

LOCAL MENTION

A. M. Drake of Bend was here during the week.

Elmer Kayler is reported on the sick list this week.

Born, to the wife of J. Girardo, Sunday, Nov. 22, a son.

Geo. W. Miles of Paulina was in town for supplies this week.

Don P. Rea, of Madras, left today after a short stay in Prineville.

Callus W. Elkins went to Portland Saturday on a week's business trip.

W. S. Mustard and wife, of Oakesdale, Wash., where local visitors Sunday.

Baptismal services will be held in the Methodist church at the morning service the coming Sunday.

J. C. Freeman, sheriff of Sherman county, is spending a couple of weeks looking over Crook county.

Six new members were received into the Baptist church Sunday morning, Elder Eads of Lamonta conducting the service.

Forty-eight dollars was cleared at the Methodist social last Friday evening. The affair was under the auspices of the young men's Bible class. The attendance was large and everybody had an enjoyable time.

Drilling was continued after water had been found in a well on Mrs. D. W. Adams' homestead south of Madras, says the Pioneer, with the result that the drill penetrated the stratum of rock which held the water and it was lost. This is one thing that all well drillers in Crook county should guard against.

The party of Oregon Trunk Line surveyors under F. Crane, who have been camped near the Warm Springs ferry on the Deschutes, finished their work at Madras and vicinity last Thursday and on Friday moved camp down the Deschutes. It is assumed that other work awaits them near the mouth of the river, probably actual construction work, and news to this effect should be soon forthcoming.

Rev. J. T. Moore is still puzzling over the mysterious transformation of his double seated buggy, though the defect was remedied almost as soon as it became known to the Baptist preacher. Upon Mr. Moore's return from Bend Monday his attention was called by several citizens to the fact that the smaller wheels of the vehicle were both on the whip side, while the larger wheels adorned but did not improve the opposite or larboard side. Being a true son of old Missouri, Mr. Moore had to be "shown," and in this he was readily accommodated. He quickly perceived the dropical appearance of the rig, and this in a "dry" county. Mr. Moore thinks the wheels became mixed as long ago as Hallowe'en, or maybe it was when Taft defeated Bryan, but that's a long time.

Thomas Sharp Jr., and wife of Crooked river were in town Monday.

Joe Combs, the Paulina stockman, was in town the first of the week.

O. H. Davenport and wife of Hood River visited in this city this week.

A. C. Lucas of Bend stayed over here Tuesday night on his way below.

James Boden, of Joseph, Wallawa county, reached here Sunday on a scout for land.

Dr. Eva Marsh, chiropractor, is in the city, and will receive patients at the Hotel Prineville.

E. P. Sellman, who works at the Wurzweller place at Black butte, came in from the lower desert Sunday.

J. G. Edwards and wife of Haycreek, who are now in Portland, will leave for England in a day or two to spend the winter.

The Thanksgiving eve dance given by the P. A. A. C. last night was an enjoyable affair. Morgan's orchestra furnished the music.

P. L. Caples, representing the Honeyman Hardware Co., of Portland, was in the city this week in the interests of his firm.

J. S. McMeen finished hauling his grain to town from Lamonta this week, bringing in his last load, one of barley, on Monday.

Mrs. Ella M. Ives, Mrs. Anna E. Dayton, Mrs. J. N. B. Gerking and Mr. and Mrs. W. P. Myers, all of Laidlaw, were in the city this week.

The Degree of Honor, in full force, surprised Mrs. H. P. Belknap on the occasion of her birthday the end of the week. A very merry time was had.

Miss Nora Mitchell, who was too ill to hold classes at the McKay school recently, on account of throat trouble, is nearly well again and school has been resumed.

The ladies of the Presbyterian church will hold their "Exchange Window" at the Lively-Jordan-Lanus Co. Store each Saturday afternoon beginning the first Saturday in December, continuing all winter.

Frank Foster has rented the Wurzweller property on the north side and will move in next week. Mrs. Wurzweller and son Nate expect to leave for their prospective home in Portland Dec. 6, but Mayor Wurzweller and Max will probably remain in Prineville until January.

Elmer Clark, proprietor of the hotel at Paulina, suffered a second sick spell while at the Polindexter hotel last week, and became so ill that his wife was sent for by telephone. Mrs. Clark arrived Friday night, and after that Elmer improved quickly. They returned home Sunday.

No person should forget or omit to attend the union Thanksgiving service to be held at the Presbyterian church tonight (Thursday). Rev. J. D. Lewellen will preach. In conformance with the proclamations of both President Roosevelt and Gov. Chamberlain this service has been arranged to return thanks as one people for the bounty of the past year.

A. S. Ireland, forest supervisor for this district, left Monday to spend ten days or two weeks in the Deschutes national forest above Bend, and while away will visit Rosland and Crescent. His trip has no special significance, but he will select the site for a forester's cabin to be built in that part of the reserve next spring. Its location will depend more on the center of forestry activity than on the geographical center of the district.

LOCAL MENTION

George O'Neil was here from O'Neil Monday.

H. J. Healy was here from Lamonta Wednesday.

William Smead came in from Post Wednesday.

Mrs. E. H. Smith has returned from her trip to Portland.

Mr. and Mrs. Gibson and Miss Mary Johnson of western Harney county, just beyond Buck creek, are visiting in the city with C. J. Johnson.

The government forestry headquarters in this city now occupy rooms 3, 4, 5 and 6 in the Adamson block. The change relieves the heretofore cramped quarters of rooms 16 and 17.

No restraint was placed on boys climbing to the apex of the new court house dome Sunday, while the workmen were away. If this sort of play continues, some youngster will be badly hurt.

Several new members have been admitted to the local subordinate lodge of Odd Fellows, and another initiation is expected the coming Saturday night. The election of officers is likewise set for this Saturday.

M. A. McLean, who for the past two years has been employed in Horgan & Still's meat market, left this week with his wife for Mexico. He hopes the change will prove beneficial to the health of his invalid wife.

George Myers, who lost a sister Nov. 2, from typhoid fever, has been spending some time on this account at Erie, Pa., where another sister is also ill. When she is well, Mr. Myers will return with her to Crook county.

Prof. E. L. Ashby and Max Hofer are planning a trip from Prineville to the mouth of the Deschutes river by canoe, the start to be made some time next summer. They have already ordered the canoe and are now practicing swimming.

Mesdames C. F. Smith and Belknap entertained fifty children at the Belknap home Saturday afternoon, with games, music and refreshments of ice cream and cake. The little ones are members of the Union Junior society of this city.

Thron Thronson is landscaping the grass plots around the Methodist church, setting out rose bushes and creeping vines. It is the ultimate intention to have these vines cover the sides of the edifice and form green arches of festal beauty above the doors and windows. Mrs. Ada B. Millican is chairman of the committee having the work in charge.

The Eastern Star, in pursuance of its annual and very pleasurable custom, will meet this evening in a body at the lodge hall for the yearly Thanksgiving celebration, admittedly one of the most enjoyable functions in town. The ladies have been looking forward to the event for some time, and it goes without saying that naught will be lacking to make the meeting all that it should be.

Mrs. M. Calbreath, mother of C. D. Calbreath, of this city, came last Thursday from her home at The Dalles. She was a pioneer of Crook county and lived in Prineville when there was but one other abode here, the log cabin and dwelling of Mr. Heiser on Crooked river. Although one of the very first settlers, who aided in hewing the way to the Crook county of today, Mrs. Calbreath has not been here for twenty years prior to her present visit. It is the intent of her children to keep her here until after Christmas.

LOCAL MENTION

James A. Brown of Culver is here today.

George McDonald was down from Paulina Wednesday.

J. C. Reynolds of Powell Buttes was in town today.

Miss Coole Smith is the guest of Mrs. C. E. McDowell.

Byram Bros., of Lewiston, Idaho, are here looking for land.

Mrs. N. E. Miller and son of Shaniko are spending Thanksgiving day in Prineville.

L. F. Arnold came over from Sisters to spend Thanksgiving day in Prineville.

There will be a Thanksgiving dance at Templeton's hall west of town this evening.

William Boice and wife have moved from their ranch on the Bear creek road to this city for the winter.

Miss Hightower and Miss Reed of Bend are spending the Thanksgiving holidays at the home T. A. Baldwin.

Mrs. B. C. Immele, James Spencer and wife and O. D. Spencer, all of Redmond, took dinner together in Prineville Tuesday.

Levi Ernst, a regular subscriber of the Journal at Creston, Mont., paid this office a call Monday on his way to Powell Buttes to spend the winter.

William, Prine daughter Ethel and baby Hazel, came in from Haycreek Monday to spend the Thanksgiving holidays with his daughter in this city, Mrs. Lizale Perrin.

Piano Tuner Saunders, who pays this city a call every year, concluded his local engagement Monday and left the same day by stage for Shaniko and the country below.

Dr. Rosenberg, assisted by Dr. Belknap, on Wednesday morning performed an operation on Mrs. Chester Starr. The patient is doing nicely and will recover rapidly.

The McKay creek people are making rapid headway with their new telephone line, several miles of poles being set and nearly all of the poles being laid alongside the road.

The Methodist Sunday school has begun training the children for Christmas. The Xmas exercises will be held the night before, the M. E. Santa Claus making his descent December 24.

Rain of the past week have been sufficiently heavy in Crook county to bring up the grass on the ranges and the fall grain in the fields nicely. Not in years has the farming outlook for the next year been so good.

Roscoe Howard, manager of the D. I. & P. Co., was down in his auto from Bend Friday on business connected with the Central Oregon railroad. Plans for this road are going steadily forward despite survey work and rumors anent the Harriman line.

The M. E. cradle roll has established a room in the Sunday school department of the church where mothers may leave their babies while attending services Sunday mornings. The plan started last Sunday with six infants, Mrs. Lewellen being the first lady assigned to the task of amusing the little fellows for the hour between 11 and 12 o'clock.

Miss Rose B. Parrott, instructor of English at the high school, last night explained in a very interesting and instructive manner the pictures of famous sculpture thrown on the screen at the moving picture show. Some of the principal gods and goddesses of mythology, fairs, venuses, minotours and characters from Homer's Iliad and other figures of ancient Greek and Egyptian thought. Next week will probably be shown Swiss Alpine scenery. Friday night the moving pictures will be "The Bridge of Sighs."

LOCAL MENTION

Will Barber of Culver was in town Saturday and Sunday.

D. P. Adamson returned this week from Portland, where he went on business two weeks ago. Dr. and Mrs. Edwards, with whom he went, are still in Portland, the doctor being in attendance upon his little daughter, who is reported ill with a touch of pneumonia.

Max Wilson, formerly of Prineville, who has been spending the past two weeks in this city, returned to the Warm Springs agency today, where he has charge of extensive improvements and repairs that are being made on the government buildings on the reservation.

S. E. Gray of Madras was in this city yesterday on business and went home today. He not long since made proof on 169 acres of homestead land adjoining the Madras townsite, and in the event of a railroad building to that point stands a show of being struck by the lightning of "get-rich-quick."

Mack McDonough, a Scotchman, who was born in South Africa, passed through Prineville today on his way around the world. He is traveling on a $21,000 wager, he says, made at Pretoria, S. A., between Henry Stewart and Mack E. Kingsley the bet stipulating that he should "bum" his way into every country in the world within five years. He says he has two years yet in which to complete the journey.

Thomas H. Sherrard, supervisor of the Oregon national forest, formerly known as the Cascade (north) national forest, will be in Prineville to attend the stockmen's meeting December 10 to 12, inclusive. With this addition of interest to the local convention, called for the purpose of adjusting the lines between the sheep and cattle ranges, the incentive to attend held forth to stockmen should cause everybody interested to come.
