

70 YEARS

There are two kinds of whiskey. One is—the other isn't.

The kind that IS contains all the constituents that come from proper distillation and ageing—That's what makes it REAL whiskey.

The kind that ISN'T is made of alcohol, prune juice and head oil or is simply alcohol put in charred barrels, and branded whiskey.

The Pure Food Law aims at having the consumer get exactly what he calls for.

When you call for whiskey ask your dealer if it will respond to a government laboratory test.

Ask him if he guarantees it.

Then you will know what you are paying your money for. Buy the brand you know, the standard for 70 years.

Cyrus Noble—pure whiskey—old whiskey—old whiskey.

Death of Wm. Marks

William Marks, an Oregon pioneer of 1852 and a resident of Linn county for more than half a century, died Tuesday morning a week ago at his home in Lebanon. He was the father of Mrs. E. T. Slayton, Mrs. William Adams and William Marks, Jr., all of Prineville, and on receiving tidings of his death all three left early this week to attend the funeral.

Mr. Marks was born in Washington County, Indiana, July 11, 1830, and crossed the plains to Oregon in 1852. Coming with his parents to Linn county, he took up a donation land claim four miles northwest of Lebanon, near Tallman Station on the Albany-Lebanon line. He lived there until two years ago, when he moved to another farm he owned just north of Lebanon. He had lived in Linn county continuously for 56 years.

He is survived by his widow and the following children: James W. Marks, of Coyote, Cal; John H. Marks, of Denver, Colo; Mrs. E. T. Slayton, Mrs. William Adams and William Adams, Jr., all of this city; Mrs. Charles Reddick, of Lebanon, and Mrs. Elbert S. Robe, of Albany. Professor A. Wiley, principal of the Shaver public school, of Portland, is a stepson. Mr. Marks is also survived by two brothers.
