $1.70.

Mrs. H. M. Smith has a brother here from Gateway, Montana.

Mr. Burlingham with his family are here. They will probably locate.

Messrs. McClellan and Kimball, with their families, we believe, are camped below town.

Chris Ehret has moved to town for the winter from the homestead after commuting on it.

W. L. Perry, with Lyle and Mr. Wright, are clearing on the Jack Coe place just below O'Neil.

J. H. Jackson, of the Jackson Lumber Co., has moved into town from his ranch for the winter.

Lamb's feed store will be located just south of the bank on a lot leased from I. R. Whitney.

The Watt eighty just west of town has been sold to the Browns, and will be improved at once.

Plenty of new comers this week, some of whom we will report. Doubtless we have missed others.

Mr. MacDonald, late from Washington, is located for the present on the Gillispie forty northeast of town.

Give your subscription to the Journal or your adv. to the undersigned, who will be pleased to look after it.

Bert De Lorimer is in again from Washington with his black mules. He talks as though it was a stay this time.

Other arrivals whose names we did not ascertain are in the house occupied last winter by Messrs. Doran and Shumake.

Mr. May, a one time resident of our own old Lee county, Iowa, has bought the Halterman quarter section out near Powell Buttes. He is living in town with his family for the present.

Three Lambs and Yours Truly were Haystack trippers Thursday and Friday with ten horses for grain. Saturday, DeWitt Lamb chopped 150 bushels of wheat, oats and barley with his team and little 2-horse mill.

Warren Lamb is putting up a granary, J. G. McGuffie has pulled down his barn, remodeled and enlarged it, and others are making just such solid improvements although many of them are but small when taken by themselves.

Jim Norwood says the D. I. & P. Co. has given him a cistern which he has set up on the bank of the town lateral where it is handy to fill. It is a stave tank painted red and holds exactly one barrel when in good order. The remark was brought out by Carl Ehret telling about his cement cistern. He enlarged the excavation for his tank and now has a first class 50-barrel cemented hole in the ground. Carl's item was called out by last week's note about Mr. Muma's big cistern. So we see how far our little candle throws its beams, just like a good deed in a naughty world or something of the kind.

Lamonta News Notes.

Do not forget the basket social at Lamonta school house Friday, December 4. The purpose of gathering is to raise funds to buy an organ. Girls, bring baskets. Boys, bring money. Everybody come.

Sisters Sayings.

Judge Ellis of Bend visited out town one day last week.

Squire C. H. Foster has gone to Prineville for medical treatment.

The public school here seems to be progressing nicely with prospects of four or five new pupils.

The younger people (and some older ones, as well,) enjoyed a sociable and dance at the Allen hall a few evenings ago.

Willard Berry, son of J. W. Berry of this place, who for the past two years has been in the herding business, has come home with the intention of attending a business college at Portland.

It is being remarked around town that since the election and the good railroad news published in the Crook County Journal last week the sawmill whistle seems to ring out far more clearly than before.

Arrangements are being made for a dance and supper Thanksgiving. A large attendance is anticipated. D. A. BOWMAN.

Powell Buttes News.

POWELL BUTTES, Nov. 24.—A dance was given in George Hobbs' house Friday evening, and a very enjoyable time is reported.

Moses Niswonger raised a turnip this year which weighed 13 pounds.

Sunday school at the Shepherd school every Sunday at 2 o'clock. All invited.

The parents of Mr. Mustard and Mrs. Seitz arrived here last Monday from Spokane.

A shadow social will be given at the Shepherd school December 4. The program, to be given under the auspices of the school, will begin at 8 p. m. Immediately after the program the ladies' shadows will be sold to the highest bidder. Come, and be entertained for a few hours. The proceeds are for the benefit of the school.

The sun arose throughout interior Oregon today on an unswelled and cloudless sky, the atmosphere being just crisp enough to lend enchantment to the physical sense. All through the length and breadth of the land on this 287th anniversary of the first Thanksgiving returned by the Pilgrims in Massachusetts in 1621 people are returning thanks today for the bounty of the soil and the plenty vouchsafed to the American people by the Giver of all good things.

Wants Farmers to Co-operate

By the suggestion of President Roosevelt, the Country Life Commission has asked the farmers of the country to meet in their respective communities some time before Saturday, December 5, to discuss the questions which the commission is studying and to indicate their own ideas of what are the most important subjects for the commission to consider.

In a letter to the members of the Country Life Commission the President says the farmers should feel "a sense of ownership in the commission," and that he believes the commission should get into the closest possible touch with the farmers. He urges the importance of holding the meeting before congress adjourns prior to the Xmas holidays, so that at the time congress reassembles, early in January the commission may have reports of the meetings in hand and may be "in position to advise definitely what should be done."

At this time President Roosevelt adds two members to the commission, one member from the South and one member from the West, Charles S. Barrett, of Union City, Ga., and William A. Beard, of Sacramento, Cal.

The President suggests as leading topics for discussion:

- The efficiency of rural schools;
- Farmers' organizations;
- The question of farm labor;
- The need of good roads;
- Improved postal facilities;
- Sanitary conditions on the farm.

Copies of the questions may be secured by writing to the Commission on Country Life, Washington, D. C. The commission desires that so far as possible a general summary or estimate of the discussions in all the meeting places be promptly sent to its office in Washington, so that it may have the benefit of all suggestions in preparing its report.

A Quiet Thanksgiving. Forest Headquarters.

Thanksgiving day has been very quiet in Prineville, though it was preceded by a club dance Wednesday night. The events of general interest today are a turkey shoot this afternoon and a union service of Thanksgiving at the Presbyterian church this evening.

Everybody is eating either turkey, duck, goose or chicken, with auxiliaries of cranberries, nuts and mince pie. Even families who ordinarily do not go in for dainties are enjoying the fat and the fruits of the land today in greater or lesser degree.

The sun arose throughout interior Oregon today on an unswelled and cloudless sky, the atmosphere being just crisp enough to lend enchantment to the physical sense. All through the length and breadth of the land on this 287th anniversary of the first Thanksgiving returned by the Pilgrims in Massachusetts in 1621 people are returning thanks today for the bounty of the soil and the plenty vouchsafed to the American people by the Giver of all good things.

For the greater convenience of national forest users, the service will establish district headquarters in six western cities Dec. 1. Headquarters of district No. 6, which includes the national forests in Oregon, Washington and Alaska, will be at Portland.

The national forests in this district are as follows—Oregon: Cascade, Crater, Deschutes, Fremont, Malheur, Oregon, Siskiyou, Siuslaw, Umatilla, Umpqua, Willowa, Wenaha, Whitman. Washington: Chelan, Columbia, Colville, Olympic, Rainier, Snoqualmie, Washington, Wenatchee. Alaska: Chugach and Tongass.
